Shenandoah Will Be Dwarfed

Plans for Largest Airship in World Prepared at Navy Yard in East

Ship Craft Will Measure 735 Feet, With Radius of 5000 Miles

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LAKEHURST (N. J.) Sept. 8.—Plans and specifications for a new airship—the largest in the world, excelling the ill-fated Shenandoah, in size, speed, capacity and cost—are ready at the Naval Aircraft factory at League Island Navy Yard, Philadelphia, it was disclosed at the naval air station here today.

As soon as authorization comes from Washington, hundreds of skilled workmen will begin the enormous task of building a successor to the "Daughter" of the air—now a heap of twisted girders and rent bags in the fields of Ocean County.

The plans, drawn by naval aircraft experts a few months ago, call for a ship of 6,000,000 cubic feet capacity at an approximate cost of $2,000,000. It is probable, however, that in view of the Shenandoah disaster, material changes may be made before the design is finally approved and construction is begun.

In almost every respect, the new dirigible compares with the Shenandoah as does a modern super-dirigible as does a modern super-dirigible as does a machine gun. The Shenandoah was hailed as "the last word in the navy" before the tragedy of last week. It had a gas capacity of 2,150,000 cubic feet and the new giant's 6,000,000 cubic feet.

The Shenandoah was 680 feet long, 78.8 feet in diameter and had a maximum speed of 64 knots, an endurance of 1216 miles at maximum speed and 2300 miles at cruising speed.

The ship Los Angeles is 655 feet long, 90 feet in diameter, has a maximum speed of 67 knots and an endurance at maximum speed of 1,000 miles.

The plans for the new ship call for a length of 735 feet, diameter 132 feet, maximum speed 70 knots and endurance at maximum speed of 5000 miles. Had the Shenandoah been equipped with the power as planned for the world cruise, experts believe, she would be able to out-run the line squall which resulted in her destruction.

War Department Starts on Inquiry Calculated to Clear Up Attack

Wilbur Waits for Results; New Statement Made by Flying Colonel

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Proceedings were initiated today at the War Department to call Col. William Mitchell to account for his public declaration that administration of the arm yand navy air services had been "criminally negligent, and almost treasonable," by direction of Maj.-Gen. John L. Hines, Chief of Staff, Maj.-Gen. Eli A. Helmick, inspector-general, began an investigation with the assignment of Col. George A. Nugent of his department as special investigator. Col. Nugent immediately prepared to proceed tomorrow to San Antonio, Tex., where Col. Mitchell is stationed, to ask him in person if he did make the statements attributed to him in published articles.

No further action will be taken by the War Department until Col. Nugent returns and submits his report. Directions given Gen. Helmick by Gen. Hines, however, call for recommendations as to action in the event authenticity of the statements is established. Since it is not doubted at the department that Col. Mitchell will admit having made the statements under investigation, the preliminary move is merely a necessary routine step paving the way possibly for trial by an army court.

WILBUR WATCHES

Secretary Wilbur plans, meanwhile, to make no representations in the matter to the War Department on behalf of the navy administration. Such action will be necessary only if army officials overlook some important point, he feels, and this is obviously unlikely.

It will be a week or longer before Col. Nugent's return and a decision can be reached whether the Mitchell statements constitute violations of the articles of war which would warrant the convening of a court-martial. In the event that a military trial is ordered, the court will sit either in San Antonio or in Washington, and probably will be open to the public. It will be composed of officers senior to Col. Mitchell in rank, and the availability of the number required to constitute a

NAVY MAKES FINAL TRY IN PLANE HUNT

Search for Lost Flyers Will be Abandoned if Present Quest Fails

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—If the PN-9 No. 1 seaplane is not located following the search now being thoroughly pursued along the windward beaches of the Hawaiian Islands by approximately 100 Navy and merchant ships and airplanes, the hunt will be abandoned, it was announced by radio this afternoon by Capt. E. S. Jackson, commanding the search from the airplane ship Langley.

Capt. Jackson announced that in order to guard against the possible contingency of the plane having passed the islands he has recommended that the water to the leeward be searched by the units of the battle fleet now approaching that area on its cruise from Australian waters.

"There is not a possibility that Commander Rodgers and his four companions are alive," Capt. Stanford E. Moses, commander of the flight project stated reluctantly today. "I have lost all hope."

COWBOY INHERITS EARLDOM

John Fellowes Wallop, Lord of Portsmouth Succumbs, Younger Brother in Wyoming Succeeds

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Earl of Portsmouth died in London last night. John Fellowes Wallop, seventh Earl of Portsmouth, was born December 27, 1859. He was educated at Eton and Cambridge, and at one time served as private secretary to the governor of Tasmania.

Oliver Henry Wallop, a resident of Wyoming, is heir to the title of Earl of Portsmouth. He is the younger brother of the late Earl, who was not married, and third son of the fifth Earl.

Oliver Henry Wallop lives on his ranch, Big Horn, Sheridan county, Wyoming. English reference books list him as the heir to the Portsmouth title, although press dispatches nearly twenty years ago reported that he appeared before district judge, Sheridan, Wyo., declared his intention of becoming an American citizen, and stated that he would renounce his right of succession to the Earldom in favor of his son, Girard Vernon Wallop, born in America in 1898, and, therefore, an American citizen. This son served in the British forces during the World War.

Oliver Henry Wallop first went to Wyoming about 1890, and for a time worked as a cowboy. Later he acquired a ranch of his own on Little Goose Creek, Sheridan county. He was married in 1897 to Miss Marguerite Walker of Frankfort, Ky. In 1905 he visited his ancestral home in England, his mother having recently died, and it is understood that while there he made a petition to be released from the succession in favor of his son. His decision to become an American citizen in 1906 was said to be due to his desire to obtain a public lumber contract, which he could not hold as an alien.

RANCHER WILL ASSUME HIS TITLE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SHERIDAN (Wyo.) Sept. 8.—A Wyoming cowboy and ranchman succeeded to an Earldom today, when Oliver Henry Wallop, of near Sheridan, received word of the death of his elder brother, the Earl of Portsmouth, in London last night. Half an hour after he received word of his brother's death he informed the Associated Press that he will assume the title. Reports that twenty years ago he renounced his title in order to obtain a public lumber contract in this county, which he could not hold as an alien, were declared by the new Earl to be without foundation.

"It would be impossible for me to do that," he said.

The new Earl of Portsmouth declared he probably will return to England soon, but that as yet no plans are made.

There can be no doubt of his right to the succession, he declared, in denying that he had abandoned his place in the peerage in favor of American citizenship.

The new Earl has two sons, Gerard Vernon Wallop, who becomes Lord Lymington, now in England, and a younger son, Oliver Malcolm Wallop, who lives on the Big Horn ranch with Lord and Lady Portsmouth.

The Big Horn ranch is located only a few miles from Sheridan and comprises 3000 acres. The Earl said he had no other holdings in this country.

DIE IN MYSTERY SHIP FIRE

Fishermen Believed Lost as Unidentified Craft Burns and Sinks Off Los Angeles Harbor

Caught aboard a flaming ship which probably burned to the water's edge before going to the bottom of the Pacific some miles off the Los Angeles Harbor breakwater last night, at least two men are believed to have lost their lives as rescue was imminent.

The unfortunate craft and its victims were unidentified at an early hour this morning.

Varying reports were in circulation on the mainland regarding the vessel and its end. One of these was that the craft was a purse seiner of perhaps sixty-five feet in length, carrying a crew of from eight to ten, all of whom were believed to have perished.

The predominant information, however, indicated the craft to have been a fishing smack of the type commonly referred to as a double-ender, which, as a general rule, averages a vessel about thirty-five feet long with a normal crew of two men.

A gasoline tank, the only article found floating by rescue crews, failed to give any means of identification of the ill-fated ship.

Edgar Goldsworthy, relief lookout for the Marine Exchange, on duty in the outer harbor, first noticed the ship in distress about 10 p.m., when he sighted a flare some distance off the breakwater.

He immediately notified harbor fire headquarters and fire boat No. 1 started to the rescue. Upon the return of the fire boat, members of its crew reported that they had searched vainly for a distance of four to five miles of the breakwater without finding anything to verify the report.

In the meantime, however, W. F. Pinney, whose home on Point Fermin, is equipped with powerful glasses, reported seeing a ship afire at sea. Through his glasses Pinney declared he could plainly see the vessel burning. After burning apparently to the water's edge, the ship upended and went down.

At the first reports, the H-10 Water Taxi Company sent a speed boat to sea.

Crew members of the water taxi reported they saw the ship's distress flares and got close enough before the vessel sank to recognize it as a double-ender.

After the sinking they recovered the floating gasoline tank and brought it back to the harbor, but there were no markings on the tank.

Identification of the vessel will be impossible, it was said, until a member of the fishing fleet fails to put in an appearance at its scheduled time, or unless some recognizable portions of the vessel or bodies of its ill-fated crew are washed ashore.

HISTORY TO LIVE AGAIN

Jubilee Has Its Climax Today

Brilliant Spectacles Will Depict Golden Early Day of State

Military Parade Feature of Fete Draws Applause; Angelenos Attend

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—The boundless wealth of California history will be poured forth in one monster procession tomorrow morning to climax the entire Diamond Jubilee celebration.

Tomorrow is Admission Day, greatest of California holidays, and the Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West have set themselves to make it into an epic of patriotism and pageantry. Visitors by the thousands are expected in the city, and time, energy and money have been spent with a prodigal hand to give California a seventy-fifth birthday party that will never be forgotten.

The steamship City of Los Angeles, bringing a large delegation from Southern California, is due to dock here early tomorrow. Included in the passenger list are city officials of Los Angeles, delegations from the police and fire department of that city, and members of the Native Sons of the Golden West, who will act as escort for the stage coach which will be entered in the Admission Day parade.

SPECIAL TRAIN

Extra sections of regular trains on the Southern Pacific and a special train which left Los Angeles tonight, will bring hundreds more to participate in the festivities.

Today was Army and Navy Day. California's glorious record of patriotism in times of national peril was fittingly symbolized in a military parade that was the feature event on the day's program. An exotic touch was given to the procession by the presence of British and Japanese naval contingents. The British marines with their white pith helmets and the Japanese band with their scarlet coats showed up brilliantly against the olive drab of the American field uniforms.

At the head of the procession rode Chief of Police O'Brien with a mounted platoon of "the finest" as an honorary escort to the parade. The grand marshal was Brig.-Gen. Thornwell C. Mullaly of the organized reserves.

CARRIED IN AUTOS

Visiting British and Japanese naval officers were carried in decorated automobiles. They were Capt. G. H. Knowles of the British cruiser Cape Town; Capt. R. Idemitzu of the Japanese cruiser Tama, and Lieut. W. J. R. Beech, commanding the British destroyer Patrician. With them were their aides and officers of the staff.

The "big chiefs" of the three branches of the American service rumbled up next in their special motor cars. These were Maj.-Gen. Charles T. Menoher, commanding the Ninth Corps Area; Maj.-Gen. Wendell C. Neville, commanding the Department of the Pacific, United States Marine Corps, and Rear-Admiral John M. Dayton, commandant of the Twelfth Naval District.

First in line for the Army division of the parade were the doughboys of the Thirtieth Infantry, "San Francisco's own" regiment.

Following the infantry came the long train of the Sixty-third Coast Artillery. This is the antiaircraft regiment stationed at Fort Scott, with Maj. R. R. Welshmer in command. Their great searchlights, their three-inch antiaircraft guns, their antiaircraft machine guns, all mounted on powerful and speedy motor trucks, formed one of the most interesting military exhibits in the parade.

RED CROSS FLOAT

The one float in the procession was contributed by the Red Cross, and it was a representation of the painting, "The Greatest Mother in the World." It excited much admiration.

There were three bus loads of Civil War veterans, and the old soldiers received the loudest and most spontaneous cheers of any unit in the parade. The American Legion was represented by a color guard and there were representatives of the American Women's Overseas League and other organizations of participants in the World War. There were seven companies of American sailors and three companies of American marines in the parade and one of the longest divisions was that made up of five units of the San Fran-

HOPE FOR SECURITY PACT IN EUROPE BRIGHTENED

Meeting for Discussing Terms Expected to Be Held During Month of October

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—Optimism in Allied circles, regarding the prospects for the reconstruction of Europe on the basis of permanent peace in agreement with German received a new impetus today. An early meeting between the foreign ministers of the Allied powers and of Germany to discuss the security pact now seems virtually assured, and it probably will be held in some Swiss city early in October.

Dr. Stresemann, the German Foreign Minister, will attend, it seems definitely assumed by the Allied statesmen, and this afternoon Premier Painleve and Foreign Minister Briand of France and Foreign Secretary Chamberlain of England, went by automobile to Aix-Les-Bains, where they apprised Premier Baldwin of Great Britain of their decision to invite Dr. Stresemann to such a conference.

The suspension today of sessions of the assembly of the League of Nations to permit reorganization of that body's machinery made it possible for three Allied leaders to make this journey.

The Associated Press correspondent learned tonight that the first meeting with Dr. Stresemann, which Premier Mussolini of Italy also probably will attend, is likely to be followed by others, thus permitting careful reflection on any thorny point, which may arise during the first contacts.

POLAND DISAPPOINTED

At present the Allied leaders have no intention of convoking a great international conference similar to those of Washington, Genoa, The Hague and Lausanne, where all nations would have a chance to speak. Poland and Czecho-Slovakia undoubtedly will be disappointed by such a decision, Poland particularly because she deems that she is vitally concerned in the character of the Rhineland pact, in that she wishes to make it possible for France to cross Germany and come to her aid in case she is attacked.

This question of France's right to traverse German soil, admitted to be one of the points which will offer the most serious difficulties in the negotiations with Germany, is so important to Poland that she wants an opportunity to present her viewpoint from the very start. It seems probable, however, that the conference will be restricted to the powers directly interested in the Rhineland pact.

Optimism, tempered by diplomatic reserve, dominated speeches made at an international press luncheon today by Mr. Chamberlain, Foreign Minister Vandervelde of Belgium and M. Painleve, who declared that if the security negotiations with Germany are inaugurated hopefully there will be a genuine chance of attaining a real European peace which will give Europe a new lease of life, free from the passions and the distrust engendered in the past.

AMERICA INFORMED

Meanwhile the developments of today have given a definite direction to action in regard to the Geneva peace protocol, at least in the minds of the Allied leaders. Their idea is that the protocol should be left absolutely untouched by the present Assembly with the idea that it should be jealously preserved as an ideal to work up to gradually; first of all, by the elaboration of regional pacts of guarantee like the proposed one with Germany. Their belief is that the world should climb up to the protocol instead of making ill-advised efforts to wreck it by revision.

It is learned that the United States is being kept fully informed in regard to all stages of the security negotiations, as the European powers feel that America has a genuine interest in these and that continued American help to Europe depends largely upon whether Europe can arrange her own political affairs.

COOLIDGE IS OPTIMISTIC

Sees Victory on World Court

President Confident Senate Will Ratify Plan at Next Session

Disarmament Conference Within Year Also is Expected

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SWAMPSCOTT (Mass.) Sept. 8. President Coolidge is confident that the Senate will ratify American adherence to the World Court at the next session of Congress. He is also optimistic that a disarmament conference will be held, either at Washington or in some European city, within the next year.

During the President's semi-weekly conference with newspaper men today, the last he will hold before returning to Washington on Wednesday, the White House spokesman stated that President Coolidge's battle for the World Court is won. The President, it is said, has noted what he considers gradual but positive gains for the court and he has been advised by administration Senators that enough votes will be available for ratification when the fight on the World Court opens in the Senate December 17, next.

WANTS RESERVATIONS

No mention was made of reservations, but it is understood the President wants much the same strings attached to American acceptance of membership in the Court of International Justice as were provided for in the Harding-Hughes-Coolidge proposal.

Virtually all Senators calling at White Court this summer have been in favor of affirmative action on the World Court proposal. Some have accepted adherence by amending the World Court, but the majority have insisted that the court be entirely divorced from the League of Nations and reservations attached which will safeguard the country from possible entanglements with Europe.

The President is greatly interested in the report that Premier Painleve of France has suggested that the Council of the League of Nations prepare invitations to a League disarmament conference, to be called when the security negotiations reach the proper stage. President Coolidge has been waiting for months until the European situation cleared up before sending out a call for conference and will wait longer, it was said today, if there is any chance for the League conference to materialize.

MEET IMPORTANT

The President feels the matter of where the next conference is to be held is of not nearly as great importance as that a conference be arranged. The big thing in the opinion of the President is that of attaining practical results which will further reduce armaments.

M'NAMARA AGAIN INDICTED

Fifth True Bill Charging Blackmail Returned Against Official of Union

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 8.—A fifth indictment charging blackmail was returned today against John J. McNamara, business agent of the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, Local Union No. 22, by the Marion county grand jury today.

The new charge grew out of alleged threats to damage improvements in the banking room of the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company on August 7, last. Four other indictments also charging blackmail are on record against McNamara. Trial on the charges will begin next Monday in criminal court.

FOREMAN THREATENED

McNamara is charged with claiming jurisdiction for structural iron work over sheet metal work which was part of installation of cages and other improvements in the banking room of the building. The indictment which was returned today charges that McNamara threatened Charles Swanson, the foreman in charge of construction which was being done by carpenters in the employ of the Taylor Palmer Company of Milwaukee, Wis.

"How would you like to come in here and find that stuff all smashed?" McNamara is alleged to have said to Swanson. Another statement attributed to McNamara was "—— you, I am not going to monkey around with you any longer. You have been stalling around here long enough, using cheap labor to chop holes in this cement floor.

BOND SET AT $2800

"I am going right up to the president of this bank and draw out all the money we have here and we'll get all the others to do the same."

Following the indictment, Claude M. Worley, special investigator from the office of the prosecuting attorney, went out to arrest McNamara. Judge Collins placed bond on the new indictment at $2500. McNamara was at liberty under bond of $20,000.

Previous blackmail indictments returned against McNamara charged him with blackmail in connection with vandalism at the new Elks Club Building, North Meridian and St. Clair streets, during the summer of 1924.

of the formal participation of Foreign Minister Stresemann in a conference with Allied statesmen in regard to the proposed security pact.

Chancellor Luther and Dr. Stresemann are still absent from Berlin. President Von Hindenburg is returning tonight from his holiday in Bavaria and, in the absence of these statesmen, official quarters declined to discuss the reported decision of the Allied foreign ministers to invite Germany's representatives to a conference.

Dr. Friedrich Gauss, the German representative at last week's London conference of experts, returned to Berlin today and made a preliminary report to Undersecretary of Foreign Affairs Von Schubert. Dr. Gauss is said to have been favorably impressed with the result of the London meeting and to believe that an understanding has been reached which will constitute a basis for formal conversations.

BRIAND STATEMENT CAUSES FURORE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Sept. 8.—A statement made at Geneva by Foreign Minister Briand to a German press agency and the visit of Premier Painleve and the Allied foreign ministers to Mr. Baldwin at Aix-Les Baine have caused a stir in Paris such as never has been felt since the news was sent from Cannes of Lloyd George's proposals for a security compact.

M. Briand is quoted by the German agency as saying:

"I expect to play with my cards on the table, for I want peace bebetween France and Germany. We are going to speak frankly on every question about economic relations, about disarmament and evacuation of the occupied territory, for we must find a definite solution for our two countries or we will drift to ruin.

Such a statement as that, four years ago, would have been called high treason, but this time the situation is all changed.

Even Jacques Bainville, Royalist editorial writer of Liberte, cannot, in face of the change in public opinion in this country, do more than raise a mild protest against this public reconciliation with the government of Field Marshal Hindenburg. Only the grossest mistakes on the part of Dr. Stresemann can, he admits, now prevent conclusion of the compact.

THREE HURT IN WELCOME TO OFFICERS

Six Members of Traffic Motorcycle Squad Pile Up on Way to Jubilee

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—A well-meant welcome by San Francisco police to a group of Los Angeles traffic officers here for the diamond jubilee, turned to an accident today resulting in a pile-up of six motorcycles and injury to three members of the Southern California contingent.

The injured were Policeman George Martin, possible fracture of the skull, at Palo Alto General Hospital; Policeman C. P. George, laceration of leg, and Policeman H. G. Piesters, sprained left wrist.

Traveling from Los Angeles on their motorcycles were twenty-six of the city's finest speed chasers. They were headed by Capt. James Sweeny and Lieut. Frank Harlan and are to be part of the Los Angeles representation in tomorrow's Jubilee parade.

As a surprise Capt. Harry Gleeson of the local traffic force sent six officers down the peninsula to greet the visitors. Without prearrangement they met on the highway near Mountain View. Recognizing the honor, Capt. Sweeny called a sudden halt. His men were unprepared for the command and six of them crashed in a heap. Martin was removed to the Palo Alto Hospital and the others proceeded to San Francisco.

In the visiting police group is Oscar Bayer, officer-hero of the recent Hellman bank robbery, in which he shot and killed one bandit and wounded another while four of their bullets penetrated his clothing. He will have a place of honor in his contingent tomorrow morning.

"COVERED WAGON BABIES" HAVE DINNER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Several "covered wagon babies" of the California gold rush days met at a dinner here tonight and lived again in memory those eventful times when men and women pushed westward over the plains in search of wealth and to build new homes.

Each attendant at the dinner, a feature of California's Diamond Jubilee, marking the seventy-fifth anniversary of the State's admission to the Union, was born somewhere on the prairies or in the wilderness en route to "The Golden West."

Some retold the stories of their parents of how around some campfire where men with muskets on their knees, watching for Piutes or Sioux, would suddenly be inspired to merriment by the raucous announcement of some fond father, that "it is a boy" or "it is a girl," or of how an entire caravan of ox-drawn wagons would suddenly be halted to allow the momentous event to take place as conventionally as possible in those rough days.

The idea of "the covered wagon babies" banquet originated with Superior Judge J. C. Needham, of Stanislaus county, who was toastmaster.

Other jubilee features tonight were airplane flights over the city with a mimic attack on them by antiaircraft guns and fireworks at the Civic Center.

ADMISSION DAY PICNIC ARRANGED

Program at Westlake Park Sponsored by Business Association and Elks

Admission Day today, the Diamond Jubilee of California's Statehood, will be observed by the Elks and the Greater Westlake Business Association with a picnic and program at Westlake Park.

The program will start at 2 p.m. with a band concert by Roberts's Golden State Band. A radio program at 3 p.m. will be followed by addresses by Judge Ira F. Thompson, former Senator Louis H. Roseberry and Sylvester L. Weaver.

Presentation of the Bear Flag by Joseph Ford, representing the Native Sons of the Golden West, and acceptance by Fred E. Pearce, Exalted Ruler of the B.P.O. Elks, No. 99, will be followed by selections by the band and the Elks' Big Brothers Girls' Orchestra. At 7:30 p.m. illumination of the new Elks' Temple will take place. The Elks' band and glee club will alternate with concert numbers in the band stand. The closing feature will be an illuminated regatta on the lake.

The celebration is designed to provide a program for those who are unable to go to San Francisco for the Diamond Jubilee celebration.

Heart of Man Supposed to be Dead Starts Again on Way to Morgue

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Sept 8.—W. T. Nesbitt, after having been pronounced dead by police first aid experts and after he had ceased to breathe and his heart had stopped beating, was jolted back to life on his way to the City Morgue in the police patrol wagon here today.

On the way the wagon was passing over a particularly rough street. A tremendous jolt brought a gasp from Nesbitt, his heart again began to pump feebly and now he is expected to recover. Doctors say the flexing of a muscle brought about by the jar may have caused the heart to resume its work.

LOVELIEST GOWN AWARDED PRIZE

Jubilee Honors San Pedro Woman

Mrs. Rudecinda F. S. de Dodson

Wearing wedding costume, more than 150 years old, brought to California by her grandmother.

FIRST prize for wearing the most beautiful costume at the grand ball of the Diamond Jubilee at San Francisco was awarded to Mrs. Rudecinda Florencita Sepulveda de Dodson of San Pedro, according to word received last night.

Mrs. de Dodson, a member of one of Southern California's pioneer families, was gowned in the Spanish wedding attire of her grandmother, a costume more than 150 years old. It was, according to the judges at the ball, the most beautiful costume in California. The costume was worn at the first wedding at the original Sepulveda homestead, at White Point, and was brought from Spain to Vera Cruz, thence by mule train across Mexico to California.

COURT-MARTIAL STEPS TAKEN

court in the San Antonio area will govern a decision as to the place of the trial.

In the meantime, Col. Mitchell will continue his duties in San Antonio as air officer of that area. The further statement he issued today urging the creation of a consolidated defense department with subsecretaries in charge of the army, navy and air branches, drew no comment from War Department officials beyond the emphatic assertion that all army officers are free to express their personal views on questions of this kind at any time, that they never have been gagged as to air service or other matters in time of peace and will not be.

ONE DIFFICULTY

One of the difficulties met by the department in dealing with Col. Mitchell's statement which is under investigation has been to make clear that his freedom to argue for any form of national defense he may favor is not in question, and that the only issue to be met involves a possible breach of the articles of war because of the specific charges made.

Col. Nugent's inquiries of Col. Mitchell will be confined, so far as is now known, to the acceptance of responsibility for these specific charges, except that he is also expected to interrogate the Air Service officer regarding the inclusion in Col. Mitchell's book, "Winged Defense," of cartoons held at the War Department to be unfair and discourteous to Secretary Weeks. Col. Mitchell already has disclaimed responsibility for the insertion of these cartoons in the book.

So far as those parts of Col. Mitchell's statements are concerned which do not accuse army and navy officials of misconduct or dereliction of duty, there is no disposition at the War Department to reopen the general Air Service controversy.

In connection with Col. Mitchell's statement today, it was pointed out that several bills proposing to create a consolidated defense ministry under which the Army, Navy and Air Service would be co-ordinated as separate arms, were pending before Congress during the last session, and their authors had declared their purpose to reintroduce them in December. In any event, it was added, the War Department is not competent nod does it propose to investigate its own or the Navy's Air Service administration.

Whatever proceedings against Col. Mitchell may result from the investigation set in motion today will be confined strictly to the question whether he has been guilty of insubordination and should be punished. The range of penalties which may be inflicted on conviction by court-martial goes all the way from a loss of numbers in grade, deferring promotion, to dismissal from the service, depending upon the particular article found by the court to have been violated.

MITCHELL ADVOCATES AERONAUTICS BUREAU

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 8.—Col. William Mitchell, deposed assistant air chief, and now Eighth Corps Area air officer, broke his silence of three days again here today, issuing a formal statement in which he recommends creation by the next Congress of an aeronautics bureau under a secretary of air, and suggests plans for the bureau's operation.

He says that the entire national defense should be consolidated under one head, who would be held responsible, but that the department should be divided into three sections under subsecretaries, army, navy and air.

The colonel refrained from commenting upon his statement issued Saturday, nor did he mention the imbroglio his tirade stirred up. He confined himself solely to the department he urges.

of the victims of the Shenandoah disaster were laid to rest today at Arlington National Cemetery. Funeral services for Lieutenant-Commander Zachary Lansdowne, commander of the ill-fated craft, took place this afternoon. Earlier in the day services were conducted for Lieutenant-Commander Louis Hancock, Lieut. J. B. Lawrence and Lieut. W. W. Sheppard. The graves of the four officers are located on a mound overlooking the Potomac, and adjacent to the tomb of Lieut.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles.

Simple military services were conducted over the flag-draped coffins. Sailors and marines formed an escort for the bodies from the receiving vault at the cemetery, where they had been placed Saturday, to the graves.

One service sufficed for the three officers buried this morning. The Navy Band played "Nearer My God to Thee," after which Capt. E. W. Scott, chief of chaplains of the Navy, read from the Scriptures, and Rev. Roland S. Nichols, Episcopal rector of Toms River, N. J., who had been the pastor of the victims at Lakehurst, offered prayer. The coffins were lowered and the masses of floral offerings piled on the graves.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Robinson, Acting Secretary of War Davis and Maj.-Gen. John A. Lejuene, commandant of the Marine Corps, were among officials in attendance. A large crowd was present.

Chaplain Scott and Canon W. L. De Vries of the Washington Cathedral officiated at the funeral of Lieutenant-Commander Lansdowne.

FLYER DIES IN FALL AT SAN DIEGO

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 8.—John H. Stinson, 34 years of age, naval aviation pilot, was killed and Samuel H. Lyons, aviation rigger, was severely injured this morning when a Vought seaplane from the naval air station at North Island in which they were flying fell in the bay off the destroyer base at 10:20 o'clock. Stinson's neck was broken in the crash.

According to a spectator of the fall, the plane seemed to have been caught in a downward thrust of the wind after the pilot had made a left turn. An investigation will be conducted to ascertain the cause of the accident. Lyons is in the naval hospital here suffering from injuries on the head and neck and general shock.

Stinson was born August 17, 1892 at Mist, Ark. He enlisted in the Navy December 13, 1917 and had to his credit 700 hours' flying time. His home is at 2034 Madison avenue. He leaves his widow, Charlotte Stinson.

Iowa Officers Vainly Seek Clew in Killing of W.C.T.U. Leader by Supposed Bootlegger

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VINTON (Iowa) Sept. 8.—After a day of searching for clues, no progress has been found to indicate who it was that assassinated Mrs. Cook, president of the Benton County Women's Temperance Union in her home here at 10:30 o'clock last night.

Sheriff Ruhl and other county authorities are convinced that a bootlegger or rum runner committed the crime because of Mrs. Cook's efforts to break up bootlegging here. She was shot as she sat by a light near her window shortly after returning home from a meeting of Sunday-school teachers at the First Christian Church.

One shot was fired. It crashed through the window glass, struck Mrs. Cook's arm and lodged just below the heart, resulting in death a few minutes later. Owing to a storm that was raging outside, the shot was heard neither by neighbors nor by Mrs. Martha Underwood, Mrs. Cook's mother, who was in an upstairs room.

RAIN COVERS TRACKS

The theory is that the assassin followed Mrs. Cook home from church and shot her immediately after she turned on the light and sat down. No suspicious characters were seen about the residence during the evening, neighbors say. The rain made it impossible to follow the murderer's footsteps, and low the murderer's footsteps.

The bootlegger theory is held the most tenable on account of recent acts of Mrs. Cook's. Three weeks ago she was in Cedar Rapids in consultation with Roy H. Slade, prohibition enforcement officer, regarding the liquor situation here. Slade said today she accused the local officials of being lax in their enforcement of the prohibition law. Slade admits she supplied him with a list of names of persons she suspected and wanted him to take some action. Slade had had some correspondence with Mrs. Cook in the last week, but he declined to give out any information.

Mrs. S. C. Viles of Shellsburg, a member of the W.C.T.U., said she had talked with Mrs. Cook in the last week and that she told her she had prepared a report on conditions in Benton county, which she intended to submit to the September grand jury. This report contained the names of the asserted bootleggers. It has not been made public.

Dry officials are of the opinion that either bootleggers or rumrunners learned of the information Mrs. Cook possessed and killed her to prevent it from reaching the public. One dry official suggested that the assassination had all the earmarks of the work of a Chicago gunman and he said he would not be surprised to learn that a thug was imported from that city to do the crime.

FIRED AT CLOSE RANGE

The shot was fired at close range, the Sheriff said, passing just beneath the lower end of the curtain, which was in direct line with Mrs. Cook's heart. He says this

POLITICS MADE SCIENCE STUDY

Methods for Controlling Behavior Sought

More Than 100 Experts at Eastern Conference

Round-Table Discussions Analyze System

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Politics is being viewed through the eyes of science by more than 100 college professors and experts who are attending the third annual meeting of the National Conference on the Science of Politics. Round-table discussions were begun today with a view to placing politics on a more scientific basis.

"What we want to do is to find a method of controlling political behavior," said Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall of the University of Wisconsin, chairman of the conference.

"The two things that probably affect us most, religion and politics, we study least. Everybody wants peace, yet the forces for war go right ahead. We have not been learning to control ourselves with regard to our behavior in political and international matters. We have been doing it in business, for business has been reduced to science.

"Getting the right man for the job is the problem of the science of politics. This requires scientific knowledge of political behavior that will give us the key to social control. It requires the contributions of psychology, pathology, anthropology and biology and all the other doctrines that are concerned with the study of the individual of the group.

"We breed stock to accomplish certain ends. Why can't we breed human beings to fit into the needs of modern politics?"

The conference is being held under the joint auspices of Columbia University and the National Institute of Public Administration. Almost every State university in the country is represented.

Chester I. Long

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WICHITA (Kan.) Sept. 8.—Members of the legal fraternity of this city feel highly honored that one of their number, Chester I. Long, was chosen to head the American Bar Association for the ensuing year.

Mr. Long, who succeeds Charles Evans Hughes, has been a leading attorney in this city for many years. For six years he served as United States Senator. Affiliated with the Republican party, he has been in politics since 1884. This is the second time in the fifty years' history of the Bar Association that the presidency has been held by a man from the West.

Candidate Rains Pennies Down on Gotham Urchins

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Scattering pennies out of a bag by the handful, as if they were grass seed, John Crescenti, independent candidate for Assemblyman from the Second District, opened his campaign today at Stanton and Christie streets with a horde of howling, struggling children milling around his automobile.

He desisted only after he had distributed $30 worth—3000 coins—and was threatened with total annihilation.

Crescenti, perched on the roof of the machine, reached inside like a magician and produced a box containing packages of spaghetti. These he flung to the mothers who formed a fringe around the children. The police made no attempt to halt the proceedings.

STATE PIONEERS FETED AT FAIR

Farm Students Addressed at Assembly

Register Shows Celebration Huge Attraction

Adohr Stock Farms won the certified milk contest which was held at the California State Fair yesterday. Certified farms from all over the State competed.

Five wins of this prize in six years have been made by Adohr Farm, in addition to winning two national contests in which were entered the products of certified farms from all over the country.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 8.—Old-timers, the boys who helped to make history in California when this State was in its infancy, monopolized the program for the fourth day of the seventy-first annual State fair. Hundreds of pioneers from all sections of the State were present and for a day at least the exposition took on an atmosphere of the early days.

Many were the stories of the days of gold that were spun by the old fellows as they gathered and chatted in various places throughout the grounds. But the thrill for the pioneers and for the spectators, who entered into the spirit of the day was the old-time fiddlers and jig contest that was conducted under the auspices of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce.

STUDENTS MEET

Another feature of the day's program was the assembly of agricultural students of Camp Lilliard, the State fair's farm school for the farmers of tomorrow. Camp Lilliard opened with the fair and will close tomorrow night. It is composed of 360 students from all parts of the State and is in charge of Richard J. Werner, State supervisor of agricultural instruction.

During the assembly the students were addressed by Nicholas Ricciardi, State Supervisor of Vocational Education, and a number of agricultural experts.

Instructions were given the students in animal husbandry, the fitting of live stock for the showring, the proper feeding of stock and poultry and the judging of live stock and fruit.

FAIR ATTRACTS

Justus Craemer of Orange, a member of the State Board of Agriculture, announced that a register which visitors have been requested to sign, "reveals the tremendous advertising worth of the State fair to the counties which are exhibiting." Residents of twenty-six States and ten foreign countries, Craemer declared, registered during the first three days. Many of the States represented are east of the Mississippi, while the foreign countries are Holland, Australia, New Zealand, British South Africa, Argentina, Germany, Hawaii, Mexico, England and Spain.

The San Bernardino county exhibit in the main agricultural pavilion is attracting considerable attention. The display is most artistically arranged, the feature being a large golden horn of plenty from which the soil treasures of the county are pouring.

State Funeral for Viviani Set for Thursday

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The funeral of Rene Viviani, noted French statesman, orator and former premier, who died yesterday after a lingering illness, has been set for Thursday. It will be elaborate and expenses will be borne by the government.

In a message to the Petit Parisien today, Premier Painleve expressed sorrow for the loss "to French democracy of one of its best sons and leading defenders."

He recalled M. Viviani's mission to America in 1917 and paid tribute for services to France in the tragic hours of the World War.

Eastern Cleric Admits Cashing Checks of Bank

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Nicholas Shutakewics of Woodhaven, N. Y., an ordained priest in the Greek Orthodox Church, pleaded guilty in Brooklyn County Court to petty larceny in connection with cashing twelve $100 travelers' checks owned by the East New York Savings Bank where he was head of the foreign department.

Judge McLaughlin allowed the minor plea to give the prisoner a chance to make restitution and remanded him for sentence.

Shutakewics has a wife and two children. It was asserted that his thefts from the bank totaled $5000. Of this amount he is said to have returned $3800.

Road Asserted to Have Buried Mine Workings

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Sept. 8.—An unusual suit is one for damages of $2500, filed by J. E. Fitzgerald and William P. Mahoney against the Lee Moor Construction Company of El Paso, contractors on a State highway south of this point.

It is asserted that in building the road no right of way was obtained over mining property held by the plaintiffs and that the defendant's employees buried under earth and rock the plaintiff's mineral vein and covered certain development workings.

JURIST UPSETS COURT CUSTOM

New York City Astounded by Original Views

Texan Makes Heart Appeals to Dope Addicts

Judge Views Prisoners as "Justice Customers"

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. — Judge William H. Atwell of Dallas, Tex., now sitting in the Federal court here to relieve an overcrowded calendar, is applying a psychology to his cases that has caused the interest of New Yorkers at a time when there is keen discussion over mild prison sentences during the crime wave.

So successful are his methods that court officers say his men are thanking him for three-year terms at Atlanta, promising to cut off an arm and a leg rather than continue the drug habit, and being led off to jail smiling.

Recently, after having sentenced Samuel Alpert, 21 years of age, to the Federal penitentiary for thirteen months, Judge Atwell shook hands warmly with him and said:

"When you come out of Atlanta and meet bad company, tell them all to go to hell and say, 'I'm going straight.' Give me your hand, my boy, and promise me that you will try what I have told you."

On another occasion, before sentencing two drug addicts, Judge Atwell had them repeat after him:

"Old man, you can't have any more of that stuff."

"You must repeat this over and over again, the way I do when I fight off the desire for a cigar."

CUSTOMER FOR JUSTICE

In explaining his work, Judge Atwell, who is from the Northern District of Texas, and has been sitting at Dallas, said:

"I do not like the word prisoner. When one comes before me he is a customer for justice. It is my job to have satisfied customers."

In addition to the hypothesis that a man is innocent until he is proven guilty, Judge Atwell takes the attitude that, after having committed a crime and served a jail sentence to expiate that crime, a man is just as honest as he was before.

Judge Atwell views the matter as a "bought-and-paid-for" transaction.

"The man's story is the thing I want," he remarked. "I always let 'the customer' tell his own story, and I believe I can judge better from that just how to make my decision.

"If I succeed in making a charged man understand that I am hearing his story not just because the law gives him the right to tell it, but because I want to hear it, then he will be sincere. Sincerity begets sincerity.

"And there is another thing. There is a great tendency today to treat people in classes or groups. Every man who comes before me is an individual. No two narcotic cases are the same and no two liquor cases are the same."

WOMEN DIFFICULT

Judge Atwell believes that it is harder to "reach" a man more than 40 years of age and he has more difficulty dealing with women. "I believe the reason for this," he said, "is that women are raised upon male adoration and all their lives they are showered with compliments from men. This passes for chivalry. When a woman comes before me she often mistakes my motives and believes my actions are prompted by chivalry. Thus she fails to understand that I am sincere and does not give me sincere answers."

Judge Atwell believes that no criminal ever commits a crime without being partially sorry, and that as a judge his duty is to make the offender see just why he should not have acted as he did.

The judge is not sentimental. He does not believe that a fine takes the place of a jail sentence. He has been sitting in New York for three weeks.

He is Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks.

MORE BONES IN SLAYING CASE FOUND

Grewsome Evidence of Murder Discovered by Oakland Searchers

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OAKLAND, Sept. 8.—Bay Farm Island gave up further grewsome evidence in the murder and mutilation of Bessie Ferguson Loren today when searchers in the grass and weed grown marshes along the shores came upon nearly all of the missing bones of the sawed-up skeleton excepting the hands and feet. The discovery was made by J. W. Gomes and Floyd Kennedy, Oakland youths, who yesterday found other missing bones and other evidence.

Near the bones found today was a man's hunting cap and sections of rubber tubing such as surgeons use. Officials are hopeful that the cap and the pair of trousers and coat found yesterday may aid in the discovery of the slayer or slayers. A portion of human lung with a section of windpipe was turned over to officials today by J. W. Baldwin of Oakland.

Dr. O. D. Hamlin of Oakland, today set about reconstructing the skeleton of the slain nurse. Nearly every bone recovered thus far had been sawed into fragments, making reconstruction a tedious process.

Sheriff R. R. Veale of Contra Costa county said today that he will call for an inquest at which every person whose name has been brought into the case will be required to testify under oath.

EXPLOITING OF RUBBER LANDS HIT

Filipino Senator Attacks Plan of American Interests to Develop Industry

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MANILA, Sept. 8.—Senator Jose Clarin, chairman of the Philippine Senate Finance Committee, today attacked the plans of American interests to exploit the rubber lands at Mindanao, in an address before the Senate. The speaker protested against any possible action on the part of Congress in modifying the Philippine land laws in order to facilitate control of Mindanao Island by powerful American interests operating on the excuse that the rubber industry would be developed.

Senator Clarin declared the Jones law gives the Philippine Legislature alone the power to enact laws affecting the islands, and that every act tending to alienate from the Philippines rights vested in it by the organic act of government will only instill discontent in the hearts of all Filipinos.

Two Reported Starving Upon Desert Island

Brandt and Smyth, Canadians touring the world in a canoe, found in a bottle picked up today between Corsica and the French coast by a French destroyer searching for two French seaplanes missing since Saturday morning.

The destroyer radioed the French Naval Ministry it had started to search for the pair, but no further news has been received.

Cape Corse is at the northern extremity of Corsica.

STATE TO PRESS MURDER CHARGE

Noel Attorneys May Base Defense on Insanity

Indictment to be Asked on Kidnaping and Slaying

Youthful Suspect Appears in Cataleptic Stupor

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—If 20-year-old Harrison Noel is to escape punishment in the electric chair for kidnaping and murdering little Mary Daly by pleading insanity that excuse must originate with his defense. This was decided upon today by Assistant Prosecutor d'Alola in Newark. It means the State will press its prosecution on the assumption the murderer is sane until proved otherwise. Mr. d'Alola will ask the grand jury for Noel's indictment.

SUSPECT IN STUPOR

Noel is held in a double cage, a cell within a cell, in the Essex County Jail at Newark. He seems to be in a cataleptic stupor, his thoughts dissassociated from all things outside himself. His demeanor, in common with those afflicted with his form of unbalance, was unchanged from yesterday when he formally pleaded guilty to kidnaping the child but recanted her murder and that of Raymond Pierce.

Noel killed Pierce, a negro chauffeur, the police believe, to obtain the car in which he abducted Mary.

The police are checking the possibility that he had an accomplice.

This hypothesis is based on the assertion of Mrs. Mary Bogan of Cedar Grove, who gave information leading to Noel's questioning and arrest, that two men were in the car she saw near the murder scene.

TO ISSUE STATEMENT

Noel's father arrived in New Nork today but did not visit his home in Montclair or his son in the Newark jail. He sent word to the newspapers that he would issue a statement late tonight from his apartment in New York.

New Jersey detectives had inaugurated a search for Noel when he appeared today. He is a member of the law firm of Bigham, Engler & Jones at 64 Wall street and was supposed to be in Chicago when his son was arrested and later confessed. No trace of him, however, had been found in the western city.

Authorities who are studying the case have indicated they desire to question the elder Noel who had promised hospital and asylum officers he would be responsible for the lad's conduct.

Both Gov. Silzer of New Jersey and the Essex county Board of Freeholders have started independent investigations into the circumstances of Noel's unhampered exit from the Overbrook Insane Asylum on June 29.

E. P. Earle, chairman of the New Jersey Board of Control, said he had communicated with the Board of Freeholders and had received assurances that an inquiry had been started.

Soviet Slashes Prices to Sell Flood of Grain

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Soviet government agents here are selling vast quantities of grain from Black Sea ports at prices far below the world market average. More than 350,000 tons of wheat and barley were sold for September and October delivery, according to the freight firms of the soviet trade delegation in London.

A well-known firm concluded a large barley contract at most profitable terms by the advance payment of $3,000,000 cash. The soviet agents are slashing prices and underselling everybody, apparently in order to get cash at any cost.

HYLAN BELIEVED DUE FOR DEFEAT

Mayor Expected to Run as Independent Candidate

Manhattan Island Victory for Walker Forecast

Republicans Hope Primary Will Sunder Democrats

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The general belief among the professional politicians, Republican and Democratic alike, is that Mayor Hylan will be defeated a week from today for the Democratic nomination to succeed himself and then will become an independent candidate in the election.

There is slight doubt that Tammany, whose mayoralty candidate will be Senator Jimmy Walker, will carry Hylan under on Manhattan Island and that the Bronx, where Sheriff Flynn rules, will go against him. The only hope reported for Hylan is that his friend Bozz McCooey of Brooklyn and the leaders on Staten Island and in Queens County can muster up in a majority sufficiently large to enable him to squeeze through.

The betting fraternity is convinced that Hylan is done for, wagering of four to one to that effect are offered with no takers, according to the betting brokers.

The Republican politicians are sure that the bitter primary fight will leave the Democratic faction so irreconcilably sundered that the Republican candidate will win. It is regarded as inconceivable that Hylan and Hearst will support Walker, whom they are running as the tool of the Tammany and no more conceivable is that Gov. Smith and Democrats could support Hylan, who has characterized as totally unimportant and the illegitimate child whose life the Governor spoiled as unfit example for youth.

Political leaders, however, have greater confidence of victory if Hylan were to win the Democratic primary, in the event they would expect the candidate to be the beneficiary of the Mayor. With Walker as nominee and Hylan an independent candidate, many Republicans would be impelled to vote for Walker as the only sure way of disposing of Hylan and Tammany.

Mayor Walker in every speech he makes declares that he will support Hylan loyally in the election if he wins the primary and expects the Mayor to make a similar statement to abide by the result of the balloting next week. The Mayor dodged this question up to date and when heckled at his meetings with demands to know whether he would support Walker, he replied with the remark "I am a Democrat."

Should ex-Governor Hearst will urge Hylan, if defeated in the primary, to run as an independent candidate, Hearst again has declared himself outside of the Democratic party. This does not mean necessarily, however, that Hearst will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Senator or President next year, or for President in 1928, if he and Hylan and Al Smith and Tammany struggle for control of the party. Hearst has been in and out of the Democratic party, as it suited his purpose, for twenty years.

The only time he ever was elected Mayor was when he went to the Democratic successive terms—as the Democratic candidate and Tammany candidate at that.

WALNUT GROVE TUNNEL PUSHED

Bypass Bore Being Built Around Site

Original Dam Swept Away by Flood in 1890

New Structure Designed by Angeleno

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Sept. 8.—Work is being pushed on a bypass tunnel around the site of the new Walnut Grove Dam, in the canyon of the Hassayampa River, south of this city. Construction was started on February 23, last, just thirty-five years after the date on which the original structure on the site was swept away by flood, with the loss of about seventy lives.

The first dam was 110 feet high and 400 feet long at its crest, with a spillway only fifteen feet wide and eight feet deep, that failed to carry a rush of water from melting snows. The dam, of faulty design, started to give way as soon as water poured over its crest.

The new dam, designed by W. A. Pariah of Los Angeles and to be erected under his superintendence, is to be of concrete, fifty feet higher than the old dam, keyed securely into the granite walls and base of the canyon. Hydro-electric energy is to be developed below the dam and the water thus utilized again is to be stored at a point farther down stream.

The pioneer enterprise was designed mainly to obtain a steady water "head" for hydraulic washing of great placer beds that lie east of Congress Junction, below the famous Rich Hill. Possibly this object may be served in the project of today, but its plans are understood to consider mainly the reclamation of a large tract of desert land lying between the Hassayampa and Agua Fria Rivers, northwest of Phoenix, near the Santa Fe Phoenix line.

Capital for the work is being furnished by a New York company, headed by Joseph Wittman, a relative of the Van Buerens, who were behind the original project.

BLANKET TO BE PRESENT TO COOLIDGE

Two Women of Plymouth to Make Afghan as Gift for President

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PLYMOUTH (Vt.) Sept. 8.—Two old women, who knew Calvin Coolidge long before he or anyone else dreamed that he was going to live in the White House as first citizen of the land, are working hard on a little gift for the President and Mrs. Coolidge.

They are Miss Ellen Dunbar, 75 years of age, who taught the school that Coolidge attended here when he was 8 years of age, and Mrs. Sarah Pollard, 84, his aunt, with whom he spent many days during that period of his life.

The gift that is in preparation is a huge Afghan blanket to be composed of forty-eight separate squares of crocheted and knitted material.

Aunt Sarah and Miss Ellen are not the only ones who have been busying themselves on it, however. Among the others has been Mrs. John Garibaldi Sargent, wife of the Attorney-General of the United States, as well as a dozen more.

When all separate squares are finished an old-fashioned knitting bee will be conducted and they will be joined together to make a blanket.

Bay City Police-Slayers Plot Wholesale Escape

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—The reason for the hurried removal last week to Folsom prison of William Rhinehart, under life sentence for the murder a year ago of Police Sergeant Joseph Brady, was disclosed today by the announcement of the Sheriff's office that they had discovered evidence indicating that a wholesale jail break was contemplated by Rhinehart and other prisoners confined in the same section of the County Jail in the rear of the Hall of Justice.

Sheriff's deputies reported finding in the cell of Felix Sleeper, slayer of Patrolman George Campbell, an ingenious bludgeon made from a section of broomhandle with nails driven into it.

RAILROADS AIR NEW RATE PLEA

Federal Commission Holds Increase Hearing

Road Head and Statistician Offer Arguments

Asserted Plight of Lines in West Described

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Dealing in terms of millions and billions, a railroad president and a statistician today offered the first evidence in support of the application of western railroads for a 5 per cent increase in freight rates.

President Fred W. Sargent of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company described the plight of his road as the common plight of all western lines.

"The Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company," he said, "has in every year since the end of Federal control, furnished its service to the public at a return of less than 4 per cent upon its investment, and the experience of the Northwestern is typical of the western railways."

Clyde B. Atchison, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, before whom the hearing opened, turned a critical ear toward the witnesses and demanded explanations in four instances, clearing the Interstate Commerce Commission of what he described as "unfair inferences," by "suppression of facts." He drew statements from President Sargent and L. E. Wettling, manager of the statistical bureau of the western railroads qualifying their testimony, until he got a direct admission from Sargent that the commission has always given the railroads a full and complete hearing.

ASKS RELIEF PROPOSALS

When Sargent expressed the opinion that the western trunk line territory is suffering from depression of rates, due both to rulings of State and interstate commissions, the chairman asked what relief he would recommend. He asked particularly if special treatment for any particular companies would be satisfactory.

"No," Sargent replied. "The only action that could provide the relief we need is action by the Interstate Commerce Commission granting us a 5 per cent increase in rates."

Operation of the Chicago and Northwestern at a return of less than 4 per cent, Sargent said, "is caused by the great increases in the cost of railway operation, in fuel, in wages and in taxes, and in practically every other item; by the fact that western railway rates have been kept far below the rising tide of their costs; and by the fact that constant new capital expenditures must be made to meet the growing demands of agriculture and industry and to furnish the people of the West with prompt, adequate and efficient transportation service."

Figures in support of the contentions of witnesses were ample. Mr. Wettling was on the stand most of the day, explaining the items in a finely printed thirty-three-page exhibit. President Sargent stopped his testimony, which he read from printed copy, at adjournment and will resume reading tomorrow.

When he concludes, President Charles Donnelly of the Northern Pacific, will be called, and then W. H. Bremmer, receiver for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, will be called.

CITES NET RETURNS

In eight years, ending December 31, 1924, more than $1,700,000,000 was invested by the railroads in improvements, while the net return earned by them in 1924 was $85,000,000 less than it was in 1916, Mr. Wettling said.

"The rate of return earned on total investment was 5.59 per cent in 1916 and was only 3.75 per cent in 1924. The net return earned by the western railways in 1924 was equivalent to a rate of return of but 4.55 per cent on the investment up to the end of 1916, being lower than the return actually earned on this investment in 1924 and left nothing at all for return on the $1,700,000,000 which has been invested in the property since that time.

"If the full freight rate increase now requested had been in effect in 1924, the western railway net in that year would still have been less than the net return actually earned in 1916 and would have amounted to a return of 5.56 per cent on the 1916 investment as contrasted with the 5.5° per cent actually earned in 1916. If the increase now requested had been realized in 1924, it would have meant a return to the western railways of only 4.58 per cent of their 1924 investment.

"On the basis of 1924, a 5 per cent increase in freight revenues would produce a fair return on approximately $7,900,000,000 leaving over $2,000,000,000 of western railway investment still receiving nothing at all."

EPISCOPALIAN FUND REDUCED

Failing Contributions Force Budget Cut

Lower Salaries Also Seen as Essential

Educational and Missionary Activities Hit

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The Episcopal Church, regarded as one of the richest religious denominations in the world, is facing a radical reduction in expenditures and curtailment of its work with possible abandonment of entire fields of missionary service. This situation was revealed today by the budget to be submitted to the general convention at New Orleans next month, copies of which were sent to the clerical and lay delegates.

The demand for retrenchment, which has arisen, is ascribed to decreasing contributions from the various dioceses throughout the country for the support of the general work of the church, including the mission field.

The educational work of the church will be hit hardest if suggested cuts totaling $1,200,000 are made in the budget of $4,500,000. Next to that, a reduction of salaries paid by the National Council will be necessitated, involving a departure from the policy of the campaign launched six years ago to raise the compensation of the clergy to a living basis, which has been largely successful in its results. The reduction of appropriations for certain lines of work, it is declared, will also mean an abandonment of a unified system of raising funds for the general work of the church.

CONTRIBUTIONS HEAVY

An interesting feature of the situation is that this movement for retrenchment in the work of the church comes at a time when the membership is contributing more toward all church purposes than at any time in its history. Last year, for instance, the total was $15,000,000 in excess of the contributions for 1919. The explanation is said to lie in the fact that many of the dioceses upon which the church must rely almost entirely for support of the mission fields, and other general work, have failed to meet the budget quota assigned to them by the Episcopal National Council at the direction of general convention, while their congregations are raising large sums for local work.

The convention of 1919 inaugurated what is known as the nation-wide campaign, under the impetus of which contributions for the church's general work increased more than 100 per cent. That convention also created the National Council to administer the affairs of the church between conventions. It is this council which presents to each general convention a budget covering the ensuing three years.

While not a few of the dioceses have met their quotas in full during the last six years, many others failed to reach the goal, claiming that the demands made upon them were excessive. These dioceses, among which are Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh, now are leading the movement for a modified budget based approximately upon the average of the diocesan givings during the past three years.

ALTERNATIVE BUDGET

It is suggested that a budget of $3,300,000 would conform to this principle, and on orders from the National Council an alternative budget has been prepared with detailed figures, showing just what curtailments and abandonments in the present work of the church will be necessary to effect the proposed reduction of $1,200,000.

Some mission fields will have to be abandoned entirely if the curtailed budget is adopted; there will be reductions in the salaries of the missionary bishops, clergy and workers throughout the world; many new projects will have to be abandoned and the whole scale of the church's work will be projected on a narrower and more restricted basis.

Lewis B. Franklin, vice-president and treasurer of the church, reminds the members in a statement that expenditures must balance income or disaster will follow.

"Some of those who advocate reductions in work seem to forget that the budget can also be balanced by an increase in receipts," says Mr. Franklin. "Past records of giving do not measure the present ability of the people of our Communion to support their world-wide missionary enterprise as such. Gifts during the last three years have been at the rate of $2.50 per annum per member, or five cents a week."

'HUSBAND'S BODY READY TO SHIP'

Wife Alarmed Until Mate Avers Wagon Body is Meant

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PEABODY (Mass.) Sept. 8.—"Your husband's body is ready to be shipped home," was the alarming message Mrs. Warren D. King received when she answered the telephone in her home here. For a moment she was stunned, but just at that moment her husband walked into the room.

It developed then that King, manager of the Peabody Electric Lighting Department, had several weeks ago ordered a new wagon body to be built. And when the job was completed the builder was merely notifying the King home that it was ready for delivery.

Union Against Landlords in Berlin Likely

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—Berlin landlords requesting the courts to oust 50,000 families from their homes for nonpayment of rent now face the possibility of the tenants forming a union and refusing either to pay rent or to leave their homes even in order of a court.

Even thought present rates are only 85 per cent of th prewar rate, the earning power of certain classes, especially the intellectuals, is far below that of 1914. Berlin also had a large number of families who lived from income which inflation wiped out. As a consequence thousands of families are living in houses where rent is much greater proportionately than present earnings.

The tenants feel that the landlords are unwilling to meet them half way until the advent of more prosperous times, and are enlisting the aid of their friends in fighting the landlords and the laws governing rent prices.

On the other hand the landlords aver that taxes take all such income from their houses, leaving them without a fair rate of interest on their investments and on account of the housing laws they are required to take in any tenants assigned to their houses by the housing commission.

VARIETY IN CHARGES FACED BY ARIZONAN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Sept. 8.—Attempted murder, forgery and bootlegging are thre of the charges against John Doe Burns, alias summers, arrested here and returned to Prescott for trial. The local arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Lasswell of Prescott, the same person at whom Burns is asserted to have emptied a revolver when Lasswell tried to take him on a forgery charge several weeks ago. It then was discovered that Burns was in possession of five gallons of illicit whisky.

HELD UNDER BAIL IN SLAYING OF HUSBAND

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BISBEE (Ariz.) Sept. 8.—Mrs. Gladys Vardaman was held under $5000 bail on a charge of murder of her young husband in a Naco rooming-house. Her attorney asked dismissal on the ground that the charge was based on mere hearsay. The couple lately had adopted a small boy, who has been taken from the woman and will be returned to the care of the Juvenile Court in Phoenix, their former home.

JAUNT ENDS UNHAPPILY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

JEROME (Ariz.) Sept. 8.—Two weeks ago two young men and two girls went for an evening ride. They stayed out so late that they concluded to have a real excursion, thereafter being picked up at Douglas. They have been brought back and a technical charge of child stealing has been lodged against William Bergman, 22 years of age, and Lloyd Morey, 18.

Méjico Pondrá Restricciones a los Aviones

LAREDO (Tejas) Septiembre 8. El gobierno mejicano ha librado órdenes a efecto de que todos los movimientos de aeroplanos en Méjico estén bajo vigilancia e inspección gubernativas. Dícese que se tomó esta medida ante la representación del gobierno de los Estados Unidos, de que se estaba haciendo uso de aeroplanos para matutear licores y narcóticos a través de la línea fronteriza.

Hace mucho que saben muy bien los empleados aduanales y las autoridades encargadas de la vigencia de la prohibición, que ha habido considerable tráfico fraudulento entre los dos países, asegurado por medio de aviones. No pasa día sin que se vean aeroplanos cruzando de uno a otro lado del Río Bravo. Generalmente cruzan por lugares solitarios, y volando a gran altura; pero algunos de ellos tienen el desplante de pasar directamente sobre Laredo y otras poblaciones fronterizas.

Los Turcos Fomentan la Rebelión de Trípoli

PARIS, Septiembre 8. — Está ardiendo todo Trípoli en rebelión contra Italia. El primer ministro Mussolini ha enviado 300 aeroplanos adicionales y dos mil soldados de refuerzo a Trípoli en estos últimos días, y la agencia de información oficial ha convenido por fin hoy en que hay un levantamiento de vastas proporciones.

Dice la agencia citada lo siguiente: "Los aviadores italianos se están moviendo con gran actividad y bombardeando sin descanso a grupos de Senussi y de sus ganados, a los que han infligido fuertes pérdidas en hombres y animales".

Los italianos, que nunca han podido pacificar lo interior de ese vasto país, están siendo, al parecer rechazados hacia la costa con bajas de consideración.

Mitchell se Halla en Peligro

WASHINGTON, Septiembre 8.— El ministerio de la Guerra ha dado hoy los pasos iniciales encaminados a juzgar en consejo de guerra al coronel William Mitchell por sus declaraciones en las que pone en evidencia a las administraciones militar y naval, en lo que a sus servicios aéreos se refiere. Previa conferencia con el señor Davis, ministro accidental de la Guerra, el general de división John L. Hines, jefe de estado mayor, ordenó a la oficina del inspector general que se cerciorara oficialmente de la autenticidad de las declaraciones imputadas al coronel Mitchell. Tal es la diligencia de rigor antes de someter a un militar a consejo de guerra.

Al recibir el informe del inspector general, el general Hines consultará con el Procurador General, y someterá finalmente el informe al ministro accidental de la Guerra, señor Davis. Entre los funcionarios de guerra se da por seguro que será acordado el arresto del coronel Mitchell, para que comparezca ante un consejo de guerra, el que probablemente resolverá sea dado de baja del ejército.

El Temor a la Ley Hace que Lieb Intente Suicidarse

El temor a la ley, más fuerte que el temor a la muerte, entre los acusados que forman los vacilantes y acéfalos restos de la cuadrilla de bandidos de Eddie Miller, produjo ayer otra víctima.

Ese poderosísimo temor se adueñó de Alfred W. Lieb, conocido asimismo a la policía por los nombres de Albert Lieb y Albert W. Cole, sobre quien pesa, en información que obra en la sala del juez superior Reeve, el cargo de haber recibido y ocultado objetos robados por Eddie Miller, quien fué herido de bala y muerto en Junio próximo pasado, en un combate con el sargento de policía Harper. Lieb, al optar por la muerte antes que por la ley, trató de matarse con veneno; pero el médico que le atiende no tenía todavía anoche la seguridad de que falleciera el envenenado.

Yate a la Deriva

Causó ayer alguna ansiedad en el puerto de Los Angeles el mensaje encontrado en una botella, y que decía que el yate gasolinero "Helene" se hallaba sin gasolina en alta mar. De dicho mensaje se corrió traslado a la Aduana Federal, por más que había duda sobre cuál sería la embarcación que se hallaba desamparada. El aviso, que fué recogido en el puerto de Newport, dice así: "Agosto 30, noroeste de la isla de San Clemente, 8 p.m. Sin gasolina. Yate de motor Helene".

Todos los "Helenes" y "Helens" del puerto de Los Angeles se encontraban fondeados allí, o se sabía por dónde andaban; pero, a ese pesar, las autoridades aduanales dijeron que el mensaje podía referirse a una gasolinera de cuarenta y dos pies, que lleva tal nombre, y que posee el señor J. C. McKay, de Seattle.

DEPORTES

Boxeo

Tod Morgan y Harry Wallach, ese par de púgiles que son tan bien recibidos como el sarampión entre los demás pesoplumas del país, combatirán esta noche a diez asaltos en el "Million-dollar Olympic Auditorium".

El título de Morgan, de campeón de la costa del Pacífico, se halla en peligro, y de allí que este boxeador se las vaya a ver esta noche por primera vez con un pugilista zurdo.

El otro número del programa es la pelea de Billy Bonillas, la última sensación mejicana, con Sammy Shack, el pesogallo de Nueva York, de quien Pancho Villa decía que sería el próximo campeón mundial.

Passenger Has Sound Nap in Speeding Plane

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.— Hopping off at Mitchel Field, Long Island, on his way to the Pitcairn Flying Field, Bryn Athyn, Lieut. L. J. MacWilliams, an army pilot, turned to his passenger in the rear cockpit of his airplane and said: "Make yourself comfortable."

The passenger curled up in the cockpit and went to sleep. He was still asleep when the plane landed at the Bryn Athyn field.

"I take him up so often an airplane ride means nothing in his life," Lieut. MacWilliams explained as he patted the head of his passenger—a German police dog he had acquired overseas during the World War.

DOG RITES OFFICER, OWNER DRAWS FINE

NEW YORK.—A fine of $5 was imposed in Jefferson Market Court by Magistrate Goodman on Victor Klantz of 515 West Forty-first street for allowing his dog to roam the streets unmuzzled. The dog created a disturbance at Forty-first street and Tenth avenue when it bit Patrolman O'Brien of the West Thirtieth-street Station. The animal had become frightened when struck by an automobile.

A. BULLOCK WEBSTER DEL MONTE THREAT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DEL MONTE, Sept. 8.—Even though the field which will tee off in the California amateur golf championship at Del Monte, the 13th to the 20th inst., is perhaps the most brilliant and representative that has ever taken part in this event, the chances of the present playing through titleholder, Capt. A. Bullock Webster, should not be minimized. He is thoroughly familiar with the Pebble Beach links and this morning cracked off a 69 with every putt down on the old Del Monte course. He practically threw away two strokes on the sixth, taking a discouraging six. But even so he was out in 34, three under par. His card follows:

Mr. Vance once more stepped into the calcium's glare yesterday when he almost pitched a perfect game against the Phillies, whom he held to one hit—a single by Chicken Hawkes. Only twenty-seven men faced Vance. Barfoot, who was recently sold to the Detroit Tigers, turned in his twenty-second win of the season yesterday by subduing the Salt Lake Bees, 4 to 3.

PONDER WALKS WINNING RUN ACROSS IN EIGHTH

Barfoot Gets Best of Hurling Duel to Turn in Twenty-second Win; Kerr, Sheehan Hit Homers

BY ROBERT RAY

It was the old, old story of the young man straying away from home and meeting with misfortune yesterday at Washington Park, where the Vernon Tigers nosed out Salt Lake's Bees, 4 to 3, in the series opener.

Elmer Ponder, Bee twirler, played the principal role of the heart-rending drama, losing control in the eighth inning and walking over the run that broke a 3-to-3 tie and decided the game. Had Mr. Ponder kept his offerings around the home plate, all would have been well, but, failing to profit by the experience of Yukon Jake and a host of other misguided young men, Elmer elected to sow his wild oats outside of strike territory, so the home nine won.

Clyde Barfoot, Vernon's "winningest" pitcher, upheld the Vernon side of the mound duel, turning in his twenty-second victory of the season. Barfoot refused to let his pitches wander away from the old homestead and as a result was rewarded with another win to his already lengthy string. Like the girl who walked home, Barfoot won a moral victory also.

Everything was tied up tighter than traffic at a department store on bargain day when the Bengals came up in their half of the eighth inning. After retiring Walbeck and Wolfer, Ponder grew reckless, walking McDowell and Oliver to start himself on the downward. Evar Swanson bounced an infield hit just out of Vitt's reach, and the bases were filled. Ponder again felt the wild urge of adventure and walked Wes Griffin, forcing in McDowell with the marker that decided between right and wrong.

BEES OFF IN FRONT

The Bees, who outhit the Tigers by an 8-to-7 margain, got off in front by scoring a run in the opening inning. Johnny Frederick raised the first welt on the Tiger anatomy by punching a single to right, taking second on Vitt's infield out, stealing third, and scoring on Les Sheehan's sacrifice fly to the center-field jungles.

Ruben Ellis's playful pets came right back with three runs in their half of the inning, which Jack

POSTING OF WILLS CASH POSTPONED

Negro Unable to Put Up Check for Dempsey Bout Because of Illness

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Illness in Harry Wills's family, which required his presence in a local hospital most of the day, prevented the posting with the New York State Boxing Commission of the negro challenger's $25,000 forfeit to bind a match between himself and Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship of the world.

This money in the form of a certified check, will probably be placed in the hands of the commission by Paddy Mullins, manager of Wills, at the meeting of the commission to be held Friday morning. Jack Kearns, who still insists that he is manager of Dempsey, and who has already handed the board his certified check for $25,000, is due here from the Pacific Coast Thursday morning, and it would not be surprising if he and Rickard were to visit the commission on Friday with Mullins and Wills. Rickard's $25,000 forfeit has been in the hands of the commission for several weeks.

Rickard was confident that Mullins would file his check with the commission today and was obviously disappointed and surprised when he heard that Paddy had failed to do so.

NATIONAL NET PLAY SOON

Fifty-two Americans and Twelve Foreigners Entered in Men's Tourney Next Week

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Fifty-two American players and twelve foreign stars, representing five nations, will compete in the men's national tennis championship on the turf courts of the West Side Tennis Club at Forest Hills next week.

Eight Americans and six foreigners were seeded in the draw which was held at the Bankers' Club today. While the field is representative of every section of the country, California is not sending its full strength as in years past.

Seven of the first ten ranking stars are entered, but such stars as Harvey Snodgrass of Los Angeles, Clarence J. Griffin of San Francisco, and John Hennessey of Indianapolis, are among the missing.

The American seeded players, in the order of their ranking, include the defending champion, William T. Tilden II of Philadelphia; William M. Johnston of San Francisco; Vincent Richard of Yonkers, N. Y.; Howard O. Kinsey of San Francisco; R. Norris Williams II of Philadelphia; B. I. C. Norton of St. Louis; Dr. George King of New York, and Wallace F. Johnson of Philadelphia.

The foreigners, who were seeded in the draw include Jean Borotra of France; Rene La Coste of France; Manuel Alonso of Spain; James O. Anderson of Australia; T. Harda of Japan, and J. Brugnon of France.

DAVIS CUP STARS TUNE UP FOR PLAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Tuning up for their battle for international tennis supremacy this week-end, all members of the United States and French Davis Cup teams practiced today at the Germantown Cricket Club.

Fresh from their sensational triumph over the Australians at Forest Hills, the French aces, Jean Borotra and Rene La Coste, took the courts soon after the quartet of Americans, Tilden, Johnston, Richards and Capt. Williams, had finished a brisk workout.

While America's line-up is believed to have been decided upon, with Tilden and Johnston bearing the singles burden and Richards and Williams slated for the doubles task, no official selection has yet been made.

The singles line-up will not be disclosed officially until tomorrow when the rival captains meet here with Julian S. Myrick, chairman of the Davis Cup committee, to make the draw for the opening two matches Thursday.

DEAL FOR WARNER IS DELAYED

Jackie Will Report to Detroit as Soon as Man Sent to Take Place

Jackie Warner will leave to join the Detroit Tigers for the last part of the American League season as soon as Ty Cobb's club sends a player out to fill the third-base position for Vernon, it was announced last night by Howard Lorenz, business manager of the Bengals.

Frank Navin, owner of the Detroit squad, wants Warner to try out with his American League club for the balance of the year in order that he might find out just how good the young third-sacker is. Eddie Maier, owner of the Vernon club, wants Jackie to get his chance in the big leagues, but he has wired back to Detroit stating that Warner cannot leave until Navin sends some one here to fill up the local infield.

The Tigers are badly crippled, nine men being on the hospital list. Otherwise, Warner would be sent east immediately.

It is possible that Ducky Jones, a third-sacker, who went up to Detroit from the Coast League, will be sent here by Detroit so that Warner can get away.

SID NICHOLS RETURNS

Occidental Football Coach Back From Mid-West Trip; Tigers' First Practice Tuesday

BY BRAVEN DYER

Sid Nichols, Occidental College football coach, returned yesterday from the Mid-west, where he had spent most of the summer. The Tiger mentor is all set to open the grid season Tuesday when the Bengals will take their first workout.

Unless struck by injuries or pestilence, the Oxy eleven should sweep through the Southern California Conference this season. Nichols lost only Dave Ridderhof and Chubby Creighton of the regulars. His team finished second to Eugene Nixon's championship Pomona College outfit, the Sagehens winning the final game of the season, 31 to 21, after a thrilling battle. Nixon has but two veterans with which to start a team this fall.

Oak Smith will handle the Occidental freshmen this fall while Dewey Lyle is slated to act as Nichols's right-hand man with the varsity.

In addition to U.S.C., most of the Southern California Conference teams will swing into action next Tuesday. Pomona is the only institution which will not be represented on the gridiron that day. The Sagehens are slated for their first workout Wednesday.

Leo Calland, new Whittier College coach, is now established in the Poet town. With his wife he has taken up residence at 607 Franklin street. Leo hopes for big things this year, and with many veterans on hand really has the nucleus for a fine team. This is his first effort as a varsity coach. After finishing his playing career at U.S.C. Calland handled the frosh teams with great success.

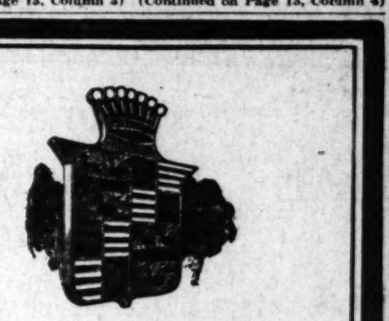
Leo has the honor of officially opening the local season, for his Whittier eleven is to meet U.S.C. in the first game of the double-header billed for two weeks from Saturday at the Coliseum.

JACK DEMPSEY AND CO. MAY BE NEW WALL STREET FIRM

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Jack Dempsey declares in an article in this week's Collier's that his field of endeavor after he is through with the ring will be Wall street and that he has already signed a partnership with Maurice Shewitt, head of a brokerage house at 20 Broad street.

"I'm going into the brokerage business. We'll start a firm as Jack Dempsey & Co., before I'm through. I've already drawn up a partnership with Maurice Shewitt, and in a few years I'll be permanently trading bonds and stocks instead of jabs and hooks. I've learned a good deal about the investment business through my own operations and with Shewitt I'll make a life's work of the game."



The Cadillac V-type motor is admittedly more difficult and costly to build than other types. But this extra manufacturing cost is justified by operating economy, dependability and long life that no other type of eight can equal.

CHAPTER XI

Odds and Ends of College Finance

[Copyright, 1925, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

In some ways the universities of the "big-time" football competition are like the man who caught the bear by the tail and couldn't let him go.

When a college gets a big stadium, it has to get the crowds; to get the crowds it has to win games; to win games it has to get players; to get players it has to find jobs and scholarships — there's no end to it.

Here's a school which last year had a stadium which seated 40,000 persons. This year it has a stadium which seats 110,000. Bonds have been sold for the building of the stadium, and it has to pay. At this stage football begins to take on many of the adjuncts and appurtenances of big business.

Building big stadia has become a sort of epidemic in America. The total investment in these structures runs into an astounding number of millions.

There is a more or less standard formula in getting them under way. The first move is to tap some millionaire, after whom the field will be named, for a big donation. Perhaps a memorial gate, bearing the name of the donor, will yield a big slice of the construction funds. Then begins a drive for funds organized as scientifically as a Liberty-bond drive. The community is, of course, aware of the advertising value of a big stadium, and business and professional men are carefully run down. The undergraduate body is drained dry. There is a patriotic fervor in the enterprise. The town and college rise up and put it across, even if they have scraped the community as clean as the floor of Death Valley.

Fortunately, the fire department always requires a big squad of ushers for the new stadium. This enables us to take care of a good many boys. All the ushers are chosen from the undergraduates. There is a head usher, with an assistant for each of, say, about fifteen sections, in the average stadium. In addition there are three ushers at large. These boys get their lunch, a half-dozen tickets and from $15 to $20 for each game. Thus, eight games figure about $160. That's a lot for a college boy. These jobs usually go to track or baseball or basketball athletes, who need a little lift over the grade.

In addition, there are from 100 to 150 general ushering jobs. They rate one lunch, one ticket and $1. These small bones are usually tossed to the "greasy grinders"—Phi Beta Kappas and others.

WARDING OFF COMPETITION

Usually a big stadium, in being projected, built and maintained, may be depended upon to get the college milling around in some kind of a row with the local politicians. I remember the case of a big eastern university where, after the college stadium had been proposed, it was announced that the city was going to build a big stadium directly across the street. This, of course, would have been fatal to the college enterprise. The graduate manager, as a part of his job, had kept close in with the members of the City Council. Through one of his political allies on the Council, he learned that the city had not procured the land on which it intended to build, but that it was preparing to get options. The graduate manager moved in quickly, optioned the ground, and eventually succeeded in driving the municipal stadium to a remote section of the city.

A lack of similar alertness on the part of the college management allowed a city stadium to go up in the vicinity of the campus of a big western university. I am told that the university has suffered a great deal from this competition.

As I was writing this, I was interrupted by a telephone call from a "councillor" in one of our summer camps. This brings to mind a bit of managerial enterprise of interest to the readers of this series, which I might otherwise have overlooked.

JOBS IN SUMMER CAMPS

It is a part of a graduate manager's job to organize one or more summer camps. These camps are in part self-supporting, and in part financed by wealthy men—usually alumni. Boys of well-to-do families, usually lads in the grammar grades, are sent to the camps. The cost is around $350 for each boy, for the ten-week period. We—that is, the football management—head in with a supply of "councillors."

The councillors are high-school or college boys who must be supplied with pleasant jobs or—and this is often of much greater importance—kept under cover during the summer season. Their work is to help maintain the general morale of the camps and train the smaller boys in the usual routine of athletics and outdoor exercise.

HELEN WILLS WINS THRILLING MATCH FROM HOWARD LANGLIE

BY BLANCHE K. ASHBAUGH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—The best tennis match that has been seen, or probably that will be seen, in the California State tennis championship tournament was an impromptu match between Helen Wills, national champion, and Howard Langlie of Seattle, Washington State junior champion, arranged today for the benefit of Mrs. Charles Dawes, wife of the Vice-President, and her party. At the last minute Mrs. Dawes was unable to attend, but she was represented by her daughter, Mrs. Milvia Ericson of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. S. W. Terry. Miss Wills will play a singles match against Ila Wilcox of Santa Clara at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

The score of the match was 8-6, 6-1 in favor of the national champion, whose play impressed very favorably Mrs. Ericson. The match was witnessed by a small gallery as no public announcement had been made of the match. The tennis that Miss Wills played was the best that she has done for some time and the match was replete with hard driving by both players. The national champion was too steady for the Washington champion, who was out to beat the Berkeley girl. He played every stroke that he knew and he knows all of the strokes used by the best of the players, but he had nothing good enough. Langlie is considered so good by Bill Tilden that the Seattle youth has been invited by Tilden to go east next year and become a member of what is known as "Tilden's touring players." Langlie has accepted the invitation.

Louise McFarland of Pasadena, the "Helen Jacobs of the south," was the first player in the tournament of the 500 entered, to reach the semifinal round in any event. She occupies the semibracket in the girls under 16 by virtue of a defeat of Adeline Brohm, 4-6, 8-6, 6-4. Earlier in the day Miss Brohm had the honor of eliminating a seeded player, Josephine Crookshank, in the girls' national hard-court event. The match was a hard-fought three-setter, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

round. Delaney, outweighed about fifteen pounds, began to feel the effects of Fitz's wrestling tactics and was pounded severely about the body. The eighth was even, but in the ninth Fitz landed a short left hook on Delaney's chin that weakened the St. Paul fighter perceptibly.

There wasn't much to choose between the two in the tenth frame, and Referee Ernie Clark did not hesitate in raising Delaney's hand.

OLD JEFF IS PRESENT

Before the main event started Jim Jeffries and Tommy Ryan, famous champions of their day, were introduced, and a young gent by the name of Knute Hansen, announced as champion of the Orient, challenged the winner.

Frank Muskie gave Lou Rollinger a thorough pasting in the semi-wind-up, Lou receiving a poke in the second round that raised a lump on his left eye as big as the one Ace Hudkins reared on Joe Benjamin. Both boys nearly put each other out in the second round, but Muskie took control of the affair from then on.

A courageous youth from San Francisco, Dick Dundee, was left-hooked to pieces by Billy Vincent, but arose from the mire of defeat ever and anon to unload nasty rights on Billy's head. The latter knew he had been in a fight before the fray was over, though Dundee took more punishment than the ordinary guy can stand.

William Henry's dark pride from Santa Monica, K. O. Henry Brown, was robbed by Referee Ralph Davis. Henry won every round from Paul Duarte, but Davis gave the latter the verdict. Davis now qualifies for a berth in the Retirement League. He was roundly booed by the fans. Brown displayed a nice left and a potent right. He had Duarte sick in the last two rounds.

The curtain-raiser went to Danny McCoy, who defeated Scottie McGlickie. The latter was knocked to the floor twice with short right jabs to the chin in the second round.

BABE RUTH CONNECTS FOR NINTH HOME RUN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BOSTON, Sept. 8.—Babe Ruth lost no time in getting into his batting clothes following his reinstatement by Manager Huggins of the Yankees yesterday. In the first inning of the second game today against the Red Sox the Babe caught one of Pitcher Ross's curves right on the nose for a four-ply swat. It was Ruth's ninth homer of the season.

HONEY COPS MEDAL IN OPTIMISTS' PLAY

Marshall, Thompson and McIlroy Tie for Low Net in Regular Association Event at Brentwood Club; Politz Set for Amateur at Del Monte

BY BILL WISE

A. H. Honey golfed through a bunch of boosting fellow Optimists with an 84, to win low gross honors in the regular association golf tourney, held at the Brentwood Club yesterday. Willie Hunter's fast Brentwood course was in excellent shape and Honey's sterling medal speaks well for the golfing ability of the local Optimist.

Del Marshall came home with a 90—more than 200 local golfers 97-24-73, to tangle with H. P. Thompson's 93-20-73, and W. D. McIlroy's medal of 97 that also gave him a net score of 73, in the tourney that found a large number of Optimists shooting for the many beautiful prizes that were offered.

Os golfers, the Optimists are cutting a wide streak in local club circles and number upon their membership rolls, some of the best golfers in this vicinity. Every event always draws a good entry and the play at Brentwood yesterday found members hotly contesting every trophy.

POLITZ PLANNING FOR DEL MONTE EVENTS

Herman Politz

While Politz is still planning to have completed arrangements to leave for Del Monte this week and will join the record field from the north that will also start drifting down the Coast this week.

Herman Politz of the Hillcrest club, one of the most popular and hard-working members of the local golfing fraternity, is planning to leave for the annual California amateur golf championship at Del Monte next week. Politz shares with others, the honors of having played in seven former title events at the northern resort and hopes to qualify in this year's classic.

Aside from the fact that George Von Elm, California's greatest amateur, Allen Mosser, the finest golfing junior in the State, Capt. A. Bullock-Webster, present State title-holder, Norman MacBeth and Dr. Paul Hunter, both former State and southern champions, may be counted upon to bring the State title back to Los Angeles, thousands of golf fans from the north and northwest are expecting Chandler Egan to do the same thing. San Francisco is depending upon George Ritchie, Johnnie McHugh and others to upset the dope for the crown and there are at least twenty other representative champions who may come through in the greatest golf championship the West has ever known.

Entries must be filed by Saturday and there is still an outside chance that Bobby Jones, one of the greatest golfers in the world, may yet come to Del Monte for the titular battle.

$100,000 GOLF COURSE

Pensacola voters authorized a $100,000 eighteen-hole golf course at the Osceola Club. It will be a boon to the sport, already popular along the Florida Coast.

CHICAGO BEATS LEAGUE LEADER

Giants Cop Opener, But Weaken and Drop Second

Cincinnati Defeats Reds 10 to 1 to Take Series

Yanks Get Two; Indians and Tigers Both Win

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BROOKLYN, Sept. 8.—Brooklyn continued its battle to remain in the first division today by taking two games of a double-header from Philadelphia, 1 to 0, and 4 to 3, the second contest going ten innings.

Dazzy Vance of the Brooklyn Robins, king pitcher of the National League, came within a lone hit of hurling a perfect game in the first section of a double-header with the Phillies today. Only twenty-seven batters faced him in the nine innings as he shut out Arthur Fletcher's club in a pitching duel with Pierce, 1 to 0.

The lone bingle off Vance's delivery, a clean single to right by Chick Hawks, came with one out in the second inning. Wrightstone, the next batter, filed to Brown and Hawks was later thrown out trying to steal second.

Wrightstone's hoist was the last ball hit out of the infield by the Phillies until the ninth, when Fonseca lifted to Cox, and Wendell Wade to Brown. By fanning six batters, Vance increased his season's strike-out record to 204. The victory marked his twenty-first triumph this year.

Vance mounted the pitching slab today after but two days' rest. Burleigh Grimes twirled effectively in the second game and aided his own cause with a hit which scored the winning run. Scores:

Home runs by Kelly and Frisch aided the Giants in the first game, Jack Scott, who hurled the entire game for New York, weakening in the eighth and the Braves coming from behind to win. Scores:

WILLS DEFERS POSTING CASH

weight champion pugilist, said here tonight he would leave tomorrow or Thursday for Chicago to attend a meeting the 17th inst., at which the whole question of his meeting Harry Wills for the title will be threshed out.

Dempsey, who boxed two exhibition matches here yesterday, left tonight for Los Angeles. He said that most of the talk about his attitude toward Wills and his relations with Jack Kearns, his former manager, was nonsense.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER
BILL HENRY

WHILE the public seems to be getting all worked up over the various wild and woolly reports as to what Howard Jones is going to do with his football team, Brother Jones continues saying nothing whatsoever. This is both unique and satisfactory. It gives the boys who like to spread rumors a swell chance to use their own imaginations and it gives Mr. Jones an opportunity to get the public reaction—if he wants it—without having expressed himself one way or the other. Personally, we would not be at all surprised if Mr. Jones had the same guys Henderson had out there playing the same positions. Neither would we be surprised if the team was upset from end to end. We will be surprised, however, if the team doesn't play first-class football.

Well, we can imagine that the French nation came pretty close to pushing the Eiffel Tower over into the River Seine when the good news came through that Borotra and Lacoste had earned the right to challenge America for the Davis Cup. The French are exceedingly proud of the feats of their tennis players, and will be full of confidence that they will do the same thing to America that they did to Australia. On form shown at Boston, the Americans ought to win five straight matches, but the French, particularly young Mr. Borotra, are not prone to be worried by form and dope. Borotra is the fiery type of player, who might be wiped off the map by Tilden, or, if he hit one of his streaks, accomplish the downfall of the American champion.

Speaking of famous comebacks, what's the matter with that of Viola Hartman, the L.A.A.C. mermaid? Four or five years ago she was a great star and had even more promise than she had class at that time—in other words, her future seemed to be all ahead of her. And then she became ill and didn't compete for a long stretch of months. After a while she started to swim again, just a shadow of the husky girl who had shown so much promise before. Her feat of breaking the Southern California 440-yard record the other day was a real accomplishment, and from all appearances she is going to live up to all the promise she showed in the old days.

Harvey Snodgrass certainly had the toughest kind of luck when he pulled a muscle in his shoulder and was forced to give up his eastern campaign on the grass courts. This looked like his best year. He had beaten Howard and Bob Kinsey before going East. Then he went to St. Louis and won the National clay-court doubles, beat Babe Norton in the singles and lost to Wray Brown, who beat George Lott. He lost a hard three-set match to Tilden in the Illinois State, and then won the Wisconsin and Midwest championships. He pulled a muscle which had previously been bothering him, and after losing his only grass-court appearance, came home to nurse the sore limb.

DOUBLE STAR BILL TONIGHT

Morgan Faces Wallach and Bonillas Meets Shack in Feature Attractions at Olympic Auditorium

Tod Morgan and Harry Wallach, a pair of fighters who are about as welcome as the measles among the other featherweights of the country, block and sock for ten rounds at the million-dollar Olympic Auditorium tonight.

Morgan's Pacific Coast title is at stake, and he is squaring off with a southpaw for the first time.

In the other half of the double main event, Billy Bonillas, the newest Mexican sensation, steps ten rounds with Sammy Shack, the New York bantamweight, picked by the late Pancho Villa as the coming world champion. This is a return engagement, the pair having traveled to a thrilling six-round draw a month ago.

MORGAN ALWAYS ON TOP

Morgan hasn't lost a start in two and a half years, and he has made forty of them during that period. Included among his victims are Stewart McLean, Bud Ridley, Danny Nunes and "California Joe" Lynch. Each was at his peak when he succumbed to "the Vallejo Buzz Saw."

Wallach, who trimmed Jackie Fields as an amateur boy in Boston a year and a half ago, won ninety-six consecutive contests as a simon pure. Since turning professional he has finished in front of Johnny Vestry, Sammy Marino, Ted Blatt and Harold Plude, all capable performers. Joe Gorman, Babe Picato and Patsy Flannigan have trailed Wallach since he reported for duty in California, while Billy Wallace was held even.

Billy Bonillas's victory over Georgie Rivers a week ago has made "the terror of the sticks" a tremendous attraction. Shack is a busy workman, so "the Taft typhoon" will have his hands full.

GRID HERO IN BOUT

Hayden Phythian, the former University of Southern California football hero, will attempt to wade through Terry Adams in the six-round special. They are middleweights. Sailor Carter and Roy Harper, a strange welterweight from Seattle, have it out in the opening four-round debate.

CROP ESTIMATE ON COTTON CUT

Decrease of 250,000 Bales Shown in Report

Sharp Decline Attributed to Heat and Drought

Wide Area in Southern Belt Is Hardest Hit

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The cotton crop declined to the extent of 250,000 bales in the fortnight ending the 1st inst. The Department of Agriculture today forecast this year's production at 13,740,000 equivalent 500-pound bales from conditions on that date.

A production of 13,990,000 bales was forecast from August 16 condition. Last year's crop totaled 13,627,986 bales.

The condition of the crop on the 1st inst. was 56.2 per cent of a normal, indicating a yield of 141.5 pounds per acre. On August 16 the condition was 62.0 and indicating a yield of 144.1 pounds.

The condition last year on the 1st inst. was 59.3 and the final yield per acre last year was 157.4 pounds.

GINNINGS HIGH

Cotton of this year's crop ginned prior to the 1st inst. totaled 1,892,549 running bales, counting round as half-bales, the Census Bureau announced. To that date last year 947,494 bales had been ginned, and in 1923 ginnings to that date totaled 1,143,660 bales.

The condition of the cotton crop on the 1st inst. and the indicated production by States include:

North Carolina, 68, and 1,132,000.
South Carolina, 46, and 830,000.
Georgia, 55, and 983,000.
Alabama, 65, and 1,024,000.
Mississippi, 74, and 1,350,000.
Louisiana, 67, and 644,000.
Texas, 43, and 3,851,000.
Oklahoma, 61, and 1,520,000.
Arkansas, 69, and 1,368,000.
New Mexico, 88, and 59,000.
Arizona, 92, and 89,000.
California, 90, and 112,000.

About 80,000 bales, not included in these statistics, are being grown in Lower California (Old Mexico.)

SMITH HIT

The decline of 250,000 bales in the indicated production was ascribed by the crop-reporting board to have been due chiefly to drought and high temperatures.

In South Carolina rainfall from April 1 to August 31, last, has been the lowest in over thirty-nine years, and the drought has stopped plant growth and caused heavy shedding of cotton. Extension of the drought into Eastern North Carolina during the last two weeks is reported, and in the northern part of Georgia the drought is still unbroken. In some of the counties of Northern Georgia the cotton crop will not pay for the fertilizer used.

The crop in the large drought area in Texas was practically beyond recovery half a month ago. Dry and hot weather during the last two weeks, with damaging effects to the crop, is reported from Arkansas, Missouri and especially Tennessee.

Considerable changes from present indications are still possible, depending on subsequent weather conditions and insect damage, the board stated.

GENERAL PETROLEUM PLANS

New Financing to Provide Capital For Extension of Retail Distribution on Pacific Coast

BY CARL P. MILLER

Further extension of the storage and retail distribution facilities of the General Petroleum Corporation on the Pacific Coast, which will place the company in a strong strategic position in the petroleum industry, is evidenced through the recent announcement of new bond financing of the company. Blyth, Witter & Co., who purchased the issue of $18,000,000 first mortgage bonds of the company late last week, anticipates the offering of the securities to the public within the next week or two, according to word received from New York yesterday.

Although, it is stated that this financing involves the retirement of the present 7 per cent first mortgage bonds of the company, it is believed that approximately $10,000,000 of the new issue will be used to complete the company's program for construction of additional tanks, reservoirs and distribution facilities, including the repayment of bank loans heretofore made for this purpose.

The General Petroleum Corporation, about two years ago, inaugurated a new policy of retail distribution of its refined petroleum products and during this two years it has built up extensive retail distribution throughout Washington, Oregon and Northern California. Prior to 1924, General Petroleum sold the entire output of its refinery at wholesale through contracts with other marketing companies.

The rapid increase in crude production, which has produced a surplus of refined products over the requirements of the Pacific Coast territory, has made it advisable for the company to secure a new outlet. The company made its first move toward retail distribution in December of 1923. Its early activities in this field were on a moderate scale and were limited to the territory surrounding Seattle, Wash.

The company's policy included the marketing of gasoline and lubricants under its own name, but through independent service stations only. The company's products found almost instant favor with motorists in the Northwest and by the middle of 1924 the company opened at strategic points in Western Washington, shipments being made to these agencies by tank cars from the main Seattle station.

The success of distribution in Washington prompted the establishment of distribution facilities in the State of Oregon, and in August of 1924, deliveries were commenced from a modern plant erected at Portland. Deliveries to Seattle and Portland are made directly from the company's terminal at San Pedro in tanker lots. The growth in Portland was no doubt influenced by favorable results secured by Washington motorists and tank-truck deliveries in Portland equalled the Seattle figures within sixty days after the establishment of the Portland station.

ENTERS NEW FIELD

Late in 1924 the California field was entered and storage and distributing facilities were erected in San Francisco and Oakland. The Oakland plant is located at Parr Terminal and the San Francisco plant on Islais Creek. Local deliveries in San Francisco Bay district began early in 1925. Retail operations at the present time extend throughout Northern California, Washington and Oregon and the company is now ready to extend its distribution facilities into the Southern California territory.

It is the plan of the company to extend its distribution throughout the traffic territory of the Pacific Coast and to intensify its distribution in communities already served. The company will continue to pursue its policy of selling at retail through independent dealers and does not propose to enter directly in the operation of service stations. It will also continue its established policies of marketing a substantial portion of its refined output in cargo lots.

It is the expectation of the company that as the oil output of the Pacific Coast decreases, the company's cargo-lot sales will be reduced so that eventually its retail sales will equal the output of its refinery.

The General Petroleum Corporation now serves approximately 1500 independent dealers in more than 400 towns through forty-five distributing plants. Marine stations are also located at Los Angeles Harbor, Portland, Seattle and Ketchikan, Alaska, for marketing refined products to fishing and pleasure craft.

The company's expansion program of the last year has included the leasing of approximately 1,500,000 barrels of additional storage space from other companies, bringing the combined concrete and steel storage capacity of the company on the Pacific Coast to slightly more than 18,500,000 barrels.

MOODY SAYS TRADE SKIES KEEP CLEAR

Effect of Coal Strike Declared Negligible in Weekly Review

Moody's Weekly Review of Financial Conditions in its current issue says in part:

The anthracite strike has begun without much effect upon the stock and bond markets. This strike is not great enough to disturb these markets and, besides, as to business in general, the main question is whether labor troubles are going to be widespread enough to cause any great rise in operating costs.

Overoptimism in the stock market is passing, but simultaneously the country is becoming more prosperous. There may be reasons any time for a temporary reaction, but we do not see any sufficient causes for a long decline.

Railroad equipment orders are now coming forward, as they often do at this season, and the outlook is for improving earnings for both car and locomotive companies.

It requires imagination to appreciate the railway development of the South. There manufacturing industries are building up, mining is growing faster than elsewhere, agriculture is being diversified, and both traffic and earnings are growing as they formerly did in the West.

London Daily Radio

BY WIRELESS—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

(Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The steady tone in financial markets was preserved today with gilt-edge stocks firm and rails dull.

Outpourings at the Trade Union Congress, although chiefly generalisations, indicate the difficulty of the leaders in preserving unity on the question of whether the general council should be vested with autocratic powers as urged by the radical element. The point at issue is whether the council can determine the policies and declare strikes without consulting members.

The extremists are up against the fact that the affiliated trade unions represent only 4,500,000 out of 15,500,000 workers.

Brazilian and Chinese bonds continue in demand, while buying in good volume was apparent in Courtaulds and Bradford Dyers. Tobacco shares were firmer, but oils were neglected.

Sterling opened weak, while French francs held steady. The forward lira rate continues to recede, owing to the position produced by Italian exchange regulations.

Active speculation in mining shares is increasing, with reports of favorable developments in deepening previously low-grade properties.

The production of rubber for the next twelve months is estimated by the British Consul at Para at 39,000 tons, against 24,500 tons in the last year. Labor is being attracted from agriculture by higher prices.

Settlements served to restrict market operations to some extent, although several speculative issues were active. Platts Textile Machinery Makers rose in response to acceptance of Russian orders. The company was virtually the only one which accepted Russian contracts. The credit terms were not disclosed.

VISIBLE GRAIN REPORT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels:

Wheat, increased—2,483,000.
Corn, increased 165,000.
Oats, increased 7,450,000.
Rye, increased 289,000.
Barley, increased 853,000.

ELECTRICAL BUSINESS IS IMPROVING

Conditions Reported Good on Pacific Coast; Power Company Buying Quiet

Improved electrical business with the approaching fall continues to be reflected in the reports from various sections of the country. The attitude of electrical manufacturers is one of optimism, and from all sides comes the report that the volume of sales all summer has held up remarkably well. The number of inquiries in the market presages an increasing volume of business for the rest of the year, according to Electrical World, New York.

On the Pacific Coast good business is reported but without spectacular orders. Power company buying has been quiet, though three carloads of thirty-five foot poles and a 10,000 piece pole line hardware order are reported from the Bay District and from the interior a $2000 assortment of conduit weatherproof wire and 3000 watt heaters. Miscellaneous supply orders from contractors are in good quantities. The cheaper convenience outlets and toggle switches are moving especially well, and vigorous selling campaigns are being waged on diverse lines such as metal molding and electrical hollow ware.

Good business is reported by appliance business jobbers. Prices in rigid iron conduit boxes and fittings have decreased about 10 per cent. Rubber-covered wire is stronger. A few good orders were placed by central-station companies in various sections, one order covering large power plant equipment in the East. There is an active demand for street lighting equipment and many new installations are projected or under way. Motor manufacturers state that sales are ahead of those for last year, and the demand bids fair to continue good.

In New England a quickening trend in sales is noted with an active demand for most kinds of electrical supplies and equipment. Street lighting equipment is selling well in that territory. Sales in Industrial plants in New York district continues steady and are holding up well. Orders from central-station companies in that section include a large order for powerhouse equipment with many smaller orders in good volume. In the Southeast the volume of line construction work is creating a satisfactory demand for construction materials and business in all lines of trade has improved. The outlook is improving in the Middle West and purchasing by central-station companies is in good volume.

Lumber Trade Strengthened by Buying Here

An outstanding feature of the Pacific Coast lumber market during the past two weeks has been the strength of the California trade, according to the West Coast Lumberman. At Los Angeles prices have advanced on practically all items, and bullish reports continue to come out of that territory, a section of the country that has been chronically pessimistic for the past couple of years. Notwithstanding heavy receipts of lumber at San Pedro, stocks have been moving off the docks and into yards and consumption at an astonishing rate. In fact, best authorities agree that it has been a long time since the Southern California market has been in an active, healthy and buoyant a condition as it is right now.

In view of the present improved condition of that market, there seems to be every reason to believe that business will stay good in that section all winter. The San Francisco trade is brisk. California will take more lumber during the second half of the year than during the first half. The State will take more lumber than shippers had anticipated.

The Safe Way To Borrow Money

When you borrow, get a loan with a sensible system of repayment. To keep on paying interest on the same old loan year after year is discouraging because it gets you nowhere. To be able to reduce your loan gradually and constantly is encouraging and gratifying. You know, then, that by a certain definite date the loan will be completely wiped out. In the meantime you pay less interest each month—and more on the principal.

This sort of loan is of greater benefit and will save money for you. It is the most satisfactory way to handle a loan.

Borrow from us. We loan money on improved residence property for any legitimate purpose. You repay the money in convenient monthly installments that include both interest and principal.

This Association has enjoyed a reputation for safe, sound, constructive business methods since 1889. An institution that will give you courteous service and fair treatment. If you want money to build a home or remove existing encumbrances see us. Call or write for particulars.

Questions of Utmost Importance to Railroad Security Holders to Come Up for Discussion at Rate Hearings in Chicago, as Fight On Potter Plan Looms.

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

(Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—As a rule, Interstate Commerce Commission hearings attract little attention outside of railroad circles and are usually of only casual interest to the general public. The so-called western rate hearing, which opens in Chicago today, however, is of more than passing interest to thousands of holders of railroad securities, especially those interested in carriers of the Northwest.

This hearing gains importance from the fact that a new principle of adjusting rates will be put forward which has as its aim the abolition of receivership—a virtual guarantee to security holders that by means of "pooled" earnings the worth of their stocks and bonds will be protected. The plan, conceived by Mark W. Potter, is so ingenious that in many quarters it is regarded as "too good to be true."

In behalf of the plan it has been said that under its operation, earnings of the bankrupt St. Paul would be so largely increased that not only would fixed charges be met and the receivership lifted, but the stocks would be placed on a dividend basis so securely that their value would closely approach par.

FINANCIERS OBJECT

The fact that such a proposal is to be considered at the hearing lifts the usually dull formalities out of the ordinary. Moreover, Charles Evans Hughes has been retained by the St. Paul receivers to represent them in presenting the Potter plan to the commission, and the presence of the former Secretary of State will add authority to the discussions.

If the St. Paul, for instance, would benefit to such an extent through the Potter plan operation, the question might logically be asked, "Would not the more prosperous roads contributing to the pool be adversely affected?"

This is a vital point to which the commission will give thorough attention. Financial interests contend that the proposal smacks of sovietism, and that the financial structures of the now strongly intrenched northwestern carriers would be undermined to aid their weak rivals. Naturally, the prosperous roads are bitterly opposed to the plan and have engaged the best legal talent available to place their side of the argument before the commission.

Briefly, the plan calls for pooling an increase in rates in western territory and dividing it among the weaker lines in proportion to the amount they fall short of earning the fair return of 5 3-4 per cent set by the Transportation Act of 1920.

SHARP FIGHT LOOMS

Depending on the viewpoint of the individual, the plan seems eminently fair—or decidedly unjust. If the government attempts to say that earnings of 5 3-4 per cent are fair, should it not help the roads to earn this amount? If a rate increase is to be granted, would it not be fair to attempt to equalize earnings? On the other hand, opponents of the plan might ask: "If earnings of one road are to be taken for the benefit of another, what reward is held out for individual initiative and business judgment?" Considerable diplomacy will be necessary to adjust these divergent viewpoints.

Bankers, brokers and others who deal in railroad securities are keenly alive to the possibilities involved in the advancement of the Potter proposal; and all owners should be enough interested in their bonds and stocks to watch carefully the developments at the Chicago hearing.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Europeans Active

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The sustained strength of foreign obligations in the face of unsettlement in other sections of the list featured today's irregular bond market. Trading started with a burst of activity after the double holiday, but was later restricted by a sharp rise in the call-money rate, after which temporary conditions were considered responsible.

Buying of European bonds, however, continued unabated, reaching sufficient volume in the German government and some of the French city issues, to push prices to new peaks for the year. Crossing 99, the German 7s sold about 7 1-2 points above the low level of the year touched last spring. Other active features were the French railroad liens, the Belgian issues and the Chinese railway 5s. With the foreign financial situation brightening up, investment bankers said, buyers have turned to these bonds because of their attractive yields.

The stiffening of call money discouraged the accumulation of domestic bonds, except for a few railroad issues which offered speculative possibilities. Florida, Western and Northern 7s at one time sold 5 points above last week's closing, establishing a new high record at 159. About half this gain was lost before the close. Denver and Rio Grande Western 5s, International Great Northern adjustment 6s and "Big Four" 5s were among the other favored issues.

Withdrawal of funds from the money market by underwriters to meet payments on the $25,000,000 International Telephone bond issue sold last month, contributed to the hardening of money rates. The fact that these bonds are not "cleared" by the stock exchange until Thursday created a technical stringency which money experts said should soon be corrected. The higher rates, however, had a depressing effect on high-grade bonds, particularly Liberties and first rails.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices on bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and the total sales of each bond. These quotations are received over Associated Press wires, and by reputable transmission like closing prices in all cases are the low, and both low and close are omitted when they are same as the high.

STOCK MARKET GIVEN SETBACK

Advance of Call-Loan Rate Halts Upturn

Drop Follows Early Period of Brisk Bidding

Trading Interest Shifts to Cotton Exchange

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Marking up of the call-money rate from 4 to 5½ per cent turned the course of stock prices downward today after an earlier period of strength, marked by the brisk bidding up of a number of mail-order, motor and food shares. Total sales were about 1,250,000 shares.

Extensive calling of bank loans, which accompanied the higher money rates, was explained by the sharp deficit in reserve shown in last Saturday's clearinghouse statement, but there was a tendency in some quarters to interpret it as an effort on the part of banking interests to hold speculative operations within bounds.

Operators for the rise started to bid up stocks at the opening of the market on the theory that record-breaking freight traffic, bank clearings and other generally accepted indices of business gave promise of substantial earnings and favorable dividend developments of many stocks this fall. Bear traders, who were surprised at the sharp rebounding of the market in the closing days of last week, were cautious in extending their commitments, with the result that pools met with little opposition until after the money rate was advanced for the third time.

COTTON ATTRACTS

Speculative interests shifted from the stock to the cotton market on publication of a government report indicating a yield of 13,740,000 bales, or well below the average privae estimates. December futures advanced more than $5 a bale, selling as high as 23.73 cents a pound, but reacted on profit taking, the general market closing about $2.50 to $3 a bale higher.

Chrysler was the sensational feature of the motor group, soaring over 10 points to 149¾, or within a small fraction of the record high, and closing near the top. Pierce-Arrow common and preferred attained record high prices at 44¾ and 94, respectively, but canceled their gains and closed fractionally lower on the day. Nash Motors jumped 7 points on one sale.

Other outstanding industrial strong spots were California Packing, Coca Cola, Cudahy Packing, Fleischmann, Lima Locomotive, Sears-Roebuck and Ward Baking B, all of which closed about 2 to 5 points higher.

RAILS ACTIVE

A sudden demand for Kansas City Southern, which advanced about 4 points to a new high at 42¾, was one of the few features of the railroad group. Pittsburgh and West Virginia and Gulf, Mobile and Northern also broke through to new highs, but they failed to maintain their gains. Atlantic Coast Line closed a point higher at 189, after touching a new top at 192.

Call money renewed at 4 per cent and advanced successively to 4½, 5 and 5½. Time money and commercial-paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges were irregular with another sensational advance of 64 points in Norwegian kroner at 22.11 cents, the highest rate since the war, as the outstanding feature. Considerable interest also was manifested in another 10-point jump in Italian lire, which crossed 4.10 cents to the highest level since the government announced its restrictive program. Demand sterling yielded fractionally at 4.84¼, or just above the new "gold point."

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

The Palos Verdes Hills, which have been tested twice already, and are now being drilled by the Pacific Securities Company, are given another test well put down recently. The A. T. Jergins Company, which has a good producing well in the Signal Hill field, is moving up to drill about one mile north of the Narbonne wildcat of the Dohony interests. The Jergins holdings comprise forty-odd acres, and actual drilling will be started as soon as machinery and drilling equipment can be installed.

It was reported yesterday that the Pacific Petroleum Securities Company is preparing for a test of its property well, but officials of the company denied that any important showings have yet been made and asserted that the well is drilling ahead at 1049 feet. A string of surface casing was set at 600 feet last week.

Drilling Program

The Pacific Petroleum Securities Company has drilled its last well in the Seal Beach area at Inglewood, and its operations in that field at present are necessary maintenance and repair work. Crews are now busy pulling out Cone No. 3, Cone No. 4, Rubel and Dabney-Lloyd No. 6, to increase production, but this is the extent of activity on the Petroleum Securities holdings at present.

Recent Floatation of Municipal Loan by Munich, Germany Marks New Departure in Method of Financing Foreign Municipalities by American Banks.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. — Flotation of a loan here recently for the city of Munich, Germany, marked a new departure in the method of financing foreign municipalities, although that fact is probably not generally realized. Failure to take full cognisance of this most important revision, no doubt, is due to the fact that amortization of domestic municipal obligations by means of serial maturities has been practiced for a good many years.

Heretofore the sinking-fund method of redemption had been used by foreign cities, but the process of serial maturities would seem to hold greater advantages for the investor, and certainly for the city of issue. Under it the latter is enabled to obtain a much better price for bonds of the shorter maturities. Again, the payment of premiums is eliminated.

METHOD OF PAYMENT

The new loan, which is one of $8,700,000 bearing a 7 per cent coupon, will mature in annual installments of $435,000 from 1926 to 1945, inclusive. In this manner the entire obligation will have been liquidated for which the proceeds are to be used will have outlived their usefulness.

As a matter of fact some of the improvements to be made will be more or less permanent in character, as, for instance, extensions and additions to the municipal electric light and power plants, gas plants, waterworks, street railways, market buildings, all of which, incidentally, will result in increased revenues for the city.

BASED ON NEW MARK

These bonds will constitute the only external debt of the city, and furthermore it is the only funded debt incurred since the stabilization of the mark. Internal loans issued prior to the revamping of the fiscal system all depreciated severely with the decline in the mark. Provisions of the law for the revaluation of public securities to the liability of Munich on its previously contracted funded debt cannot exceed $15,000,000.

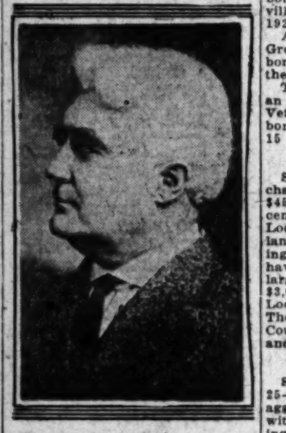
This issue is a direct obligation of the city, which has never pledged any of its property as security for a loan, but which has agreed that should it specifically pledge or mortgage any part of the properties or revenues to secure additional funded debt during the life of these bonds, they shall be equally and ratably secured with such future indebtedness.

FACTS ABOUT CITY

Munich is the capital of Bavaria and one of the principal cities of Germany, having been in existence since before the twelfth century. It is the center of an important system of railways reaching out to Paris, Vienna and Italy, and enjoys a large and profitable tourist trade. Official estimates place the amount of investment in industrial plants in excess of $3350,000,000.

All public service plants within its boundaries are municipally owned and operated, each one at a profit. Assets at the close of 1923 were estimated at $111,917,000, of which more than half comprised revenue-producing properties. Each year since 1900 there has been a surplus of revenues, with only one exception, that being 1916, when revenues and expenditures struck an approximate balance. These revenues are derived principally from municipally operated properties and from taxation. Actual revenues last year were $38,800,603 and expenditures $38,197,304, leaving a surplus of $603,299.

EX-CALIFORNIAN IN OIL KING ROLE



Fred E. Windsor

Fred E. Windsor, who was for a number of years connected with the petroleum industry of this State, but who is now a resident of Warren, Pa., has been chosen for the role of "King Petroleum" at the third annual International Petroleum Exposition which will be held at Tulsa, Okla., October 1 to 10, inclusive.

Col. Windsor was actively engaged in petroleum development in California for five years. He organized the United Development Company of California, which was the first locator on Southern Pacific Railroad lands, claiming oil as a mineral. He was president of the company after the death of George R. Roberts.

"Fred," the farm hand, tool dresser and oil scout; Fred Windsor, hero of Coamo during the Spanish American War; Fred E. Windsor, oil operator and road builder; Frederick Ernest Windsor, "King Petroleum of 1925." Thus reads the life of the new oil king, whose family dates back to the reigning house in England and whose forefathers came to America in 1617 and have been pioneers, not only in the oil industry, but in carving out the United States as well.

Windsor grew up in Meadville and Titusville, Pa., in the heart of the birthplace of the oil industry. At the age of 17 he struck out in Indian Creek-McKean Company oil fields. He worked his way up through every step of the industry, tool dressing, scouting, roustabouting, drilling, contracting, operating until he reached the top.

"King Petroleum" will rule the brilliant pageantry of the Exposition and the great spectacles, in which King Petroleum, "Queen Petrolia" and the princesses from the various oil-producing States will take part. This will be just one feature of the entertainment side of the exposition, said to be the greatest show ever held by a single industry.

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS

Short Sellers Forced to Pay Dearly for Their Folly

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
Copyright 1925 New York Evening Post, Inc.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Wall street today put some new high prices into its records, largely as the cost of folly of professional operators who had sold short countless issues through the list. It was the observation of Commission houses that many stocks were getting harder to borrow, and this indicated to the initiated a sterner hand to be applied to instances where the floating supply was well under control. Both rails and industrials had plenty of attention shot in their direction and apart from control buying occasionally attributed as a basic reason for action in specialities, there were forecasts of good earnings and the prospects of better dividends to come from a number of concerns.

Five per cent call money had its effect before the day was ended, but the market refused to stay put with no more of a battering ram than that afforded by the advancing price of funds. Price cuts in the oil industry were made. Copper showed signs of stiffening. Rail merger hearings were resumed and other incidents of relative value were featured for stock market purposes. Incidentally, wire houses which had been unusually bearish for the past ten days, easily could for the past ten days turned in morning advices to the theory that the coming fortnight easily could witness a repetition of new highs.

Temporary Condition

There was just enough shifting about of loans to cause a run up in the rate for call money, but the movement was not unexpected, as ample forewarning was presented in the bank statement of Saturday wherein was divulged a $19,000,000 deficit, against substantial surplus items a week ago as well as last year. But there was none in the street who looked for other than a temporary tightening of the cost of funds. Indeed this was the conclusion apparently taken by the market itself which failed to be disturbed as rates got up to 5 per cent.

Rail Hearing Opens

Developments of importance for the railroad world loomed large to the street, as hearings resumed under Interstate Commerce Commission auspices in Chicago and Washington. Matter of rates and division of sliding weaker lines was on the schedule for the western city, while the merger problem again came to the fore, as the Nickel Plate affair was reopened after a summer recess. Both of these were highly considered in Wall street as "key" matters, and play was the consolidation phase of the Transportation Act 1920, so regarded. Once settled, and along lines of desire, the Vansweringen plans for the first regional consolidation of sizes should prove a good sample for the rail executives at large to follow in principle, if not detail, and with this in mind the street took renewed interest in the transportation list. High-priced issues were given consideration, and the market for standard rails, and those less worthy for strong box purposes, were prominently mentioned in the day's discussion.

Repeat Orders

At its high for the year, Missouri, Kansas and Texas was in the limelight of junior rails. The road's good earnings had retained more than passing interest in its securities, particularly the common stock, and there was a profession of significance as the identity was revealed of the larger buyers of the stock. Months ago, when a big block was being accumulated for Kansas City Southern interests, one name stood out more prominently than all others on the buying side. Today that name was repeated. That the road would play an important part in the proposed Loree system was the leading thought bearing on Katy's new action, and it was natural to look in this direction for inspiration, as plans were believed to be sufficiently well outlined to have them promulgated, once the official decision should be rendered on the greater Nickel Plate program.

Possible Sign

Commission houses found it difficult to borrow Pennsylvania Railroad shares and this was attributed to a common suggestion that preparations were being made for future financing through an issue of stock. On the assumption that this was in the wind, the street had reason to believe that par at least would have to be paid for any new offering, in anticipation of which it would be necessary to have the present certificates at least equal, if not in advance, over parity of $50 a share. The big jump in earnings for July, lately revealed, was a surprise and came at a most opportune time should the street's ideas as before have good basis in fact.

Control Rumor Afoot

Control of the J. G. Brill Company was declared to be in process of acquisition by American Car and Foundry, and denials of such plans at this time were placed in the "technical" class by those who were confident that they had been truly informed of what was taking place. At all events, Wall street wired buying orders in Brill to Philadelphia and aided the restricted market in that city. The hold which the motor bus and truck possibilities have taken on financial vision was largely now being credited in many directions, not only to makers of railroad equipment but to other concerns as well. Mack Truck had the first call on Wall street's attention, and the ground was well covered for natural successors once the market bloom should fade from the speculative cheek of that favorite. International Harvester today had the edge on others of the group and led the truck makers into higher territory.

BUSINESS PHILOSOPHY

BY WILLIAM FEATHER

INCALCULABLE harm has been done to the cause of enlightened business by men who have a strongly developed bump of human kindness, but lack a compensating bump of hardheadedness.

The business man who, from an impulse to do good, shortens working hours, improves working conditions, raises wages and then goes bankrupt harms himself, his employees and the whole cause of social progress.

We are not making headway unless business can be successful and contribute to social progress at the same time.

Experiments are constantly being tried in the business world looking to social advance. When these experiments are made by tough-skinned business men who know what they are doing the results are of great significance and are stimulating to less courageous proprietors.

SHIPPING and Los Angeles Harbor NEWS

END OF HARBOR NUISANCE SEEN

New Device May Solve Waste Oil Problem

Bethlehem Engineers Make Discovery

Rumor of New Refrigerator Line Current

The worries of local port officials and those of neighboring beaches over the waste oil nuisance are over, if the discovery of the research engineers of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation of a new oil-separating device for marine installation does what its inventors claim for it. The new device, which according to its designers, will save a great amount of money to oil-burning steamers, Diesel-driven craft and oil tankers, is the result of three years of research work and experimentation by Bethlehem engineers.

Since Los Angeles Harbor became the world's leading oil port, the great problem of port officials has been in keeping the waters of the bay and channels free of waste oil. All steamers are now forced by harbor regulations to pump their bunker and cargo tank bilges out at sea and are heavily fined for discharging bilges within the limits of the port. Even with these prohibitive measures in effect the condition is more or less serious.

WASTE RECOVERED

Although tankers and oil-burning steamers pump their bilges a considerable distance out at sea the current and prevailing westerly winds set the waste oil on the beaches of the numerous Southland resorts.

Its inventors claim that the new oil separator will not only remove the cause of this nuisance, but will recover the waste oil so that it may be utilized as fuel.

The separator equipment, when installed in the vessel, will be connected with the overboard discharge system in such a manner that either bilge or ballast water can be pumped through the device. Water leaving the separator will run overboard and the oil contained in the mixture when it enters the machine is separated and returned to settling tanks or compartments aboard.

NEW REFRIGERATOR LINE RUMOR AFLOAT

Another story of a proposed new refrigerator ship service to ply between Atlantic and Pacific coasts, has come out of New York, but without revealing the identity of the backers. This latest story is to the effect that the interested ones propose to build five motor-driven ships, each 450 feet long, to have carrying capacities of 5000 tons of refrigerated fruits each. The speed would be fourteen knots.

Offhand estimates would put the cost of such ships at $2,300,000 each, or $13,500,000 to float the project.

That there are, however, other concerns seriously planning to enter refrigeration ships on the intercoastal run is conceded by many. The International Mercantile Marine is known to be planning two new ships for its Panama-Pacific run, and it is believed refrigeration space will be included in each. Also, the new Atlantic and Pacific Fruit Express Corporation, recently purchased the President Fillmore and is said to be putting refrigeration in her at Norfolk, and was reported to have bought the Susquehanna on this Coast for a similar purpose. While some shipping men question if the latter deal is closed, Capt. J. C. Bond, vice-president and general manager of the new concern, said last week the vessel was merely awaiting a lumber cargo at Seattle, before going east for reconditioning. He also announced his company is negotiating for the purchase of three additional vessels and would start their service the first of next year.

STEAMSHIP PARLEY TO DRAW FROM COAST

A number of Pacific Coast steamship men will leave this week for Chicago, where a clash is expected between the Pacific Westbound Conference and the North Atlantic Far East Conference over the freight movement from Pacific Coast ports to the Orient. Several Atlantic services to ports are accepting freight from California, and there have been differences over routing New York-Orient, ships via the North Pacific. The canned goods rate from California to Java and transshipment issues also will be injected into the scrap. Fred M. Barry of Struthers & Barry, is the only representative of a Los Angeles firm expected to attend.

Intercoastal westbound cargoes carried by all steamship lines this year are approximately 15 per cent higher than last year, according to estimates made by San Francisco men published in the Shipping Register two days ago. Except for this 15 per cent gain in the aggregate, the fluctuations of traffic this year have been almost identical with those of last year, according to the estimator. Individual lines, however, have shown fluctuations.

An average speed of 13.5 knots is being maintained on her maiden voyage on route here from Sweden by the new Johnson Line motorship Axel Johnson, according to cable advices relayed to H. R. McLaurin, local agent. The motorship, which has more passenger accommodations than any previous ship in the Pacific-European service, sailed from Antwerp, her last port of call, August 20, and should reach here in slightly less than a month. She has forty-six passengers for the Pacific Coast. The Axel Johnson, a sister ship, now building, is expected to be commissioned in November.

Bids to install cofferdams on four Shipping Board vessels operated out of Los Angeles as home port in the Far East by Struthers & Barry, show the Moore Dry Dock Company of Oakland as low bidder with a figure of $1800 a ship. The bids, opened in San Francisco, were forwarded this week to Washington for approval and awarding of contract.

The American Tankers' Corporation tanker Prometix, towed in yesterday by the tug Sea Ranger from Salina Cruz, where she became disabled on route from Boston, was being surveyed at anchor yesterday, preparatory to her entry in local shipyards for a week's repair. It is understood her tail shaft began giving trouble far off shore, whereupon Capt. E. N. Connelly made for shore, barely reaching port when the shaft became useless. It is the shipper's second mishap in thirty-five years, he said. The other occurred years ago when he beached his ship in a typhoon, and suffered her only to incur the displeasure of her owners, who had her fully insured. He was a shipper of wind-jammers for years, then of steamers, his last ship visiting this port being the tanker Hampton Roads. The Phoenix, after repairs, will carry its first cargo of gasoline to Boston in a new service supplying service stations owned there by the company. Whether the firm would suffer loss by the delay, due to the drop in gasoline last week, is not known.

FAVOR ELECTION TO FILL COUNCIL

Recall Plan Suggested to Decide Pair's Status

Seats of Fitzpatrick and Downs at Stake

Officials Declare Balloting Proper Course

President Workman, Councilman Shaw and several other members of the City Council yesterday expressed approval of the plan for giving the Tenth and Thirteenth Councilmanic districts an opportunity to select successors to Councilman Downs and Fitzpatrick or to re-elect them, if the districts desire to do so. Elections of this kind are provided for under the recall provisions of the city charter (Sections 290 to 296.) No recall petitions can be filed until October 1, next, but the petitions can be circulated in the districts at any time before that date.

Under these provisions a recall petition must be signed by at least 20 per cent of the voters of the district, which in the cases of the Tenth and Thirteenth districts, would be about 2000 signatures of registered voters for each district. If the petitions are declared sufficient, then special elections are held in the districts not less than fifty days nor more than sixty days after the filing of the certificate by the City Clerk that the recall petition was sufficient. If recall petitions are filed about October 1, next, the elections will be held late in November or early in December. The Fitzpatrick-Downs cases, which have been set for trial for October 14, will have been concluded by then and the guilt or innocence of the suspended Councilmen established.

Of the recall plan of permitting the districts to select their representatives in the Council, President Workman said yesterday:

"It is my belief that the fairest method to the two districts is to permit them to select their own representatives under the recall provisions of the new charter. The expense of the district recall elections in the two districts will be small. The remaining terms of the Councilmen are practically full terms, less the two months that Councilmen Fitzpatrick and Downs served. This is another reason for the districts selecting their own Councilmen. The two elections can be held in the two districts, and no time will be lost by this method in giving these two districts direct representation in the Council."

"One sound argument against the Council's appointing substitutes for the two Councilmen is the fact that if the Council does appoint, the appointees will owe their places in the Council not to the districts which they will represent, but to those Councilmen who voted for them. This is not district representation."

Candidates for the appointment to the two vacancies in the Council, however, are urging the Council to appoint substitutes, and on next Friday afternoon the Council will as a committee of the whole, interview the various candidates. At this meeting it is expected that President Workman and others of the Council will urge that the Council make no appointments, but give the districts an opportunity to circulate and file recall petitions.

The present status of Fitzpatrick and Downs is that of Councilmen who have been suspended from office pending the outcome of their trials on charges of accepting a $2000 bribe for withdrawing their opposition to adoption of an ordinance legalizing the franchise awarded the Tunnels Transportation Company for the construction of a subtunnel under the Second street tunnel and the operation there of a movable sidewalk. Under the provisions of the charter, if the Councilmen are found guilty they will automatically forfeit their places in the Council. If they are found not guilty, they resume their places in the Council.

Vice-President Continues Fight on Senate Laws

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ASHLAND (Or.) Sept. 8.—Continuing his attack upon what he characterized as the fossilized, anti-quated Senate rules, Vice-President Dawes addressed an audience of more than 1500 persons who gathered at the Southern Pacific station to greet him here this afternoon.

"I am not a candidate for any office, or to hold the one I now occupy," Dawes declared.

Continuing, he said: "There are those who have entered the Senate with the avowed intention of changing the rules. However, after serving a short time in that body, they declare that such rules are conducive to the conduct of business. That is not a fact. The real story is that they have discovered how powerful they may become through the rule which allows them unlimited speech, and they are unwilling to give up the power," Dawes declared.

WORKERS STAMPEDE TO DIAMOND FIELD

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
JOHANNESBURG (South Africa) Sept. 8.—Thousands of workers in this district have abandoned their jobs to take part in a diamond rush to Oersonkraal, where several valuable finds have been reported. Already $600 claims have been staked off, and diamond buyers are said to have purchased stones weighing as much as twenty-eight crafts each, which were found only eighteen inches below the soil. Hundreds of athletes took part in the rush, running many miles to stake claims. One of the most valuable of the claims was marked off by a champion runner on behalf of a one-legged war veteran, who could not keep up with the other competitors.

TAX RATE FOR YEAR BOOSTED

Supervisors Fix Levy of "Old City" District at $3.82

Rate Explains Increase in School Department

County Allotment Amounts to Sixty-four Cents

The Board of Supervisors yesterday fixed the annual tax levy at figures that make an increase of 5 cents in the rate for the "old city" district of Los Angeles, usually used as the typical rate for the county in discussion of taxes.

In this district the taxes for 1925-26 will be collected on a basis of $3.82 for each $100 of assessed valuation. The rate in the "old city district" last year was $3.77. The rate in various districts in the county with local charges for improvements and schools, ranges, while passing the tax-levy resolutions at practically the last moment permitted by law, did not arouse much enthusiasm. An increase in the Los Angeles city tax rate of 15 cents over that of last year, was the thorn in the flesh. They summoned C. F. Loos, auditor of the city schools, who explained to them why such increase was necessary.

DIVISION OF LEVY

"I still think it is too much, but I can see any way to avoid paying it," Supervisor Cogswell commented, as he voted "aye" on the resolution. Other members of the board said Cogswell's remarks expressed their feelings exactly.

The "old city district" of Los Angeles, on which the levy is made up as follows:

[illegible]	$1.54
[illegible]	.44
[illegible]	.34
[illegible]	1.50
	$3.82

Last year the municipal tax rate was $3.42. The county purposes tax was 65 cents and flood control tax 7 cents. Flood control charges this year are larger because of the greater sinking fund items on the bond issue authorized in 1924.

SHOWN AS "SAMPLE"

The figures in the table above, relating to downtown Los Angeles, are given only as a "sample." In Los Angeles are 186 taxation districts in the county, for each of which the tax levy was fixed by the general resolution passed yesterday. The rates for these districts vary in many cases as low as $2.25 to as high as $4.50, all depending on the local charges. There are only two principal factors in the rates, running the same in each district. These are the levies for general county and flood control purposes amounting to 72 cents, and the general city school levy.

The only elements running into the rates for which the Board of Supervisors are directly responsible are the general county and flood control levies, in which the board managed to effect a reduction of 1 cent as compared with last year. The board also fixes the road and library levies, which are applicable to all parts of municipalities.

All of the other levies are simply based upon budgets sent up to the board by municipal councils, school boards, improvement districts, city councils and other local bodies, which have the power to appropriate funds.

LIBRARY INCREASES

The library rate, shown this year at $1.54, was $1.39 last year. Dr. Lentz, when called upon to explain the increase, said it resulted from automatic salary increases which the Board of Education was without power to avoid. The librarians, of course, are dissatisfied with a rate for municipal purposes, but, on the other hand, raise includes 25 cents for pensions and 4 cents for the library. The road tax is 1 cent less than last year, when it was levied.

HORNED-HEADED and goat-tailed men wooing langorous, nude maidens, laughing pigs sitting on their haunches drinking out of upturned pop bottles, gossip-whispering monkeys, virile centaurs and a host of other fantastic creatures, were engaged in a mad Saturnalian revel in Hollywood last night.

But they were all safely on the walls of a staircase whose mural decorations they are in a lodge-like cottage at 2930 De Longpre avenue. AMADOR LOSES PLEA IN CHAPLIN SUIT

Charles Chaplin

Charles Amador

Finis was written yesterday as far as Superior Court is concerned to the hard-fought injunction suit brought by Charles Chaplin to restrain the Western Feature Productions and Charles Amador from producing motion pictures Chaplin claimed were in imitation of those in which he was the featured actor.

The closing chapter was written by Judge John L. Hudner, whose order denying the defendants a new trial or a modification of the judgment previously rendered was filed in the County Clerk's office.

In his judgment, Judge Hudner enjoined the defendants from producing or exhibiting pictures in which the public might be misled into thinking the featured actor was Chaplin. The court also restrained the defendants from releasing a picture entitled "The Race Track," which had been produced at the time Chaplin filed his suit three years ago.

Attorney Ben Goldman, representing the defendants, asked for a new trial and a modification of the judgment that would permit the defendants to release "The Race Track." The attorney contended that if the name of the featured actor, Amador, were used in matter advertising the film, the public would not be misled into thinking they were seeing Chaplin.

In the order filed yesterday, Judge Hudner stated he believed the defendants planned and executed "The Race Track" as an imitation of Chaplin's pictures. He also stated the imitation inhered in the picture to an extent that rendered it impossible of elimination and for this reason he refused to modify the judgment so as to permit the defendants to release the picture.

The injunction granted by the court, it was stated, prohibited the defendants from making pictures in imitation of Chaplin, but did not keep him from making any other kind of pictures.

FIND A MYSTERY IN OUR HISTORY

Document Shows California a State April 4, 1850

Five Months Before She Was Admitted to Union

Los Angeles Incorporation Papers Establish It

City Clerk Domingues yesterday uncovered a full-grown historical mystery at the City Hall when he brought to light from the municipal archives the original incorporation papers for the city of Los Angeles, officially executed by the "State of California" on April 4, 1850, or five months before California was admitted to the Union.

The document sets out that "The People of the State of California represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows," and declared that there was then enacted an act "to incorporate the city of Los Angeles" of "that territory formerly known as the Pueblo de Los Angeles" and the record says finally, that this pueblo "is hereby declared to be incorporated."

In other words, California was a State, functioning as such, on April 4, 1850, though supposedly she did not acquire Statehood till September 9 of that year.

The document, which is yellow with age and was written in English, in longhand, signed by E. Kirby Chamerlain, president, pro tem. of the Senate, John Bigler, speaker of the House of Assembly, also bears the date of approval as of April 4, 1850, and the approving signatures of Peter H. Barnett, whose office was not stated, and the certification of W. Van Voorhees, Secretary of State.

ELECTION CALLED

The act incorporating the city of Los Angeles declares that there should be held here an election to select a Mayor, a City Council of seven members, a Recorder, Marshal and other officials. This election was held on June 13, 1850, and A. P. Hodges was elected as the first Mayor. This fact seems to preclude the possibility of the incorporation papers being incorrectly dated.

"The act incorporating the city of Los Angeles," said City Clerk Domingues, "is interesting as showing that there was a California Legislature in existence more than five months before the date which is now declared to be the one on which California was admitted to the Union. We know that there was no Territory of California, as the population came here so rapidly during the gold rush in '49 that California did not did not pass through the territorial stage.

IN LEGAL USE

"It is also interesting to note that in the act of the Legislature it was set forth that the 'People of the State of California do enact,' which would show that the term 'State of California' was in legal use here before California was admitted to the Union, if the admission date of September 9, 1850, which is being celebrated in San Francisco this week, is the correct one.

"A possible explanation may be that California was on the way to Statehood in '49 and '50, with a Legislature in existence, and all the State governmental machinery functioning, while actual admission of the State to the Union through approving action of Congress did not come until September 9, 1850."

ONE-MINUTE MEET HELD BY COUNCIL

City Rulers Adjourn When But Five Members Appear to Transact Business

The City Council met for one minute yesterday and then adjourney, due to a lack of a quorum. This is the first time in many years that the daily Council session has not been held. The absence of a quorum yesterday was due to the fact that the holidays on Monday and today gave a number of the Councilmen an opportunity to make an inspection trip of the Owens River Aqueduct. The five of the thirteen members present at yesterday's session were President Workman and Councilmen Allan, Moore, Shaw and Sparks. In the one minute that the Council was in session yesterday a number of hearings were postponed so as to preserve the legality of the proceedings, as the City Attorney ruled that no quorum was required to order these continuances.

On account of today being Admission Day, there will be no session of the City Council this morning, and the next session will be tomorrow morning.

Acting Mayor Workman left for San Francisco by train last night to take part in today's Diamond Jubilee parade, and will return tonight by train so as to assume his duties at the City Hall tomorrow morning.

COMMERCIAL BOARD WILL HAVE MEETING

The Commercial Board of Los Angeles will have its first fall meeting the 16th inst. at 12 m. at the Biltmore, with Leroy C. Bishop and Police Chief Heath as speakers. Bishop will describe mechanical and electrical communication devices and the chief will explain how these are used in police work. Donald L. Egget will sing.

WILL STRAIGHTEN STREETS

The Major Traffic Street Plan, which was approved by the voters last year, recommended the straightening, opening and widening of a number of streets in order to make of them wide, through arteries of travel. Included in the first unit of the plan were recommendations for the elimination of jogs at seven important street intersections.

Assistant City Engineers Prince and Goldsworthy have completed plans for the elimination of the jog at Third and Main streets. The straightening of this intersection to permit an uninterrupted flow of east and west traffic is important as showing how will be similarly handled the elimination of the other six jogs. These others are Eighth at San Pedro street, Hill at Temple street, Sixth at Figueroa street, Fifteenth at San Pedro street and the jog at Myrtle street.

The total estimated cost of condemnation of land and work required for the elimination of these seven jogs was estimated by the City Engineer's office at $1,240,426, toward which there will be paid from the $5,000,000 bond fund authorized in connection with the

PLAN UNIQUE RADIO TEST

Experimental Communication Between Flying Plane and Exposition Station Set for Today

Arrangements have been made to carry on a unique experiment in radio communication this afternoon between the broadcasting station, KRCA at the National Radio Exposition in the Ambassador Auditorium, and a United States Army airplane flying over the city.

Tests have been made since the exposition opened to perfect the experiment for the benefit of spectators and Waldo T. Tupper, managing director of the show, announced last night that between 3 and 4 p.m. today a public demonstration will be given.

Chief of Police Heath has been secured and will direct the experiment, Tupper said. Through KRCA, the portable broadcasting station erected in the auditorium by the Radio Corporation of America, Chief Heath will broadcast messages to the airplane.

Lieuts. Victor M. Clark and Dean Farran, in charge of the plane, then will broadcast messages from the air, answering the directions of Chief Heath. These messages will be picked up and by means of amplifiers will be rebroadcast for the benefit of spectators at the show.

Tupper said that Chief Heath will broadcast impromptu directions to the flyers and with the plane flying directly overhead spectators can watch the execution of the directions. Radio fans, who have a receiving set and an outlook over the western portion of the city also can hear and see the experiment by listening-in on Chief Heath's directions from station KRCA and watching the movement of the plane.

New designs in radio cabinets, many of them embodying entirely new features, were placed on display yesterday for the first time in more than a score of booths at the radio exposition as the midweek surprise promised by the exposition committee.

Dealers exhibiting these advanced designs predicted that they will set the radio furniture fashion for 1926. With the near perfection of the receiving equipment itself manufacturers will turn their attention to enhancing the appointments of the sets, they declared.

One of the interesting features of the new display, Carl A. Stone, chairman of the committee of arrangements, pointed out, is the absence of visible loud speakers in the sets. The majority of the advance models have built-in speakers cleverly concealed in panelling. The popularity of this type of cabinet soon will be felt by all manufacturers, Stone said, and the built-in speaker feature will become standard in a short time.

NEW SCHOOL TERM OPENS IN EARNEST

Enrollment Delayed by Holidays to be in Full Swing Tomorrow

The holiday Monday and the observance of Admission Day today caused a delay in the registration of students on the opening day of the new school term yesterday, it was announced last night by Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of schools.

With the opening of school tomorrow the enrollment of pupils will commence in earnest. It is not expected that the registration of the thousands boys and girls who will attend the Los Angeles public schools during the new school year will be completed for a month or six weeks.

Many children have not yet returned from their vacation, while others are still engaged in vacation work. The total registration last year was approximately 225,000. A substantial increase over this amount is expected by members of the Board of Education.

Half-day sessions have been decreased and according to present

PHONE RATES UNDER FIRE

Committee Members Favor Spending $100,000 and Years' Time to Fight Proposed Increase

Acting on the suggestion of City Attorney Stephens, members of the General Citizens' Telephone Committee yesterday expressed themselves in favor of spending $100,000 and a year's time, if necessary, to fight present increases in telephone rates. No definite action was taken at the meeting, held in the Chamber of Commerce Building, and a further discussion of campaign plans will be held next Tuesday afternoon.

Figures were submitted by one large department store showing that its present flat rate for telephone charges averages $1600 a month, as compared to an estimated charge of $2700 when the compulsory measured service for business users goes into effect January 1, next.

The committee as a whole also reported that "tangible information had been collected" showing a wide variety of results from measured service, ranging from decreases in the case of the small user to increases as high as 200 per cent for the large user of telephone service.

Mayor Cryer, City Attorney Stephens, R. D. Sangster, S. C. Graham, Louis B. Mayer, Harry Culver, Anthony Pratt, secretary of the Municipal League, and others expressed the opinion that the committee is inadequately prepared to fight increased rates or the establishment of measured service at this time.

"The great public utilities frequently spend years of preparation before making application for increases in rates," Stephens pointed out. "When they are ready, their defense is perfect. Our only hope is to prepare ourselves in the same manner; to raise $100,000, hire the best legal and engineering talent do our work quietly and efficiently, then apply for a reduction in rates and demand an immediate hearing of the State Railroad Commission."

It was also agreed that the committee will be able to accomplish little at the commission hearing next November 4 on the effects of present increases, and the results of measured rates as indicated by duplicate telephone bills the Southern California Telephone Company will render to business users during the next two months.

The Lancer

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—New Yorkers kill themselves trying to make money. Then they throw it away like little boys at a circus lemonade stand.

The other night some one asked me to a supper at a road-house cafe on Long Island. The meal was simple—chicken, vegetables and a salad. The bill for the three—$26.

SUCKER MONEY

My host was getting off easy at that.

A rash young man of my acquaintance asked two business friends to stop in for a moment at one of the supper clubs in the roaring Forties.

They stayed about fifteen minutes; they had a White Rock and a pint bottle of whisky which the waiter fished out of his back pocket. They said it tasted as if it were made of insect powder and dirty water. The bill for the three was $45.

HE KNOWS NOW

I am alarmed for the fate of the Olympia, now at sea, bound for Europe.

There is on board a rich Los Angeles oil man so mad that I think he is very likely to kick the bottom out of the boat.

And this is why: The night before he sailed he took his wife and son to a road cafe on the edge of New York. When the waiter came the Californian tossed the menu back to him with a suicidal remark. He said: "Oh, just give us a nice dinner."

He did. The bill looked as if another European government had decided to fund its debt. With this difference: That the oil man paid real money.

A FASHIONABLE SMELL

New Yorkers themselves are easier than the visitors.

A new perfume has suddenly made its appearance. It's Parisian, of course. It is called "Christmas Night." If you don't smell that way you don't belong.

The movie flappers tell me that the regular retail price for that stuff in Paris is $3 a bottle. In New York they charge $25 and get away with it.

COMES HIGH

On Park avenue a fashionable apartment has installed a new feature, for which the charges are simply murderous. It is a private freight elevator, which hauls your limousine up to your apartment door.

Just why anybody should want a limousine hauled up to the door of an apartment is not clear; but anyway, that's what they do.

BAUBLE HUNTERS

New York makes me think of the stories we used to read about traders who swapped cheap glass beads to the Indians for priceless furs.

Compared with what New York gets for its money the Indians were good traders and made good bargains.

Silly children with a lot of easy money in their pockets.

No matter how nice my girl is; no matter how Pretty her azure eyes and golden hair; no
Matter how good a pal she may be or how square
A shooter; no matter how good her job is
Or how much brain and heart she may possess;
No matter if she can sing like a bird and dance
Like a fairy; No matter if she has a rich Dad
And a heavenly mother; no matter how much
I may like her for herself, as well as for her
Talents and possessions; no matter how much rope
She may give me; the fact will still remain
That I shall always yearn to go and play in the Other fellow's back yard and be dead certain
That I like his girl the best.

POLICE LAUNCH NARCOTIC DRIVE

Nine Arrested as Clean-up Campaign Starts

Opening of School Season Causes Action

Seek to Prevent Children Being Victims

Coincident with the opening of the school year, police began a narcotic clean-up of the city. Nine arrests were made in the first twenty-four hours of the campaign, an important purpose of which is to keep school children from coming in contact with drug peddlers and addicts.

Detective Lieutenant Littlejohn, head of the police narcotic squad, has twelve officers working with him in the clean-up, which was ordered by Inspector of Detectives Davis, in command of the vice squad. Orders have been issued to pick up all addicts on vagrancy charges, peddlers to be charged with violation of the State Poison Law.

Narcotic sellers and users have trickled back into the city since the last clean-up, it is said. Action against the narcotic evil was undertaken during the last school year, when it was disclosed that venders and users of drugs were active in various parts of the city, attempting to spread the narcotic habit among children.

The present clean-up is being made to prevent the evil from showing itself among school children this year.

Of the nine men thus far arrested, Antonio Dominguez is charged with the sale of narcotics; three men, Alfred Rojas, Joe Borsch and Manuel Alcala, with possession; and five, Davis Florin, Harry Gardner, Jack C. Marley, David Laphan and Eddie McKnutt, with vagrancy, as addicts.

TWO HELD IN RUNNING OF SLOT DEVICE

Warrant Obtained for Arrest of Brothers on Similar Charges

Following the arrest of Sam Leavitt and J. Huestin charged with operating eleven slot machines in a pool hall in Avalon, Capt. Bond of the Sheriff's office yesterday obtained a warrant for the arrest of Joe Gans and his brother, who are said to have leased scores of similar machines throughout Southern California.

Capt. Bond and a squad arrested Leavitt and Huestin and seized the slot machines during a raid on the United Pool Hall Monday. They were arraigned before Justice Hunter at Lomita on charges of operating gambling devices and were released in $5500 bail each.

The slot machines, according to raiding officers, paid off with cash, instead of the usual merchandise checks.

The arrests are said to be the first of a series that will result from open operation of slot machines that pay prizes in money.

Gans brothers had not been taken into custody late yesterday but their arrest was expected momentarily.

Girl Visits Park With Man While Police Comb City

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DETROIT, Sept. 8.—Virginia Spradlin, 7 years of age, who was taken into an automobile by an unidentified man this afternoon, returned to her home late tonight. She said the man took her for a ride and then to an amusement park. Then, she said, the man took her to within a block of her home and let her out of the machine. She said she did not know the man's name and asserted he did not mistreat her in any way.

Police started a search for the child after her playmate, Helen Hewitt had told a policeman that the man had offered herself and Virginia candy to come with him.

Bleeding Chinese Solves "Outrage" by Saying He Went "Crazy"

Bleeding profusely from a gash on his head, Ny Shan Hing, Chinese rancher, living near Lynwood, staggered into his house early yesterday and fell at his wife's feet.

Investigating what appeared to be a tong outrage, Deputy Sheriffs Allen and Mendoza could find no trace of Hing's supposed enemies.

Hing solved the mystery himself when he awoke at the General Hospital, and said: "Me go crazy and hit myself on head with ax." He will recover.

DARBY DAY QUITS POST IN CHICAGO

Resignation Asserted Due to Publicity Given Son's Troubles in Acid Case

Resignation of Darby A. Day, Sr., as manager of the Chicago branch of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, in Chicago, was announced at the Chicago offices yesterday, the resignation to take effect in June, 1926.

Darby A. Day, Sr.

While the resignation merely said Mr. Day desires to retire after rounding out twenty-five years of service, it was said unofficially at the offices that private vexations and publicity growing out of the sensational acid-throwing episode in which his son and daughter-in-law figured in Los Angeles last year, were really responsible for his decision.

It was early last spring that Chicagoans were astounded to learn that Mrs. Day, formerly Bernice Lundstrom, had dashed acid in her husband's face, almost endangering his sight.

Mrs. Day was placed on trial and convicted in Los Angeles May 4, last, the verdict carrying a sentence of from one to fourteen years in prison. Her appeal is pending.

The elder Day began his career with Mutual Life in New Mexico. He was promoted from agent to general agent, cashier and branch manager, finally going to Chicago, where he had supervision over branch offices in the Chicago district.

plans every student will be attending full sessions early in 1926.

With a total of 237 elementary schools, twenty-four high schools, fifteen junior high schools, twenty-six evening high schools, fourteen special schools and scores of new buildings and additions under construction the Board of Education is prepared to accommodate in the neighborhood of 275,000 students.

During last night's session of the board, members approved of the high schools assisting in the raising of $15,000 to go toward the repairing of the new Santa Barbara High School damaged in the earthquake during June, last. Gordon Morfort and Edward Decker of the Santa Barbara High School alumni reconstruction committee appeared before the meeting and told of the plans being formulated to raise the necessary funds.

PAINTING CLASSES START

House painting and interior decorating classes have been opened at Central Evening High School, 469 North Hill street, and are running five nights a week from 7 to 9 o'clock. Opportunity is given for beginners to learn the trade and for painters already in the trade to improve themselves.

RAIL MERGER CASE DELAYED

Hibbs and Hennessy Trial Set for Tuesday

Deposition from Washington Hits Defense Blow

Knowledge of Combine Plan Denied by Commission

The trial of Harry D. Hibbs and Thomas Hennessy, the fluent promoters who are declared to have evolved the Southland's greatest financial myth, yesterday was continued until next Tuesday by Judge Hahn of the Superior Court.

The continuance was granted by the court at the request of Defense Attorney Paul W. Schenck after the legal and technical background of the case had been partly laid by George B. McGinty, secretary and executive officer of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The witness, who came here from Washington to testify, gave his testimony in the form of a deposition by a stipulation between the defense and prosecution, represented by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hamner and Fricke. It was necessary to take his evidence in this manner because he must return to Washington at once.

DENIES KNOWING PLAN

Mr. McGinty declared that the gigantic rail merger idea, which is said to have been the principal stock in trade of the two defendants and on which they are declared to have capitalized to the extent of $300,000 or more, was never heard of by the commission at Washington. Such rail consolidations, he asserted, come under the scope of the commission and if one of this nature was impending the commission would have been informed of it.

Neither Hibbs nor Hennessy, he stated, were known to him. As far as he knew, he stated, they had never communicated either with him or the commission. They had no connection with the supreme railroad body at Washington, he declared.

Earlier in the day Judge Hahn had refused a petition to continue the case because of the fact that Mr. McGinty would not be available as a witness, but he granted the continuance in the afternoon when Mr. Schenck explained that he will be busy with another case for the forth coming week.

IN GOOD HUMOR

Both Hibbs and Hennessy appeared to be in high good humor when the case began. Hennessy, a slight frail man, particularly seemed to enjoy himself. He grinned broadly the better part of the time. His codefendant sat stolidly at the side of his attorney, smiling slightly at times, but otherwise he appeared rather disinterested.

The two men are facing forty-six counts of grand larceny in an indictment returned against them by the grand jury. They were arrested last May after they are said to have promised investors in a supposed $6,000,000 rail merger $10 for each $1 invested with them.

Women's Shoe Store Opens in New Location

The formal opening of Lewis Waters's new shoe shop on West Seventh street, in the Westlake district, was held yesterday. Mr. Waters has been in the woman's shoe business in Los Angeles for eight years.

The opening was well attended and there were many floral gifts. The decorations and furnishings of the new shop were arranged by the Fred B. Martin Company. The walls are of antique walnut, relieved by mural paintings showing the early French influence in feminine motifs.

Each of the individual alcove fitting spaces is furnished with a French settee in rose and cafe au lait striped damask. The hangings are of old gold and the walnut wood is relieved by high lights of old gold.

The early Italian influence is seen in the corner display cases and the ceilings.

WIDOW VICTOR IN FIGHT OVER WILL

Letha Sue Moore

BARRIER TO WED AGAIN SET ASIDE

Actress Retains Share in Estate Despite Proviso in Late Mate's Will

The right to remarry and still retain her share of her late husband's $300,000 estate in spite of a proviso in his will to the contrary was won yesterday in the District Court of Albuquerque, N. M., by Letha Sue Moore, a film actress, of 547 North Serrano avenue.

The news that Mrs. Moore was victorious in her suit to terminate a trust fund set aside for her by her husband, LeRoy O. Moore, attorney and dealer in land script, was contained in news dispatches received in Los Angeles last night.

Moore, who died seven months ago at Albuquerque, left a will by the terms of which the sum of $40,000 was to be set aside for Mrs. Moore, the residue to go to his first wife, Mrs. Maisie K. Neblett, who is now the wife of United States District Judge Colin Neblett of New Mexico. The last testament of Moore, however, contained a proviso that the trust fund cease on the occasion of Mrs. Moore's remarriage.

Mrs. Moore last night said she had sent Attorney Isaac Barth of this city to Albuquerque to handle her affairs and to file the suit to terminate the trust.

"In view of the court decision it is my understanding that I will now receive the sum of $25,000 from the estate," Mrs. Moore said. "My husband's will was an unusual one and it was because of the uncertainty of my affairs that I sent an attorney to Albuquerque to settle matters."

Mrs. Moore returned to Los Angeles a short time after the death of her husband and has on different occasions taken part in film productions.

She declined a statement as to the remarriage proviso in the will.

making good the asserted damage is to be threshed out between the litigants.

The owner had arranged the little chalet with decorations after the manner of a rustic cabin with weather-stained interior finish. She was much surprised when, after a short time of occupancy by the young women, she found the walls painted and in places covered with pictures of unicorns chasing naked men and women, skull-like spiders, earnest-looking wild boars, west views of rabbits looking east, pleasure-bent hogs, fowls of all kinds and then some in various poses, dancing girls, a laughing giraffe or two and mean-eyed elephants.

Gin bottles had become vases in the home, the Victrola had changed its coat from golden oak to forest green and when Mrs. Lemon saw the antique writing desk blushing beneath a coat of crimson she saw red and made for the City Prosecuting Attorney's office without James sparing the horses. The Misses Heilburn and Danzig there related that they were, respectively, interior decorator and office clerk and that a Bohemian artist friend, Yarroslav Liska, had thus decorated their studio home for them.

The girls now face the court charge and a demand for $500 to undo the asserted damage done by the mural story-book menagerie. The Heilburn girl's aunt is reported to be hastening here from St. Louis to aid her niece.

adoption of the Major Traffic Street Plan a total of $394,158, or slightly more than 30 per cent of the cost of the improvements. The remaining $846,268 will be paid by assessments upon property in the districts adjacent to the improvements.

Work on the elimination of the jog at Third and Main streets is expected to start soon, as the proceedings for it were the first ones instituted, and the City Engineer's plans now have been completed. The estimated cost of this street-straightening is $334,084, toward which there will be contributed from the $5,000,000 bond issue $109,225, the remainder to be paid by the assessment district.

Officers of the Traffic Commission and of its major highways committee declare that with the completion of the work at Third and Main streets the people will have striking testimony of the importance of eliminating street jogs in the interest of speeding up traffic and eliminating street congestion.

POISON TAKEN TO CHEAT LAW

Third of Miller Gang Case Suspects Seeks Death

Physician Unable to Tell if Lieb Will Live

Hearing Delayed After He Attempts Suicide

Fear of the law, stronger among accused members of the leaderless and wavering remnants of the Eddie Miller bandit gang that the fear of death, yesterday claimed another victim.

The overpowering terror engulfed Alfred W. Lieb, known to police also under the names of Albert Lieb and Albert W. Cole, who is charged in an information on file in the court of Superior Judge Reeve with having received stolen property, a felony, from Eddie Miller, who was shot and killed last June in a battle with Police Sergeant Harper. Lieb, in choosing death rather than the law, tried to end his life by poison, but his physician was not positive last night what the outcome is to be.

Although the charges against Lieb have not been proved—he is accused also of robbery—his attempt at suicide took place only a few hours before he was scheduled to appear in Judge Reeve's court for hearing. Under the circumstances, a continuance was asked until Friday and granted, at which time it will be determined whether Lieb's condition is such as to warrant prosecution of the two cases pending.

Lieb's try for death made the third since police began the round-up of the so-called Miller gang months ago.

Miller, the leader, courted death early on the morning of June 8, last, when Sergt. Harper, one of many police officers and detectives who sought him and his aides for various oil-station robberies and hold-ups of police officers, surprised him near Tenth and Georgia streets. Miller got what he went after. He was killed by one of Harper's bullets, after Harper had been wounded in the shoulder by a bullet from Miller's gun.

Harper's bullet carried more than death to Miller that morning, however, as subsequent events proved. It carried the psychology of fear to the rest of the gang.

Dyford Templeton, a member of the gang, who specialized in robbing police officers after divesting them of their guns and thus gained the undying enmity of every member of the force, found himself in jail not long afterward.

On the eve of a court appearance, Templeton, late in June, hanged himself in a City Jail cell.

Yesterday it was Lieb's turn.

Police were notified of the attempt by the youth's father, who is declared by officers to be on the verge of a collapse. Lieb, they said, comes from a highly respectable family living on West Forty-eighth street, and persistent attempts are said to have been made by the father to keep the son "straight."

Lieb's attempt was ascribed by his father to "worry" over his forthcoming court appearance, detectives said.

He was at liberty on bail of $2500 on a robbery charge, to which he had once pleaded guilty and then changed his plea to not guilty. Later, he had been released on his own recognizance on the charge of receiving property stolen by Miller.

VALENTINO TO STAR IN NEW ROLE

Court Mountain Refuses to Go to Studio Mahomet, so Actor Loses

"The Mountain and Mahomet," with Justice Marchetti as the mountain, and Rudolph Valentino as Mahomet, positively will be produced in court next Friday.

Legal and film circles have been agitated by rumors over the production for several weeks. Crowds of picture fans have appeared on the court lot only to be disappointed. The last report was that Justice Marchetti would journey to the Valentino studio to try the sheik on a speeding charge.

But yesterday it was determined that Rudolph will come to Justice Marchetti in the manner prescribed for the trial of legal cases. The actor had pleaded not guilty, and had asked for a trial at his studio. If he were compelled to come to court, he said, a big company would have to stop working on a big set, $10,000 would be lost and a large number of extras would lose a day's pay.

Yesterday Justice Marchetti set at rest all fears that justice would follow the camera around.

"I am sorry," he said, "that anyone should lose money or be inconvenienced, but the court can show no partiality. Before the law a famous actor is in the same situation as anyone else. The dignity of the law would be compromised, the courts would be made a laughing stock, were I to set up legal machinery in a studio."

Thereupon Valentine was ordered to appear next Friday. Justice Machietti set the time of trial at 12:15 p.m., considering that selection of the noon hour would cause the slightest possible inconvenience and loss to the picture and its participants.

The cause of all the trouble is a charge that the sheik was making thirty-eight miles on Santa Monica Boulevard.

No New Cases of Paralysis Appear for Three Days

No new cases of infantile paralysis have been reported in Los Angeles during the last three days, according to an official statement issued yesterday by City Health Officer George Parrish.

The records at the city health office show that the total number of cases reported this month to date is eight, and that the total since January 1, last, is 175. The official total for last week was eight cases, and the total for last month was fifty-one cases.

LEGAL TILT OVER CHILD NEARS END

Court to be Asked Friday to Decide Custody of Baby Maxine Simpson

Hearing on the heated court contest over the custody of Maxine Simpson, 2 years of age, is scheduled to be concluded next Friday in Judge Archbald's Juvenile Court, when attorneys in the case will submit the controversy, which has been likened to that brought before Solomon, for the decision of the court.

Two women, Mrs. Patty-Ann Simpson, the child's mother, and Mrs. Irene Hall, with whom Maxine has been for the past year, each is seeking to have the court give her the child.

At the first session of the case, Mrs. Hall declared the baby had been given her by Mrs. Simpson with the understanding that Mrs. Simpson would relinquish the child at the end of the legal year for adoption by Mrs. Hall. Mrs. Hall said she made arrangements to receive the baby after she had met Mrs. Simpson on a street car. Mrs. Hall declared Mrs. Simpson had not contributed to the child's support and asked the court to declare the child abandoned by her parents in order to pave the way for adoption proceedings.

Mrs. Simpson, who told her side of the story to the court yesterday, said she had not intended to give her baby up for good, but only temporarily to permit her "to get on her feet again." It was brought out that Mrs. Simpson and her husband are living apart.

GRADE SEPARATION ON LA BREA ADVOCATED

The Los Angeles County Grade Crossing Committee yesterday recommended to the City Council that proceedings be started at once for the separation of grades at the Pacific Electric's crossing at La Brea avenue and San Vicente Boulevard, in the interest of protecting lives. The committee also recommended that no grade crossing be created at Redondo Boulevard, as has been proposed, as the committee said the Redondo crossing will be but 1200 feet from the La Brea-avenue crossing and therefore Redondo crossing is not needed now.

HABEAS CORPUS PLEA OF ALIEN TO BE HEARD

Joe Panas, made a man without a country by changes in Northern Europe's boundary lines, will appear before Federal Judge James and plead for his freedom from durance vile on the 21st inst., the court yesterday having set that date for hearing his habeas corpus proceedings. Panas was jailed in April on deportation proceedings.

No "off-color" teeth no toneless gum when that dingy film is removed Accept this remarkable dental test. You'll gain the dazzling white teeth and coral-like gums that make smiles attractive and inviting.

MODERN dental science has made important, recent discoveries in lightening cloudy teeth.

In a few days you can work great changes in the color of your teeth: can give them dazzling whiteness, and your gums the healthy coral tint you envy.

If you seek new beauty and new charm, test this new way. Do as millions are doing on dental advice. Multiply the value of your smile. Mail the coupon. A 10-day test will be sent you.

Beneath that film are gleaming, glorious teeth

Run your tongue across your teeth, and you will feel a film, a viscous coat that covers them.

That film is an enemy to your teeth — and your gums. You must remove it.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It absorbs discolorations and gives your teeth that cloudy, "off-color" look.

Germs by the millions breed in it and lay your teeth open to decay. And they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea and gum disorders.

Tooth troubles and gum troubles now are largely traced to that film. Old-time methods fail in successfully combating it. That's why, regardless of the care you take now, your teeth remain unattractive.

New methods remove it. And Firm the Gums

Now, in a new-type dentifrice called Pepsodent, dental science has discovered effective combatants. Their action is to curdle the film and remove it, to firm the gums.

Ordinary methods fail to get results.

Thus the world has come largely on dental advice to a new method.

What you see when the film is removed—the whiteness of your teeth—will astonish you.

You are simply losing the natural beauty of your teeth . . .

A few days' use will show the power beyond all doubt. Mail the coupon today. A 10-day tube will be sent you free.

SANTA BARBARA TO GET $45,000

Admission Day Will See Turning Over of Check

Intensive Holiday Drives Net Sum of $5400

County Contributions Reach Total of $158,607

Admission Day will be celebrated today in useful and fitting fashion with the turning over of $45,000 to Santa Barbara by the Santa Barbara Emergency Relief Fund. With the receipt of $7500 from the Southern Pacific, the contributions of Los Angeles county have reached the sum of $158,607.

Results of the intensive drives in many places on Labor Day in behalf of the relief fund were seen in yesterday's contributions reaching Campaign Manager Morris at the Chamber of Commerce, the total of which, aside from the Southern Pacific check, aggregated $5600.

BEACH CITY GIVES $3000

The largest check, $3000, came from Santa Monica, where a demonstration was staged for the benefit of the fund. This brought out a large number of small contributions from persons responding to the appeal made on the holiday. Another remittance was received from the Chamber of Commerce of Glendale for $2000. This also represented a special Labor Day effort. A third check for $630 came from the Chamber of Commerce of Downey.

"We appreciate the loyalty of the campaign workers in the outside communities," commented Manager Morris. "The campaign is progressing as satisfactorily as could be expected in Los Angeles county, in view of the handicaps under which we have been carrying on. While there is still a lot of hard work before us, I am confident the splendid spirit that has been manifested throughout by the committee leaders will continue and that we will reach the goal in due time."

LINE PLEDGES $7500

Reports received by Mr. Morris from the Santa Barbara campaign committee yesterday stated that the total amount of contributions received in that city on Saturday was $3475. The largest contribution was from the Santa Fe Railroad, which sent the half of its $7500 pledge that is to be credited on the Los Angeles county quota, San Francisco being given credit for the other half. Other contributions from Los Angeles county received on Saturday included a $50 check from E. R. Bohen & Co., of Los Angeles and a remittance of $5 from William Reding of Pasadena.

In the $3475 were included contributions amounting to $4670 from the northern part of the State, a check for $2500 coming from Berkeley, one for $2150 from Salinas and a remittance of $20 from Los Gatos.

SANTA BARBARA FUND

The Times will receive, acknowledge by publication and deliver to the authorized agents of the California Development Association any sums sent to this paper as contributions to the $1,100,000 fund to be raised by the association for emergency and charitable work in stricken Santa Barbara.

The Times itself started the fund with a donation of $10,000 and takes this occasion to urge all loyal Californians, individuals, organizations, companies, etc., to give to the extent of their abilities. The need is urgent. Santa Barbara has pluckily refused eastern help in the belief that California will take care of her own. Let her be not disappointed!

Contributions may be made through any bank or newspaper, the Chamber of Commerce or the California Development Association, Garland Building, Los Angeles. If sent to The Times, checks should be made payable to the Santa Barbara Fund.

Up to 4 p.m. yesterday contributions received by The Times were as follows:

Previously acknowledged	$47,243.94
Troy Motor Sales Company	200.00
Lost Angels of KHJ, Program of Sept. 5th	15.15
Mr. and Mrs. T. P. M.	10.00

EX-COLLECTOR CARTER SUED FOR TAX REFUND

After being unable to adjudicate his claim for a refund of income tax payments, William E. Bush, automobile dealer, yesterday filed a damage suit against former Collector of Internal Revenue Carter in the United States District Court. Mr. Bush asserted that due to improper assessment on the part of Mr. Carter he was obliged to pay $2427.69 on his 1917 income, which he seeks to have returned, with interest. The claim had been carried unsuccessfully to the Internal Revenue Court of Appeal.

Driver Suffers Serious Injuries in Auto Crash

Leonard Lytell of 835 Virginia avenue suffered serious and possibly mortal hurts yesterday in a crash of autos at Ninth and Flower streets. Detective Lieutenant Hamilton, who investigated, reported that Lytell, driving fast, struck the machine of Robert Primm, 2222 West Fifteenth street, and was jamed against his own steering wheel, receiving a skull fracture and broken ribs. Primm was not hurt. Lytell was taken to Receiving Hospital.

BURGLAR SUSPECT TAKEN AFTER YEAR

Ending a search of more than a year, Deputy Sheriffs Brooks and West yesterday arrested Felipe Pina, suspected of fifteen burglaries in the vicinity of Baldwin Park and Azusa. Pina was taken into custody in Owensmouth. His asserted partner in the burglaries was convicted a year ago and is serving a term in San Quentin.

ONLY THE FEW

An Illinois bandit was knocked out with a wooden leg; but everybody cannot have one of those things.

RIGHT TO SLEEP

Arresting a man for sleeping in a theater is surely an invasion of personal rights. With some of these shows a man simply has to sleep.

THE DINNER BELL

The housewife who sets a swell table has no trouble in assembling company. The dinner bell is also the sound that may be heard 'round the world.

PATHS OF GLORY

The first girl to swim the English Channel may not be a Jane Addams or a Florence Nightingale, but she is sure to get her picture in the paper, costume and all.

THE DOUBLE LIFE

A Chicago man was able to keep two nobby domestic establishments for three years by reason of his bootlegging business. It seems that in this game everybody sees double.

A MOVIE KING

It is announced that ex-King George of Greece, who is in London, is going into the movies. There are a lot of queens in the business and there should be space for a king or two.

PERILS OF THE ROAD

Driving while infatuated is almost as hazardous as driving while intoxicated. No man can do justice to the road and the lives of his fellows while he is keeping clinches with his sweetie.

JUST MEDIUM

The real Spiritualists are making honest and vigorous efforts to put fakers and frauds out of commission, but it is a large order. An outsider would probably get more of a kick out of a crooked medium than a straight one, and that is perhaps a reason why the game of duplicity goes merrily on.

SAVE THE OCEAN

Some of the beach frontage on Long Island, near New York, has been selling at $2500 a foot. Imagine what our Pacific Ocean would be worth at that rate. Some of it has already brought more than $1000 a foot, so, if public possession in the future is to be assured, now is the time to clinch the preliminaries.

SHAKE HANDS

President Coolidge shook hands with more than 47,000 different persons last year and it was not a particularly good year for hand-shaking at that. If the President wasted a couple of minutes of conversation with each shake it would use up twenty days' working time to cover these greetings. The handshake is quite an institution, but no time-saver, either.

EASY PROMISER

The junior La Follette promises the Wisconsin voters that he will faithfully fulfill and carry on the policies and principles to which his father was committed. It is remembered, however, that while the senior La Follette talked much and pledged many things, there was no delivery of the goods. The elder La Follette was a magnificent fault-finder, but a poor bridge-builder. The son indicates no superiority.

THE ROAD MAKERS

Hard roads are no longer luxuries. They are necessities and the trouble is to get them hard enough. There are now more than 500,000 miles of surfaced highways in this country and new construction is going on at the rate of nearly 50,000 miles a year. It takes much more than $1,000,000,000 every year just to provide smooth passage for Lizzie. It seems to be worth while, but it is too bad that road-building cannot be made a more permanent investment.

AMONG THE BUGS

There are over 1,000,000 kinds of insects in the world—and this does not include the bugs from Detroit, either. Every now and then an insect plague will break out in some section and the pests will furnish grave problems to cope with. No wonder that some prophetic scientists have predicted that in the last great conflict between mankind and the insect world the bugs will win. Most of the insects reproduce themselves to such an extent that if left undisturbed for a few generations their very bulk would fill the spaces of the world as we know it today. And a generation with most insects may be a matter of but a few days or hours. Experts in the Department of Agriculture estimate the annual damage to American crops of all kinds as a result of various kinds of insect pests will reach nearly $1,000,000,000. No wonder the farmer needs the aid of the birds in his fight for existence.

OUR GREAT FESTAL DAY

Hang all the banners on the outward wall. Let cheers resound and music swell the breeze. This is the seventy-fifth birthday of the Golden State, the day of days in our Diamond Jubilee.

California is one of the few States that annually commemorate their admission to the Union. September 9 is always an important date with our people and on this seventy-fifth anniversary of their Statehood they are outdoing themselves in holiday festivities.

Quite appropriately the scene of the most elaborate of these fiestas is the pioneer city of San Francisco into which the gold-seekers of '49 rushed in such a mighty stream as to swell California's population overnight, as it were, to a number sufficient to warrant her claim to Statehood. And recognizing San Francisco as the proper place for the central demonstration of this Diamond Jubilee, Los Angeles and the other large cities of the State, while they will have their own celebrations and will fitly observe Admission Day at home, gladly join the Bay City in its brilliant festival and are doing their best to make it a most momentous occasion.

While September 9, 1850, the day on which California came into the Union, was a highly important one for the people of this sunset land, it also was of extreme importance to the republic. Long before the Mexican War annexation was in the air. President Polk announced on taking office in 1845 that the acquisition of California by the United States was one of the great objects and tasks of his administration. Daniel Webster, in a letter to his son soon after the admission of Texas, said that "the port of San Francisco would be twenty times as valuable to us as all Texas." And Minister Thompson wrote from the City of Mexico, "It will be worth a war of twenty years to prevent England from acquiring California." "Manifest destiny," it was said, had decreed that California should become a part of the United States.

Yet after the Mexican treaty was signed and California had become a part of the American domain the Federal authorities were so slow in acting upon the appeal of the Californians for Statehood that the people took the matter into their own hands, adopting a constitution, electing State officers and choosing a capital many months before a State government was authorized by Congress. By many in the East the irregular action of our people was deemed illegal, but when it was fully ratified by Congress there no longer was any question as to its legality.

Unlike the other Western States, California never was a Territory. Like Minerva, who sprang full panoplied from the brow of Jove, she leaped into Statehood at a bound. And it was a splendid thing for America, for the many millions in gold dug from her soil helped as much as anything to preserve the Union in the awful struggle of the 'sixties.

Think what a pioneer of 90, who as a boy of 15 looked about at California's rude beginnings, must feel as he now gazes upon the teeming cities, the vast expanse of orchard and farm, the wonderful system of roadways and all the wealth and beauty of a highly developed, well-ordered civilization—over 4,000,000 people where in the days of his youth there were less than 40,000; thousands of miles of railroads, telephone and telegraph wires, tall skyscrapers and a myriad of towering oil derricks where before there was none. What a picture is presented to that pioneer in contrast with the amorphous and conglomerate one of rude shanties, adobe buildings and rutty roadways sprawling over a very sparsely inhabited country, where the inhabitants were in such mad pursuit of gold as to look lightly upon lawless deeds and wild justice, and yet with the finger of destiny pointing them to that higher and better order of things which now prevails and which will improve with the coming years.

From the day of manana to the day of whirlwind activity—truly it has been a wonderful transition. And greater events are before us, for mankind, ever progressing, will come to its fullest flower in this great land by the Pacific sea.

FLOATING CLASSROOMS

A floating college is the latest contribution to higher education. New York University has chartered a vessel which will carry forty educators and 450 students on an eight months' cruise, visiting many of the principal ports and parts of the world. This adventure in education is an experiment that will be watched with interest by the country, for it is a departure from established form and usage.

That such a system will have its advantages is unquestioned. The students will receive first-hand information concerning the major parts of the world. Distances will be fixed in their minds by actual experience, and the burden on the mind of memorizing facts and figures taken from books will be lessened. The students will learn to know by personal contact the peoples of the world. Historic monuments will be indelibly fixed in their minds through right contact. There will be days of solitude for mental research and other days for sight-seeing.

But will as much be accomplished in the eight months' course riding about the world as in the cloister of a modern university? Will there be diversions that will affect injuriously sober study? Will these men and women, at the end of their cruise, be able to pass as satisfactory examinations for promotion as those who have remained at home and seen the world only through their mind's eye?

These questions cannot be answered until the cruise is completed next summer and the examinations have actually taken place. If the experiment is successful it will open a new field for university instruction. Mere book learning will no longer be supreme; and the lack of experience which is a defect to present university education will be remedied.

Education through actual contact with life is in line with modern development. The book worm who receives his knowledge of the world in which he lives only through the medium of the printed page may finally be numbered with the extinct species. The years of "cramming" necessary to secure a university degree are regarded by many as partly wasted. Facts and theories are consumed faster than they can be assimilated; and it is traditional that the average graduate could not return to his college after a period of five years and pass successfully the freshman examination. This is because the memory has retained only a part of the nourishment taken through the cramming process.

It is possible that the floating-college experiment may lead to an improvement. But all that is possible does not actually take place. The present system of education has endured for at least 2500 years. In fact, it dates back still farther than that. The new plan of rambling about the world while taking one's collegiate course may not tend to closer application. At best it is an experiment, interesting to be sure; but, like evolution, a hypothesis, but not a proven fact.

BATHING BEAUTIES

Mayor Davie of Oakland deserves the thanks of all respectable citizens. He has taken a stand against bathing-girl revues. He refused to meet a certain "Miss California" for publicity purposes.—[Editorial comment in a San Francisco paper.

Evidently Mayor Davie does not object to the bathing beauties bathing; but their failure to bathe when they are ready to bathe does not appeal to him.

If the girls will really bathe when they are prepared to do so the world is unanimously in favor of their complete freedom in the matter. But when they require the Mayor to chaperon them from the bathhouse to the water there is little wonder that His Honor of Oakland draws the line.

This does not seem to be great work for the Mayor of a large city. Occasionally matters of government come in for part of his time.

Then there are some who think that bathing revues are hardly necessary in these golden days. Much revue can be had along the public street without resorting to the beaches.

There was a time when the drama was necessary for revues of a character; but that institution has fallen into decadence for lack of an audience. Some believe the follies on the streets have removed the demand for displays on the stage.

OH, SHUCKS!

"The chemical engineering department at Ames, Iowa, finds that cornstalks are worth $150 a ton at present prices when converted into paper. Prof. O. K. Sweeney has manufactured paper of fine quality from cornstalks and he believes it can be made to match any wood pulp paper in quality."—News item.

Cotton seeds were once waste—they were worse than waste—they were an impediment. Now they are one of the best by-products of the cotton crop.

Gasoline itself was once a by-product of the crude oil industry. It is the prime product today. Matters have a way of reversing themselves in this world.

Cornstalks waving their tattered garments in the December wind may assume more than a scare-crow dignity in the near future. "It is not worth shucks" may have to be revised.

The wood pulp industry is eating up the forests. A paper famine occurred not long ago. It may occur again almost any time. Paper prices now need Calvin Coolidge.

But just when it begins to look as if the poet will have to cease his trade for the want of something to write on, along comes a new process to recover vast resources that have been thought utterly worthless.

The despised shuck may yet perpetuate Shakespeare. Old Daddy Cornstossel may yet rescue the refined sensitive Browning from utter oblivion. Caesar and Socrates may yet owe their posthumous lives to the Iowa farmer with a paint brush on his chin.

The man who raised more corn to fatten more hogs to make more money to buy more land to raise more corn may have to eliminate the hogs and substitute cornstalks. However, he can raise pigs as a by-product.

Inasmuch as Iowa corn has had much to do with California ascendency, we shall now take a new interest in shucks. Iowa will no longer be just first in hogs, first in corn and first in the stomachs of her countrymen; she will also be first in the books and brains of her countrymen!

GRAVE MOISTURE

The organization of Veterans of Foreign Wars has just passed a resolution asking Congress to repeal the prohibition amendment. They may imagine that Congress may chuck the Eighteenth Amendment out of the Constitution by taking a vote, but it is not thus easily disposed of. The members have years of waiting ahead before the bottle could be restored. It takes more than a gesture to either abolish prohibition or enforce it. Are the veterans of foreign wars trying to start a little domestic one?

Just About It
by James J. Montague

TOO AMBITIOUS

I have wondered if the college for the movies,
Which a man of wealth is just about to start,
Will not lessen the attraction of the cinegraphis action,
And cut down the present profits of the art.
If the heroes are instructed in repression
And make love in a polite and cultured way—
Cutting out the rough-house fashion of exemplifying passion
Who will ever want to go to see them play?

If the heroines are tutored in the drama,
Most of those that have the looks can't do their stuff.
Peaches, we admit are charming, but their dumbness is alarming,
And to cut 'em out would certainly be rough.
If they side track all the Junos for Minervas—
And made intellect the only test of fame,
Movies would be more artistic, but we're rather pessimistic,
And we can't see much real money in the game.

If the lines that now are written for the titles,
Were reduced to simple English, plain and clear—
Though the addience might read 'em, I don't think that it would heed 'em,
Or be moved to shed a single salty tear.
They are used to language lofty and poetic,
Common speech has come to be beyond their ken,
If they couldn't thread the mazes of those old exalted phrases,
I don't think that they would ever come again.

I am always very strong for education,
But its processes are always somewhat slow,
And no swift spasmodic movement will achieve a great improvement
In the present form of moving picture show.
If the man who means to found this modern college
Wants the work he hopes that it will do to tell,
He must shell out bales of dollars and include among his scholars—
All the people in the audience, as well!

A JUBILEE OF CALIFORNIA
Aetatis LXXV

Hail, birthday of the Golden State,
So fair, so young, so gay!
The joys that in thy seasons wait,
Will never pass away.
The generations come and go
And, oh, it seems to me,
Age lingers in thy sunset glow,
Yet travels cheerily!

Life's finest gifts of God are ours;
Of earth and sea and sky;
The ripening fruits, the gracious flowers,
The streams that sparkle by.
From ancient charms of Greece and Rome
To our dear vales and trees;
Where have they built a better home
In twenty centuries?

Hail California! Love endears
The beauty on thy brow!
A single lifetime spans the years
From chaos unto now.
Hail California! Joy is ours;
It sparkles in each eye
And only one chill shadow lowers—
Of finis and good-by!

Defends Mr. Hearst

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your accounts of the political battle in New York between William Randolph Hearst and Gov. Smith impress me as only making things worse. It is bad enough that the Governor should unveil the private life of his rival without The Times giving publicity to the facts. In this connection you should realize that nearly all great men have their frailties, which are tactfully overlooked by the rank and file. Most of the famous political publicists in the nation's story have had their loves, their passions and their peccadilloes. These have not only been ignored by the people, but discreetly suppressed. They were kept in the dark. If a public man has the impulse and the means to maintain a mistress or a whole harem of mistresses, who should say him nay? It should be nobody's business. The best interests of society compel a silence. It is a matter between the individual and his conscience. Certainly the Governor of a great State has no right or warrant to censor the career of one of its foremost citizens. We who are acquainted with Mr. Hearst's ambitions and desires know that he is inspired by only the highest impulses. He is genuinely concerned with the betterment of mankind. Even his interest in the movie folk is centered wholly in his passionate urge for the creation of finer and cleaner pictures. He has dedicated a large part of his labors to the advancement of the screen drama. As he has so often said in his papers, he has in mind the safety of the American home. It is not right that his private life should be held up to public scorn by Gov. Smith. These are matters with which the masses can have no proper concern. The Times itself would do better by maintaining a dignified silence. HARRY BARKER.

Old Stuff

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—[To the Editor of the Times:] In reading the "History of the Four Georges," by Justin McCarthy, I find that the British Parliament in 1737 passed a Gin Act "prohibiting the sale of gin, or at least laying so heavy a duty on it as to put it altogether out of reach of the poor." This appears to have been an unpopular measure, for we read "only the most energetic action on the part of the authorities prevented the discontent from breaking into wholesale disturbance." "Public opinion among the populace was too decidedly against it to allow of its being made a reality," and later we read that the agitation continued for two years only only died down "when the legislation which had caused so much tumult was quickly allowed to become a dead letter." Let us see that the voice of the populace is not allowed to do the same today. "DRY."

Stinging Tongues

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your issue of this date is a letter by Rev. C. F. Aked, D.D. LL.D, on "America, World Crime Center." He omitted mentioning the murder of character by venomous tongues, which is one of the worst forms of murder.

LIKE KELLY DID

BY LEE SHIPPEY

One of the most reliable, old, vaudeville comedy duo standbys was the joke about Kelly's demise. In case you have forgotten, it went like this:

"Did you hear about Kelly's getting drowned? He was on that ship that ran into an iceberg and had to jump overboard without a life preserver."

"But I thought Kelly was a fine swimmer."

"He was, but a good union man, too. He swam fine for eight hours, but just as he was getting near land he heard a whistle blow and wouldn't swim another stroke."

It always got a good laugh because the very idea of anybody swimming eight hours in the ocean seemed ridiculous. But the other day Gertrude Ederle, a girl still in her teens, swam eight hours against the swift, treacherous, icy current of the English Channel—or "the Sleeve," as the French call it, because of its shape. A few days before that a French girl had swam for about the same length of time in a similar effort, and an English girl had swum for more than seven hours.

When you get worried by the idea that the race is deteriorating just think of things like that. Probably never before was the world as a whole so interested in sports and health as it is today. The swimming of the Hellespont, compared to the efforts of those girls, was child's play.

It is said that a vaudeville joke never dies. But the physical advance of humanity has certainly put a crimp in that old one about Kelly.

BRYAN LEAVES FORTUNE

"In the name of God, farewell." began the will of William Jennings Bryan, written by himself a few days before his death, in which he disposes of an estate valued at $850,000 with characteristic phrases. In it he told of his deep interest in religion and, after making contributions to Methodist and Presbyterian churches, set aside $50,000 to establish an academy for boys to be in charge of a church, "Presbyterian preferred," where students would wear uniforms of blue and gray "to symbolize the reunion of the North and South."

Bryan stipulated that care should be taken to see that his money "is given only to schools that are firmly committed to orthodox Christianity, including the making of man by separate act in God's image, the virgin birth and bodily resurrection of the Savior."—[The Pathfinder.

OLD CALIFORNIA DAYS RECALLED

Soroptimists Conjure Up Visions of Past

State Historians Tell of Forgotten Legends

Songs of Spanish Regime Enliven Program

BY MYRA NYE

Seventy-five years ago today California was admitted into the Union by act of Congress. News of the legislative measure did not reach the people of the new State until October 18, so long did it take to relay a message by pony express. Today, if so important a milestone in history were reached, news would be at hand in fewer seconds than the thirty-eight days that intervened between the act in 1850 and the information to those most concerned.

Illuminating contrasts similar to this one, interesting reviews of bits of history and flashes of the charming old romance of California, were reflected yesterday, when the Soroptimists celebrated the diamond jubilee of California's admission to the Union. Miss Grace Stoermer, native daughter, past president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, and now chairman of history and landmarks for the California Federation of Women's Clubs, was the chairman of the occasion.

With the Southland's most gorgeous golden flowers of early autumn banking the table, the flag of California and Old Glory for background in gold and old blue ballroom of the Biltmore, 300 lovers of California—old and new—mingled with the one theme, "I Love You, California," uppermost in their thoughts.

"Things that last are not those we buy or sell or weigh," said Charles F. Lummis, whose subject was "California Missions." "It is not gold, nor oil nor climate that is the great asset of California. It is its romance and those things that differentiate the State from the grind of the money mill. It is for you and me who love California to educate the people to an appreciation of these great beauties that we may all be a little less brutally ignorant of its heroic Homeric gold rush of '49; a little less brutally careless of its romance and beauties." The veteran lover and writer of California went on in impassioned plea to speak for the missions, and especially for the one at Santa Barbara.

PLEADS FOR MISSION

"Santa Barbara is one of the few places fit to live in. In the recent disaster I lost a dear friend; I lost the hope of ever seeing beloved beauties that once were there. If all the skyscrapers in the State had been wiped out it would have mattered less than this one catastrophe to Santa Barbara's mission. Not so much as a church do we love it, but as a monument of old California. As a monument we would reclaim it. No other State can show such glorious self-sacrifice in its history, such high and noble spirit in its purpose as indicated by the missions. As we love California let us show it by our aid in saving this mission as a monument for generations to come."

With a degree of earnestness only a little less, F. P. Morris, representing the president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, spoke in behalf of the relief work for the people of the stricken city.

To Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes was left the distinction of presenting the charm of California in her subject: "The Poppy and Its Legend."

"The poppy is the essence of our sunshine," she said. "Though slender of stem and fragile of silken petal, it represents the lasting beauty of the land, the gold of the hills and the valleys. When first the lovely land was seen by white people it was called the Land of Fire because of the flame of poppies. They were named sacred to San Pasqual and for an altar cloth before him the devout believed the golden weave of poppies was spread in the valleys before the altars of the mountains.

POPPY LEGENDS

"In 1903 an act of Legislature made the poppy the State flower officially, though long loved as such," continued Mrs. Forbes. "It was called botanically, Eschscholtzia, from a Russian scientist, Dr. Eschscholtz, who came with the Russian expedition in 1815. But the beauty-loving Spaniards did not like the ugly name and called it copa d'oro—heart of gold. How much more beautiful! The Indians called the golden flower chips from off the sun, believing the love god had cast a meteor from the sky and the poppies were its scattered gold. So it is indeed today, God's gold that knows no miser's hold," concluded this pioneer lover of California, who was the one to bell the road, the King's Highway, El Camino Real, each mile from Sonoma to San Diego, and who again awakened the old thrill of enthusiasm for California for those who had long known it.

Hon. Joseph Ford as speaker of the day, with the subject "Admission Day," gathered together the threads that the others had spun and wove them into an inspiring California oration for an audience more and more receptive from the toast to California, gracefully proposed by Miss Stoermer, to Mr. Ford's peroration.

In song, too, the romance of California came to the people gathered about the flower-centered tables. The old Spanish-California folk songs that Gertrude Ross has brought to this generation were sung again. Mrs. Ross told how she had first heard them sung by Spanish senoritas as they strummed their guitars in the adobe patios of Santa Barbara.

OLD AIRS SUNG

The words and music as arranged by Mrs. Ross of Carmela and Un Pajarito were sung by Elizabeth Lloyd Toohey, dressed in Spanish costume. Mrs. Ross accompanied at the piano. Gae Imlah, with Mildred Sanger House at the piano, sang the more modern but still very lovely California airs by Carl Bronson, "My California" and "The Sun Shines Bright in California." Mrs. W. E. Mabie led in the community singing of "America" and F. W. Silverwood's "California."

In place of the usual attendance prize, Miss Stoermer's innovation of prize giving was novel and delightful. Members and guests of the club were allowed to draw slips from a basket, three of which out of 300 bore dates. Those who drew them, if able to qualify by telling what the dates signified, were given autographed copies of books by the three California authors, Mr. Lummis, Mrs. Forbes and John Stephen McGroarty.

Though many women were present, two of the three to qualify were men. W. L. Fuller guessed correctly that the date, September 28, 1542, was the day that first the eyes of Caucasian men saw the land of California; Miss Mary Taylor, a member of the club, guessed that July 16, 1769, was the day the first mission of California was founded, and added correctly that the mission was San Diego. Wayne Alles had the easy guess, but won "History and Romance of California," by Mr. McGroarty, in stating that September 9, 1850, was the day California was admitted to the Union.

Miss Elizabeth Houghton, a member of the club, was introduced as a daughter of a member of the Donner party, who came to California in 1846.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Frank Reiter, manager of Oaks Tavern, Fourth and Hill streets, announces the engagement at the Tavern of Rod Loring's famous orchestra. The Loring orchestra played formerly in the Greenwich Village in Hollywood, and in its new capacity will be known as the Oaks Tavern Syncopators Supreme.

An afternoon dansant is held in the Tavern each afternoon from 12:30 to 4:30. The orchestra plays also every day from 6:30 in the evening until 1 o'clock the following morning.

The orchestra is composed of Fred Rose, pianist; Steve Stevenson, trumpet; Al Horn, saxophone and clarinet, and Rod Loring, leader and violinist. Miss Betty Abbott assists as a soloist.

The new Plaza Marine Cafe to be located in the new Plaza Hotel in Hollywood will be opened in the near future, according to Mrs. Michael Klemtner, who will operate the cafe as well as continue to conduct the Klemtner Marine Yacht on South Spring street, between Sixth and Seventh.

Mrs. Klemtner, who has just returned from a trip through the Eastern States, announces that an innovation will be started soon in her Spring-street cafe. A quick-service luncheon for business men will be inaugurated.

Dorothy Devore, Warner Brothers' film star, will be the guest of honor at the Hollywood Montmartre Cafe this evening at which time Eddie Brandstatter will present a unique vaudeville entertainment in honor of Admission Day.

Miss Devore will also act as judge for the special series of Admission Day prize dances, included in which is a Charleston dance contest. Prof. O. E. Moore, saxophone artist, will act as master of ceremonies, and will introduce several vaudeville entertainers and a number of screen stars who have volunteered to assist in Admission Day festivities.

The feminine winner of the dancing contest will be presented with a merchandise order from Society Stationery Shoppe at Vogue's, while her partner will be awarded a Brandstatter trophy.

The usual matinee dansants including the autumn fashion promenade on Wednesdays and the fall style display on Saturdays will be held this week.

Elaborate preparations are being made by Ward McFadden to celebrate Admission Day today in his Ship Cafe on the Venice pier with continuous festivities from noon to the wee sma' hours of Thursday morning.

The Ship is famed as a unique California institution, and is the rendezvous for many native sons. Reservations have been made for many large parties of celebrants.

Balloon and other novelty dances will be staged. Walter Lyon and his Ship Cafe orchestra are rehearsing a special repertoire of dance music featuring the melodies of the forty-niners and patriotic airs.

Betty Ellen and Lucile Downald, dancers, have returned to the Greenwich Village Cafe in Hollywood, and are welcomed there by patrons of that restaurant.

The usual Wednesday evening dancing contest will be held there this evening, with a prize offered to the winners.

Joe Robbins's popular Georgia Syncopators are furnishing the music in the Greenwich Village Cafe.

Harry M. Miller, proprietor of Miller's Cafe Lafayette, has engaged Maxie Amsterdam and his Hungarian stringed orchestra as a regular Sunday night attraction in the popular Wilshire district restaurant.

Amsterdam, who has achieved national attention as a violin soloist, is well known for his arrangements of musical compositions for stringed instruments and his novel orchestrations. His orchestra includes first violin, second violin, viola, 'cello, bass viol and harp. Each of the musicians is a member of the Philharmonic Orchestra.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN AUTO-STEALING CASE

Thomas B. Richards pleaded not guilty before Federal Judge James yesterday to an indictment charging him with driving a stolen automobile from New York City to Los Angeles. Date of trial was set for November 3. Richards declared when arrested his name was Clayton C. Jones, he was the scion of a wealthy family and would lose a vast inheritance if ever convicted of a crime. Relentless Department of Justice agents, however, state they can disprove his statements, and convince a jury he stole the car, belonging to a woman, after a party at a New York hotel.

St. John's Church, on West Adams street at Figueroa, will be the scene this evening of one of the prettiest of the early fall weddings when Miss Arvilla Cooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wendell Cooley of 1327 West Adams street, will become the bride of Goodwin J. Knight, the ceremony being read at 8 o'clock by Rev. Charles Gardner, D.D., chaplain of Stanford University, where Mr. Knight is an alumnus, Rev. George A. Davidson assisting.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father and, following the ceremony, a wedding dinner will be served at the Biltmore for the bridal party. Mrs. Alonzo West will assist as the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will include Miss Rosemary Howe, Miss Virginia Smith and Miss Sarah Margaret Burns, while little Dorothy and Virginia Wright, cousins of the bride, will be the dainty flower girls. Barkman McCabe has been chosen by Mr. Knight to serve as best man, while the ushers will be Thomas Reynolds, Wylie Bent, Leonard Comegys and Frederick Aberle. Miss Cooley was graduated from Los Angeles High School and later from the College of the Holy Names in Oakland, while Mr. Knight, a Stanford and Cornell man, is an Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity member.

After an extended wedding trip Mr. Knight and his bride will make their home here.

Wounded Bandit Admits Part in Hellman Hold-up

Anthony Klasper, captured in a gun battle, after the robbery of the Hellman Bank branch, at Seventh street and Santa Fe avenue, yesterday went before the grand jury and freely admitted taking part in the robbery, it was said. The grand jury, accordingly, indicted him jointly with Edward Franta, alias Ed Levitte, alias Ed Holmes, and Charles Schultz, alias Ed Schultz, for the murder of Police Officer Wylie E. Smith, who died from wounds received in the fight. The latter two are still at large.

Franta's brother, identified as a Chicago gunman, also was killed in the exchange of shots with police. While admitting his part in the robbery, Klasper, it was said, stoutly denied any shooting. The robbers lost the entire amount they took from the bank branch, when they were forced to desert their car and flee. Klasper was wounded, and so was captured.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

HELP FOR OTHER PIGS

"Dear Doctor: When I began to diet, I went on a liquid diet and by the third day was not at all hungry. When I began, I weighed 265, and in seven months I lost fifty pounds and now weigh 215. My heart doesn't bother me any longer, nor does the blood rush to my head and keep me awake for hours, as it used to. Also, my numbness, cramps in the limbs, headaches and sour stomach and foot troubles, are gone.

"I was 58 last December. I am tall, but was as solid as a hard rubber ball and did not look so heavy. I think I will have to make trouble for you, as all my clothes are too large for me and I have no time to make new ones. God bless you, Dr. Lulu; may you live long to help other pigs like myself! —Mrs. M."

It is refreshing to have such an honest confession. So many overweighters think, or at least say, that they do not eat much. But the overweight speaks louder than the words. Piggies are walking advertisements that even though they do not eat very much they eat more than their needs. Thank you for writing, Mrs. M. You are going to keep on until you are normal weight aren't you? I run your letter because such letters help me in the best possible way to get over my public health message.

(Notice what a lot of disorders disappeared with Mrs. M.'s fat! The booklet on reducing can be had for the request and a s.a.s.e. plus 10 cents in stamps.)

ULCERATIVE COLITIS

Miss L.—Ulcerative colitis is a very serious and painful disease and is not one for home treatment. You should be under the care of a physician.

Different methods are used by different physicians. Usually some form of medication by mouth is used, sometimes colonic irrigations with antiseptics or acidophilus milks, heat in the form of hot compresses or electric light apparatus, rest in bed and diet. (We have a list of firms who manufacture this acidophilus milk, if you will send a self-addressed and stamped envelope with your request.)

Drs. Crohn and Rosenberg of New York, in a paper on the subject of Non-Specific Ulcerative Colitis (nonspecific means that it is not caused by ulcerations from typhoid or from amebic dysentery, et cetrera) say that they give to cases in their care a rather full diet, avoiding foods that would leave a residue. They found orange juice and lemon juice in small amounts are beneficial in most cases. They allow bread, cereals and potatoes, but not in large amounts.

Two of the doctors who discussed the paper called attention to the beneficial effects of acidophilus milk, given by mouth and injected high up in the colon.

The acidophilus germs are normal in the intestines and are friendly germs. Under wrong diet, they are very often ousted by the putrefactive germs which are decidedly unfriendly. Ordinary milk, or buttermilk, fresh vegetables and fruit favor the growth of the acidophilus germs but the acidophilus buttermilk is still more effective.

Experiments on animals show that ulcerations can be brought on by a diet that is deficient in the vitamines; that means, generally a diet deficient in fresh fruits, fresh vegetables and milk.

J.—Our booklet on the Care of the Hair, Dandruff and Greying Hair goes into the subject very fully. Send for it. (Inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.)

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

CITY RECEIVES DEED TO INCINERATOR SITE

The Board of Public Works yesterday received the deed for the nine acres of land at Twenty-second street and the Los Angeles River in the city of Vernon, on which will be built the municipal rubbish incinerator authorized by the voters two years ago. A bond issue of $600,000 was voted at that time for the purchase of a site and the building there of an incinerator. The city will pay for the land, $20,000 an acre, or $180,000 for the site. The city of Vernon has given the city of Los Angeles a perpetual right to operate the incinerator.

No Marks on the Paper

If tiny rubber squares are tacked on the back of pictures at the bottom, the lines left on the paper will be done away with and thus permit changing of decorations without embarrassment.

THE LAST WORD.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

IS MONEY OUR STANDARD?

So I did jeer a bit. . .

You see, two years ago this man had told me how it was his ambition to make better and finer pictures. He deplored so much of the trash that was being turned out. He hoped to be a producer himself soon and then he would show them. But that was then.

He has become a producer. His first picture was rather charming, above the average. Now he has produced another—trashy vulgarity ad nauseum.

And he assures me it is all the public's fault. The good picture just paid. Oh, yes, it made a profit, but only a small one. The bad pictures, which he admits he produced against his own conscience, is a money-getter. Very well. What is he to do? He must give the public what it wants.

So I jeered.

Because, you see, the trouble is that the good picture only made a small profit. But it did make a profit. Was it, therefore, a sufficient excuse for immediately abandoning ideals, principles?

ONLY A FAIR PROFIT

Suppose we apply that excuse in other departments of life. In sports, for instance. Should one cheat if the advantage is greater? Or in card-playing—should one cheat if that way our winnings will be greater? In business—if the shady deal is the more profitable, is it then good ethics to lower the standards?

In politics, in law, in college, in religion, in love, in matrimony—is it all right to cast one's own best standards to the winds when the shady, tricky, messy way offers larger monetary rewards or other coveted advantages?

Are profit, reward, advancement, promotion the only vital things? When the good way doesn't bring as quick and as large rewards as the bad way, is the bad way then justifiable?

Well, it isn't in my profession. I don't believe any other profession or industry would try to justify any such viewpoint.

HE ASKS FOR SYMPATHY

But this man is actually asking for sympathy and understanding approval. He thinks it most unreasonable of me to jeer—I, who he had thought so logical and broadminded. He is most disappointed in me. I ought to be sorry for him having to lower his standards, bury his own best principles—because of the vulgar tastes of the public.

But even in pictures, even in novels, we still have quite a mighty contempt for the young woman who marries the rich lover she doesn't love, instead of the poor lover she does love. Why? Isn't she justified? Can't the rich lover give her more? Our contempt is even more virulent for the man who marries the rich woman he despises and discards the sweet, poor girl that he—ahem—loves? (Hard to believe in the quality of that "love"—eh?)

The trouble seems to be that the standards of profit are too high in filmdom. Small profits won't do. Only big profits spell success. And success—in that form—is the standard.

Are the standards of principles too low in filmdom? They seem to stand ready to be sacrificed on any trifling count. They are not important—when they don't pay.

And any producer—the one I jeered at—is a very fair specimen. I have never heard so many fine yearnings as I have heard from filmdom—or seen them so casually abandoned when profits were meager.

[Editor's Note.—Mrs. Whitaker will gladly answer all confidential correspondence sent her in care of this paper.]

CIVIL WAR PARTY HURT AS BUS HIT

Four of Relief Corps and G.A.R. Member in Long Beach Crash

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Sept. 9.—Four members of the Women's Relief Corps and one member of the G.A.R. in Long Beach were injured here today when the motor bus in which they were riding collided with a heavy truck at Anaheim street and Pacific avenue. None of the injured is in a serious condition. The bus, en route to a picnic at Pacific Palisades, and loaded with Civil War men and women was struck in the rear by a truck driven by A. Startungburg, according to police records.

Occupants of the bus were tossed about and one man was thrown partly through a glass window. Those injured were Dr. A. Reed, leader of the G.A.R. Fife and Drum Corps; Mrs. Emma Kaiser, 430 East State street; Mrs. Mary Minter, 338 Pacific avenue, mother of Assistant Fire Chief Minter; Mrs. M. H. Perry, 3950 Obispo avenue; Mrs. O. A. McElwain, 834 Coronado avenue. The injured were treated in offices of near-by physicians.

Bernard Burke, 21 years of age, of 1125 Grand Avenue, employed by the city as a street cleaner, was struck by an auto at Fourth street and Temple avenue early this morning while at work. Physicians at Seaside Hospital reported he had sustained injuries to his back. The driver of the car which struck him is said by police to be Mrs. Alice Clark, 2034 East Fifteenth street.

SINGER JAILED ON BAD-CHECK CHARGE

George Page Willey, tenor and self-asserted member of an opera company, yesterday was jailed on two charges of forgery which he is said to admit, according to Dep. Dist. Atty. Joss. He was arrested by Investigators Chrisa and Ryan. It is asserted he signed a fictitious name, Charles F. Denny, to two checks, one for $1455, which he tried unsuccessfully to cash at a bank, and the other for $3485, with which he bought an automobile from Prendegast & Wagoner, Inc., and got some change, also.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

For Longer Wear

Silk stockings should never be left in a soiled condition for a number of days after once removing them. Wash the hose immediately, as the moisture of the feet rots them.

Know Your Flour

Good flour has a white color with a slightly yellowish or straw-colored tint. If the flour is very white or has black specks in it, it is poor. Wet and knead a little between the fingers. If it works dry and elastic, it is good, but if it is soft and sticky it is of poor quality.

Tiny Tips

Never allow the silver to stay unwashed overnight.

Sponge the grass stains with alcohol and the ordinary laundering will finish the job.

Heat the food chopper in boiling water before running raisins through it and they will not stick.

Put some vinegar in the cleaning water for mirrors, windows and pictures and it will help greatly in keeping flies away from them.

Right After Meals

Give a piece of candy to the youngster immediately following the meal, never in between times. It takes very little to spoil a child's appetite and a piece of candy at the wrong time is very apt to do the trick.

Just a Little Bit

While the clothes of today are pretty flimsy, still a little starch in some of them would give a fresher look, cause them to stay clean longer and wash more readily. Try just a little and see if you don't like it.

Gathering Lace

When gathering fine lace, you will find at the top of the lace several threads running straight along. By pulling one thread and working the lace along you will be able to gather the lace quickly and with a prettier effect than when done by needle.

Home-Made Drinks

Milk shakes made at home are far more wholesome than soda-fountain concoctions and, if flavored with fruit or chocolate syrups, are inducements to the youngsters to have their drink at home where mother delights in the added nourishment to her brood.

Business in the Home

The efficient housekeeper reads her gas and electric meters periodically to see that they are not over-registering and causing unnecessarily large bills.

Nonstick Croquettes

When frying croquettes in a wire basket, plunge the basket into the hot fat before putting in the croquettes, then they will not stick to the wire or fall apart when taken out.

The Use of Door Knobs

Teach the kiddies to use the door knobs to open and close doors. With the white paint of today it means constant washing if dirty little hands push the doors shut by the framework.

Cook one small package of spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender, place in a colander and drain well. Place in a sauce pan three tablespoonfuls of olive oil, heat and add one chopped onion, one chopped sweet green pepper, and one mashed clove of garlic; cook until the onion is soft, then add one cupful of chopped round steak and cook until the meat is lightly browned; add two cupfuls of chopped tomatoes, one tablespoonful of chili powder, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley and a seasoning of salt. Simmer for fifteen minutes, add the cooked spaghetti and heat. Place on a deep platter, sprinkle with grated cheese and set in the oven until the cheese is melted.

BRAN MUFFINS

Sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with one teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, and six level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Place the flour mixture in a bowl and mix with it one and a half cupfuls of bran, half a cupful of seedless raisins, two beaten eggs, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, and two cupfuls of milk. Beat to a smooth batter and bake in muffin pans in a hot oven twenty minutes. This recipe will make one dozen large muffins.

SHOULDER OF VEAL

Have the butcher remove the bone from a four-pound shoulder of veal and tie and leave a pocket for dressing. Fill the pocket with a dressing made with one and a half cupfuls of cracker crumbs, five tablespoonfuls melted butter, five tablespoonfuls hot water, four teaspoonfuls chopped parsley, and one teaspoonful poultry spice mixed with half teaspoonful of salt. Cover the bottom of a roasting pan with one chopped onion, one chopped carrot, two stalks of celery chopped, one bay leaf, two whole cloves and two slices of bacon. Set the veal on a rack in the pan, add half a cupful of hot water, and bake one and a half hours, basting every fifteen minutes. Add pealed potatoes to the pan thirty minutes before removing from the oven. Place the roast on a hot serving platter, strain off the gravy, remove the fat and serve in a sauce boat. Season the roast with salt after it has been in the oven thirty minutes.

COMBINATION SALAD

Mix one cupful of cooked peas, one cupful of chopped white celery, one cupful of cooked string beans, two tablespoonfuls of chopped capers, one tablespoonful of chopped pimento, half a cupful of grated carrot, and two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped onion with half a cupful of French dressing. Cover salad plates with shredded lettuce, mound the mixture on the lettuce and garnish with mayonnaise and chopped pimento.

APPLE COBBLER

Peel, core and cut in eighths ten tart apples and place in a deep, oblong cake pan; sprinkle over apples the grated rind of one lemon, half a cupful of sugar mixed with two tablespoonfuls of cinnamon and four tablespoonfuls of butter broken in small pieces. Place in the oven until the apples are half cooked. Cover with a short biscuit dough, brush with melted butter and bake twenty minutes. Cut in squares and serve with orange and hard sauce.

The third annual National Radio Exposition, to be held until Saturday in Ambassador auditorium, according to J. A. Hartley, chairman of finance, is proving itself a decided impetus for the entire radio industry, not only locally, but throughout the United States, even affecting other nations.

Mr. Hartley based his declaration on the fact that scores of manufacturers are utilizing this exposition as a means of making national and world premieres of important items in the radio field, which have been developed by their inventors and scientists since the last important radio exposition was held.

As far east as the Atlantic seaboard makers of radio equipment have engaged in experimental work to evolve new things in radio, which are being given their first public introduction here, it was pointed out.

Magnitude of the Los Angeles exposition and the importance of the local radio field, according to Mr. Hartley, jointly are responsible for the wide interest being showered nationally on the event.

That the show is a thing of value to all visitors, whether they be radio fans or merely the layman who attends the show as a matter of satisfying his curiosity, was a statement attributed to Mr. Hartley. After scrutinizing a list of exhibits, he said there was no question but that the show is the outstanding radio event this year west of Chicago.

SETTLER OF EARLY DAYS DEAD HERE

Jean Cazaux Succumbs at 86 Years of Age After Long Residence

Jean Cazaux, a pioneer resident of Los Angeles, who came to this city fifty-seven years ago from France, died early yesterday morning at the family residence, 256 South St. Andrews Place. He was 86 years of age. His death is attributed to an attack of influenza and to the infirmities of age.

Born at Clen de Riviere Hourte Carome, France, Cazaux migrated to America in 1868, arriving in Los Angeles on October 7, of the same year. He was a retired dairyman and rancher.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Brendan's Church, Third street and Western avenue, with mass by Father William Ford. Interment will be at the Calvary Cemetery.

Cazaux leaves two sons and a daughter, William Cazaux, 2336 Berkeley avenue; Victor Cazaux, 256 South St. Andrew Place, and Mrs. Jennie Hauret, who lives at the corner of Beechwood Drive and Beverly Boulevard.

Los Angeles was but a pueblo when Cazaux arrived here. He first located his dairy ranch on the site of what now is Westlake Park. Later he moved to Slauson and Western avenues, and from there he moved to the district now known as New Windsor Square.

Cazaux retired from active business about fifteen years ago. A year ago on the occasion of the celebration of his eighty-fifth birthday, Cazaux recalled the pueblo days of Los Angeles, and of the visits to his ranch by the notorious Spanish bandit, Vasquez, whom Cazaux fed and then traded a new horse for the bandit's worn-out animal. Cazaux at that time, said he was never molested by Vasquez.

FIX TAX RATE FOR SAN BERNARDINO

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 8.—Board of Supervisors today fixed the county tax rate at $2.32 inside of cities and $2.32 outside of cities, an increase of seven cents over last year. This rate will be applied on an assessed valuation of $69,033,000 which is one-third the actual value.

The increase is represented in increased levy for school purposes and for bonds on the proposed new court house, the construction of which will start within two months. The supervisors today fixed the 17th inst. as the time it will auction off the houses on the site that was recently purchased at Third street and Arrowhead avenue.

LESSORS OF SLOT DEVICE WILL MEET

Federal Accountant Put to Auditing Books of Jeffries Company

A government accountant has been set to work on the books of the Jeffries Automatic Service Company, Asst. U. S. Atty. Ohhannesian announced yesterday. At the same time he was preparing to send out a letter to all the 8000 leaseholders, calling a mass meeting, so they might give expression to their wishes in regard to carrying on the business.

The company, which is said to have sold more than $2,700,000 in leases of sandwich slot machines throughout the country, is now being reorganized under the direction of Robert J. Menz. Mr. Mens and Mr. Ohhannesian are co-operating in seeking to find some basis whereby the leaseholders may recover their money.

Scores of women in the past week have appealed to Mr. Ohhannesian for advice, and he determined upon the plan of a mass meeting so a definite conclusion in respect to the future might be made.

Before the United States Attorney's office became interested in the case Mr. Menz had sent out requests to leaseholders to make assignments of their leases to the company for purposes of reorganization. This has been discontinued.

Further action by the United States Attorney will hinge upon the report of the Federal accountant and the postal inspectors.

Consul-General of Mexico in Far East Visits City

Gustave Luders de Negri, recently appointed Consul-General to represent Mexico in the Far East, arrived at the Biltmore yesterday on his way to Yokohama from New York, where he has held the post of Mexican Consul-General during the last two months.

"The change in posts was the result of a reorganization of the Mexican consular service following the re-establishment of relations between Mexico and England, which was effected a short time ago," said De Negri.

The Mexican was formerly for a number of years Consul-General in Hongkong. His jurisdiction at Yokohama will include not only Japan, but China and the other countries in the Orient as well as Australia and New Zealand.

DECREASE IN HOLIDAY DRUNKENNESS SHOWN

Arrests for Labor Day drunkenness showed a decrease of thirty-seven from last year's figures, according to police court returns yesterday, which showed: 1924, 148; 1925, 111. Police Judge Chambers offered the alternative of $20 or twenty days.

GUN ROUTE BEING SURVEYED

Engineers Test Bridges Over Which Great Railway Rifle Passes to Reach Fort MacArthur

Preparations are being completed for the transcontinental service test of the Army's greatest piece of ordnance; the fourteen-inch railway gun which is to be stationed at Fort MacArthur, according to advices received yesterday from Washington. The great rifle, weighing 250,000 pounds, after completion of the trip across the continent, will undergo test firings at the local port.

Officers at Fort MacArthur said yesterday that artillery and engineer officers are now engaged in a survey of the route over which the gun will travel on its way to Los Angeles. Stress tests will be made on numerous bridges and grades with a view to strengthening certain bridges or increasing clearances.

The rail lines in the harbor district and in the Southern California coast area over which the gun will operate will also be strengthened to withstand the stress of its operation, it was announced.

The new gun is the most powerful piece of ordnance of its type in the world and a propelling charge of 460 pounds of smokeless powder fires an explosive projectile weighing 1560 pounds twenty-five miles, or 44,000 yards. The gun is sixty feet in length, of 51.44 caliber, and was constructed at the Watervliet Arsenal, while the railway carriage was built at the Watertown Arsenal.

The carriage permits the gun to be fired from elevations minus seven to plus fifty and is equipped with a 145-horsepower gasoline engine to furnish power for the operation of the ammunition handling devices, maneuvering of the gun and air compression for operation of the breechblock.

Military strategists declare that with the new gun on station here and the Battle Fleet in the Pacific, Southern California will be impregnable from attack by sea, as no enemy fleet could successfully shell the coast from a distance of twenty-five miles.

MISUSE OF CASH DENIED BY CASHIER

Prisoner Faces Charge of Misapplying $47,000 in Bank's Funds

A plea of not guilty to an indictment charging the misapplication of $47,000 in funds of the First National Bank of Venice, was entered yesterday before Federal Judge Henning by R. R. Bailey, former cashier of the bank. The date for the trial will be set by the court next Monday.

Bailey is now in the County Jail, a bondsman who helped him obtain his freedom on $25,000 bonds having surrendered him.

The case first came to light in June, 1924, when Bailey went to Mexico City. His books, being audited, were found, it is said, to be $47,000 short. A national bank examiner was called in to make an investigation. When he returned from Mexico, Bailey, learning a warrant was out against him, surrendered himself to Undersheriff Biscailuz.

PADLOCK SUITS FILED ON CAFES

Maison Pierre and Two Others in Volstead Net

Owners of Buildings Said to Countenance Acts

Defendants May Put Up Bonds to Insure Behavior

Three padlock suits on Southern California cafes, including the Maison Pierre Cafe, were filed yesterday in the United States District Court. The litigation, inaugurated by Asst. U. S. Atty. Simpson, probably will wind on for some months before the key is turned, however.

The persons and places named are Joe Farinelli, proprietor of the Maison Pierre, 735 South Olive street, and J. P. Solomon, owner of the property; Mike Bebeck and Nick Megica, proprietors of the Yale Cafe, 218 West Ninth street, and Fred W. Leistikow, owner of the property; and Pablo Velarde and his wife, owners of a cafe at 759 South Seventh street, Colton.

Numerous violations of the Volstead Act are cited against each of the places, and the owners of the buildings are declared to have countenanced them.

The suit asks the court to issue subpoenas haling the defendants into court to show cause why the places named should not be enjoined and declared public nuisances. Bonds may be put up by the defendants to insure no further violations. In case the injunction is violated the cafes may be closed by order of the court for one year.

HENRY H. HARRIS SOUGHT

Henry Harold Harris is being sought, according to a letter received by The Times yesterday from his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Wallace of Natchez, Miss. Harris is 17 years of age, light complexion, and was last seen in New Braunfels, Tex., about a year ago.

WIFE TOLD PALS GAVE HIM WATCH

But Friend's Story of Present from Girl Gives Woman Her Freedom

Mrs. Edith Heedwohl used to think her husband's fraternity brothers must be very nice boys—just look at the handsome wrist watch they had given him as a slight token of their esteem.

But that was before she heard about Miss Eva Madison. She told Judge Gates about the whole affair when she appeared to obtain a divorce from Leslie J. Heedwohl.

"He always told me that the watch had been presented to him by his fraternity brothers," she said. "He had a silver cigarette case, too, and he explained that a man friend had given it to him. So I just brought his friend along with me to tell you the truth about the whole affair."

The "friend," whom Heedwohl had told his wife was the donor of the cigarette case, testified.

"No, I didn't give him any cigarette case," he said. "Heedwohl asked me to tell his wife I had if she ever asked me. But he told me his girl had given it to him. She gave him the watch, too, he said."

"I heard about him going to Tia Juana with Miss Madison," Mrs. Heedwhor related. "At first he denied having gone about with her, but he later admitted it."

Heedwohl was not in court. Judge Gates granted a decree to the wife.

WALTHALL REFUSES TO STAR

Henry B. Walthall has refused a starring contract offered by a syndicate of Chicago capitalists, who propose to reopen the old Essanay studio there. Their air is to re-establish the Windy City as a film-production center, such as it was when Essanay was a major factor in the industry. Walthall prefers the wider opportunities here to starring in Chicago.

Combine Walnuts With Poultry at Fontana

"Fontana Plan Makes Poultry Pay"

SUCCESSFUL!

Success means profits—a steady and assured income from fruit and poultry at Fontana.

The story of success cannot be kept at home. It goes abroad. Perhaps that is one of the reasons why 267 families purchased sites for homes and poultry plants in Fontana groves and vineyards since March 7 last.

Profits at Fontana!

There is no better paying crop grown in California than walnuts. There are 1400 acres of them at Fontana. Two good reasons for building your poultry plant in a walnut grove are:

(1) Our young walnuts are interplanted with juice grapes, already producing. While you wait for your walnut income you have the income from your grapes, plus the return from your poultry.

(2) You can't beat our price—$550 per acre for your walnuts, interplanted with vineyards. See what others are asking. Then buy at Fontana!

Ten Years to Pay

A small down payment, with ten years on balance, enables every one with a reasonable sum to invest to take advantage of our remarkable offer.

Orange and grapefruit groves—$850 to $1250 per acre. Vineyards $550 to $650 per acre. Walnut Orchards—$550 per acre.

Attractive Prisoner Wins Release

Dorothy McAdory

TWO WRITS NEEDED TO FREE GIRL

Young Woman Forced to Spend Twenty-three Days Behind County Jail Bars

Jail doors swung open for attractive Dorothy McAdory yesterday, but only after two writs of habeas corpus had been issued in her behalf and she had spent twenty-three needless days in a cell at the County Jail as an involuntary guest.

The young woman found herself in the toils of the law on June 2, last, at Torrance. There she had been arrested by an officer, together with a male companion, on a charge of having liquor in their possession. She admitted there was a pint in the car belonging to the man.

Shortly after her arrest she was told to go home by the arresting officer. On August 5 last, however, she was again arrested on a bench warrant and fined $200 for possession, and another $200 for contempt of court because she had not appeared the day after her arrest for a hearing.

Then Attorney William Durham intervened in her behalf. Judge Hahn of the Superior Court found that she had been illegally convicted of contempt, and issued a writ of habeas corpus for her release. This was unheeded. So yesterday. Durham obtained another writ of the same kind and succeeding in getting the young woman released and in forcing the Sheriff's office to accept the fine imposed on her for possession.

Rum Suspect Pleads Guilty, Receives Fine

A fine of $500 was imposed by Federal Judge James yesterday on George Murphy as the result of a raid by police and Federal prohibition agents last year on a two-story house at 156 Westmoreland Place, when a complete bottling plant and a large amount of illicit liquor was discovered.

Murphy pleaded guilty. J. C. Williams and Phil and Anna De Merce, who also were named in the complaint, heard their cases stricken from the calendar at the request of Assistant United States Attorney Neville.

The complaint disclosed that the officers found 442 quarts of gin and two barrels, each of eighty-nine gallons, of whisky and alcohol in the place. The house, which had been under suspicion for some time, was entered late on the night of October 1, 1924, and the inmates seized. The officers stated that Murphy had been bottling the liquor, using labels of former days.

MOVE FOR NEW TRIAL

Attorneys Strive to Save Life of Convicted Slayer

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 8.—Joseph H. Watts, convicted slayer of Wilfred Hey, escaped temporarily, at least, being sentenced to death today when Superior Judge Charles L. Allison granted Watts's attorneys ten days in which to obtain affidavits of "newly discovered evidence," to be incorporated in a motion for a new trial.

Retained by Watts's brothers, Attorney Kirtland I. Perky of Long Beach, entered the case today to assist in preparing the motion for a retrial.

Watts did not testify in his own behalf, nor did he call a single witness to refute the State's circumstantial evidence which named Watts as the killer of Hey, a young Englishman with whom he was making a cross-country motor trip last November. Hey's body was found near Silver Lake and officers learned that Watts had obtained Hey's bank account by posing as Hey.

The motion for a new trial will be heard the 17th inst. Watts is the first man to be found guilty of murder with hanging as the penalty since 1917 in San Bernardino county.

NEW STAR SIGNS

DOROTHY SEASTROM WILL BE WITH FIRST NATIONAL

By Grace Kingsley

You've got to keep your eye on those United Studios all the time, or something in the way of news will slip by you. For instance, while we have been downtown looking at pictures and plays the last few days, a lot of things have happened in the First National fold.

For one thing, Colleen Moore bids fair to have a wide range of material for her use. She has had purchased for her as a starring vehicle no less fascinating a story than "Shebo," by Tiffany Wells. Having finished the Israel Zangwill story, "We Moderns," she is now preparing for "Irene," and after that she will make "Shebo." This will be one of Miss Moore's biggest stories. In the meantime Miss Moore has gone out of town on vacation.

John McCormick has some other interesting announcements to make. They do run so to Dorothys out there. Having signed Dorothy Mackaill on a five-year contract, now comes word that McCormick has signed another Dorothy, viz., Dorothy Seastrom, on a five-year contract. Miss Seastrom, you will remember, played a nice part with Colleen Moore in "The Perfect Flapper," and then did an outstanding bit in Corinne Griffith's yet-to-be-released First National production, "Classified." Then she appeared again with Miss Moore in "We Moderns." All the while her work was being carefully watched by McCormick and June Mathis, and after she finished the final scene in the Zangwill story, she placed her name on the long-term agreement with First National.

Edwin Carewe is mapping out a part in his forthcoming picture for the lovely Dolores del Rio, that social princess from Mexico, who arrived in Hollywood last week. She is to have a big part in "Joanna," which is to be commenced this week and in which Dorothy Mackaill is to have the title role with Jack Mulhall playing opposite.

Corinne Griffith's "Classified" was previewed last week out of town, and registered a big hit. It is said to be the finest picture the star has yet offered for First National release.

This week will find every unit of First National busy either in production or preparation. "The Viennese Medley," First National's special production, is nearing the closing mark, with Curt Reyfeld directing and June Mathis supervising. Barbara La Marr and Lewis Stone, cofeatured in "Spanish Sunlight," are in the second week of filming, and Corinne Griffith is enjoying the first week's work on "Caesar's Wife," with Irving Cummings directing.

ARTHUR LUBIN HAS CHARMING NEW ROLE

If there is any young man in Hollywood who is prepared to speak up on the subject, "How to live on twenty-four hours a day," it is certainly that rising young actor, Arthur Lubin. Because Mr. Lubin is dividing his hours, these days, between the stage in the evening and screen in the daytime.

His newest achievement is the signing for a role in Allison Gaw's latest play, "Pharaoh's Daughter," which, you will remember, Margaret Anglin was to have done on Broadway last year, but which, for some reason connected with not being able to find a theater for it, she abandoned. The play is now to be produced at the new Playhouse in Pasadena, under direction of Gilmor Brown, and opening on the night of October 15. Mr. Lubin will play the youth of Moses. He promises, however, not to appear in the bullrush scenes.

In the cast will be Helen Jerome Eddy as leading woman; Joan Lowell and Bill Mitchell.

Just how long Lubin will be playing in the new drama isn't certain, however, as there now seems every possibility that he may go to New York to be Gilda Grey's leading man in "Aloma of the South Seas," which will be the dancer's first picture, and will be made by Famous Players-Lasky.

Lubin is scheduled also to appear in three forthcoming Potboilers productions, viz., "Hell Bent for Heaven," "Roger Bloomer" and "The Dance Boy."

The actor has been nearly all his life on the stage, having begun as a child in New York. He was supposed to become a lawyer, studied six months, gave it up and went back to the stage. He has recently distinguished himself in "Lilliom," as well as in several plays given by the Potboilers and at the Hollywood Writers' Club. It is only lately that the actor has been appearing in pictures, his latest role being with Rudolph Schildkraut in "His People," a special production made by Universal.

Alan Forrest Goes East

Alan Forrest has hied him to the sophisticated atmosphere of New York, where he is to play the leading role in a Belasco production called "Fifth Avenue," a film play setting forth in picturesque fashion the history of that famous thoroughfare from which the story takes its name.

Lottie Pickford, who I have not to remind you again is in private life Mrs. Forrest, accompanies her husband east. Jack Pickford is in New York, so there promises to be quite a clannish time in store for the Pickfords back there.

More About Walter Pidgeon

Further details regarding the contract recently signed with Joseph M. Schenck by Walter Pidgeon, that young actor of the stage whose face is well known on the eastern Broadway, are forthcoming.

Walter Pidgeon

Young Pidgeon has hitherto confined his efforts to the speaking stage, and has won considerable fame as leading man in musical comedies and as a concert singer. He was Elsie Janis's leading man in "The Puzzles of 1925" when signed by Mr. Schenck.

The actor also has a fine record as a World War hero. He is a Canadian by birth, but confined his stage career largely to Great Britain before he came to the United States two years ago. While an actor and singer in England, he made records for a large American phonograph company. A recital tour was his first public appearance after arriving in this country.

Clarence Brown's Brown Bear

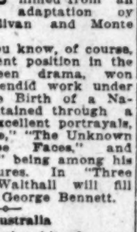
Clarence Brown has chosen one of the most interesting historical spots in all Southern California for the making, this week, of a sensational episode in the Rudolph Valentino picture, "The Eagle." This spot is the site of the two-day battle waged by Pio Pico against the forces of Michieltorena, in 1842, at the junction of Ventura Boulevard and Laurel Canyon Road.

It is right here that Rudolph Valentino is going to make a little history himself by taking one of the most sensational horseback rides on record, showing up Paul Revere and all the rest of the bush leaguers.

In the meantime, Director Brown is having a bit of perplexity about the scenes he has to make in which Valentino fights a bear. One bear proved too tame to be stirred to action, and the next one secured was too cross. So while he is thinking that all over, the director will be busy on the riding scenes.

Discovery Note

The search for new screen talent goes merrily onward and judging from some of the more recent "finds" there's many a budding Pola or Mary, who has yet to have her fair countenance lighted by the glare of the kleigs.



Janet Gaynor

Which is by way of announcing that Universal now has in its stock company a youthful newcomer, who made such a favorable impression in her first screen tests that she was immediately given the leading role in a series of western comedies—thereby scoring another point for the judgment of General Manager Raymond L. Schrock.

The girl is Janet Gaynor, who came to Los Angeles from Chicago last winter. And although she's but 18 years of age, she has it fairly well settled in her mind that she wants to be a comedienne. She isn't, afflicted with the usual complex to do terribly serious dramatic characterizations, like many of these screen youngsters. She opines that dodging custard pies and performing the nefarious stunts the gag men think up is the best training school in the world.

At the present time her greatest problem lies in trying to appear nonchalant while galloping through a western on one of Universal's not-too-tame broncos. She is playing the feminine lead in a series of western comedies starring "Pee Wee" Holmes and Benjamin Corbett, with Vin Moore handling the megaphone.

Henry Walthall in It

Completing an exceptional cast, Cecil B. De Mille has signed Henry Walthall to play a featured part in "Three Faces East," a gripping secret-service play, which Rupert Julian is to direct at the De Mille studio. Walthall is to be featured with Jetta Goudal, Robert Ames, Clive Brook and Edythe Chapman in this production which will be filmed from an adaptation by C. Gardner Sullivan and Monte Katterjohn.

Henry B. Walthall

Walthall as you know, of course, holds a prominent position in the world of screen drama, won through his splendid work under Griffith in "The Birth of a Nation," and maintained through a long series of excellent portrayals, "The Great Love," "The Unknown Purple," "False Faces," and "One Clear Call" being among his successful pictures. In "Three Faces East," Walthall will fill the role of Col. George Bennett.

Bulletin From Australia

A truly interesting bit of news is wafted to us from Australia concerning Louise Lovely, who went to the Antipodes several months ago to make pictures, you may chance to remember.

It seems that "Jewelled Nights," the first Louise Lovely production, is in its cutting stage, the film having been adapted from the novel by the same name by Marie Bjelke Peterson.

The picture was filmed in many of the most beautiful spots in Australia, the principal scenes being laid amidst the barbaric gorges on the west coast of Tasmania in the mining fields.

Wirth's Olympia in Melbourne was used as the studio, in which was built the largest set which has ever been erected for a picture in Australia. The genuine huts of the diggers were reproduced and hundreds of trees planted to give the correct atmosphere. Many of Melbourne's most beautiful homes were used for interior as well as exterior shots.

Our informant, who isn't, apparently, used to seeing pictures made, quaintly informs us that "during the shooting of some of the rain scenes, Miss Lovely and other players were continually wet from 8 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock next morning."

Also we have it that "for the first time in Australia two cameras were used all the time and two negatives taken."

Lydia Yeamans Titus Recovers

From that brilliant and beloved little character actress, Lydia Yeamans Titus, who has been very ill, comes word that she is all well, and won't slap anybody on the wrist who offers her a job in pictures. A little note conveys the message in Miss Titus's own cheery way:

"I have been waiting until I had some good news to tell you about myself," writes Miss Titus. "Well, I'm fired at the end of this week! I have been here three months, and I have kept in touch with what my dear children are doing through the papers, and a tiny radio at my bedside made the evenings shorter. Please excuse my handwriting, but it has been so long since I have used a pen that my hand is very shaky.

"This hospital is a great place to reduce. I have lost thirty-five pounds!"

Jules Verne on Screen

Just to show you that Harry Rapf, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer executive, wasn't spoofing you at all when he announced some time ago that he was going to make Jules Verne's "Mysterious Island," he lets us know that negotiations have been closed with the family of the famous French author for the motion-picture rights to the story. The rights were purchased from Michael Jules Verne, son of the author, whose signature to the contract was obtained a few days prior to the former's death at a little village just outside of Paris.

Jack Conway has been assigned to direct "The Mysterious Island," the underwater scenes of which will be filmed under the direction of J. E. Williamson, owner of the undersea equipment and laboratory at Nassau, Bahamas.

Williamson recently spent more than two months searching for underseas locations in a radius of some 200 miles off the island of New Providence, and taking in the very spot off San Salvadore where Columbus first sighted the New World in 1492.

Much of the picture, it is understood, is to be made in colors. Wyndham Gittens is adapting the story to the screen.

Orpheum Player Recounts Hard Early Struggle

Frank De Voe, at the Orpheum Theater next week, is probably the most popular singer of his type of songs in vaudeville. By no less authority than Amy Leslie, dean of dramatic critics in Chicago, Mr. De Voe was referred to as "Sophie Tucker in male attire." He and Miss Tucker specialize in the same sort of song material, and while Sophie has her great voice, gorgeous gowns and jewels, Frank has his good voice and a million-dollar personality to get him over. He is inimitable in his song methods—a clean-cut chap, good looking, a dynamo of pep and second to none in a sense of comedy values.

De Voe has not always been the rage he is in vaudeville today, he frankly admits. While his experience has been varied and extensive in musical comedy and revue work, he has preferred vaudeville, where he made his start on the stage, determined to keep at it until he found himself beat. And he won out. He tried various routes to success in vaudeville—travesty, monologue, dance and song specialities—and in the last he found himself.

"Some people give up before they really find out what is best for them," De Voe said recently. "If I had done that I'd probably be still hanging around in the vicinity of Sanger, Tex., where life's darkest moment came to me

Civil War Veteran Visits Gavin Gordon at the Morosco Theater

A breath of the Civil War visited the Morosco Theater after the performance of "Whispering Wires" yesterday.

An aged gentleman, giving his name as Herman Ludke, private Thirty-second Mississisippi Volunteers, called backstage to see Gavin Gordon, leading man.

"I understand, suh, that you are a grandnephew of Gen. Robert E. Lee," the veteran said. "Well, suh, I could not remain within a hundred miles of the kin of that great soldier without paying my respects."

Gordon's grandmother, Annie Lee, was a sister of the great Confederate war general.

when I first decided to go on the stage."

But like any other stage celebrity who has mixed bitter with sweet, Frank De Voe doesn't want to forget the early days.

'Anita Stewart Night' Planned at Loew's State

Anita Stewart, feminine star of "Never the Twain Shall Meet" at Loew's State Theater, will make a personal appearance at the theater tonight. Miss Stewart will talk on her experience in the South Sea Islands, where "Never the Twain Shall Meet" was filmed, under the direction of Maurice Tourneur.

All of the members of the original South Sea company, which played with Miss Stewart, on the island of Moorea, will have reserved seats in the front of the house, where the spot-light can easily find them.

For "Anita Stewart Night," Fanchon and Marco have arranged a particularly beautiful program. Roy Smoot will sing songs familiar to all those who have visited Polynesia; the Lorelle Sisters will offer the latest Hawaiian "Blues" songs, while the Novelle Brothers have several novelty ideas to present. The eight Hula-Hula dancers will don real Hawaiian grass dressed and beads, and will give their versions of the dances of the South Seas. In addition, Fanchon has engaged three real South Sea dancers, who are expected to startle blase Los Angeles dance lovers.

Johnstone Will Star Next Week at Hillstreet

Justine Johnstone, the "world's most beautiful woman," will headline the new bill at the Hillstreet.

JUSTINE JOHNSTONE

Other features include Bob Carlton and Julie Ballew in "A Feast for Fashionable Fancies," the Franklyn D'Amore trio in songs, a few dances and feats of equilibrium, and Berg and English, the "two dark horses of motion pictures," in an original offering. Two other features will conclude the vaudeville entertainment.

On the screen will be "The Happy Warrior," starring Malcolm McGregor, Alice Calhoun and Mary Alden. The last chapter of "The Pacemakers," a news reel and Aesop's Fable will round out the bill.

Thoughtful Roy Keeps Pictures Hidden in Album

T. Roy Barnes, featured comedian in "Lady Be Good," at the Mason, although he has hundreds of friends in the acting profession, does not have a single photograph of his many theatrical pals hanging on the walls of his Hollywood home.

This is not because he is not the possessor of autographed photographs of his acting friends. He has them—hundreds—but they are all in a set of albums he keeps. The reason he does not hang them on the walls of his home is that he has noticed that very often slurring remarks are made by people when they note the picture of some player they do not like.

People have their likes and dislikes in the profession, and Barnes, in order to avoid these little slurs, has very thoughtfully filed his photographs in albums.

'PROFESSIONAL' SHOW FOR MILLION DOLLAR

A "professional" matinee for Los Angeles stage and screen folks will be held at the Million Dollar Theater Saturday night, according to arrangements perfected by Managing Director Frank L. Newman.

"The Freshman," Harold Lloyd's rip-roaring film story of college life, which recently began its world premiere at the Million Dollar, is the attraction that prompted footlight and cinema stars to request such a matinee. In accordance with the announced plans, the performance will commence at 11 o'clock at night.

Regardless of the fact that the occasion will probably be marked by the attendance of hundreds of notables, the general public will also be admitted to the special showing, it is said. "We are glad to arrange such a night," asserted Newman, "as the local screen and stage folks are eager to honor Harold Lloyd by reason of his exceptional film."

Stranded While on Location for Horse Picture

"Stranded in the Desert."

Such might have been the title of a private little story participated in by the director and scenario writer of the company on their way to a lonely desert site in Arizona to make Zane Grey's "Wild Horse Mesa," the feature at the Metropolitan this week.

The twain had made about 160 miles of their journey when their auto skidded, turned over and landed in a ravine. Neither was hurt, but they were unable to right the car, and therein lay their danger. Fortunately, after a two-hour wait Zane Grey and Jack Holt hove in sight, lent their aid and that of their car, and the journey was completed in safety.

RUSSIAN CONDUCTOR AT CINDERELLA ROOF

San Francisco's most popular dance orchestra, Tom Gerunovich and his creators of bewitching melody, will take up their abode at the Cinderella Roof on Monday, the 14th inst., for a limited engagement. They bring the same dance-inviting syncopation that has made them a sensation in the Bay City for many months.

Gerunovich, who is known up there as "the mad Russian," has a particular style of melody and rhythm that is said to be irresistible. Manager McCarthy has planned to offer several renowned dance orchestras at the Roof for short engagements prior to the opening of Herb Wiedoeft's orchestra this fall.

Following his engagement at the Palace Theater, New York, Wiedoeft will return to the Cinderella Roof, his permanent home.

HOLIDAY CELEBRATION AT PALAIS DE DANCE

Featuring a whirlwind Charleston contest for large cash prizes, and with other attractions reserved as surprises, the Palais De Dance will join with the rest of California in celebrating Admission Day tonight, the management announces.

Although Wednesday night Charleston contests are an established attraction at the Palais De Dance, Manager Mike Lyman has decided to make this one a little more elaborate in honor of the occasion.

Regarding future attractions at this ballroom, Lyman has announced that all features will be planned in such a way as to interfere as little as possible with the general dancing.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

TAKE CASE TO SUPREME COURT

Arcadia School Row Appealed to High Tribunal

Insist They Were Forced Into Present District

Ask Separation from Duarte and Monrovia

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

MONROVIA, Sept. 8.—The second round of the Arcadia "Committee of Thirty-five" battle to separate Arcadia from the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte school district started today, when Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney, issued his brief on an appeal before the State Supreme Court.

Mandamus action was brought some months ago against Mark Keppel, County School Superintendent, to force him to act on a petition of several hundred heads of Arcadia families and call an election in Arcadia to form a separate high school district. Keppel won the case in the Superior Court of Los Angeles.

The brief cites that in November, 1920, "at the time the Arcadia school district was made a part of the Monrovia school district, no election was held and the voters and citizens of Arcadia were not given an opportunity to express their assent to such annexation."

The brief attacks the validity of the annexation of Arcadia to the Monrovia district, declaring that "it was accomplished by an order of the Board of Supervisors, was not based upon any election or consideration of the people in the district annexed. They have been railroaded into a situation where their hands are tied and they are entirely helpless unless they can in effect withdraw from such district by holding an election and forming a high school district of their own."

It is further contended that "no valid annexation of the Arcadia school district to the Monrovia district was ever made." The suit was filed by A. N. Muiter, a City Trustee of Arcadia, and chairman of the Committee of Thirty-five, as a taxpayer.

Suspected Cows Freed of Guilt at Bakersfield

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 8.—Beverages far from milk white in color and carrying the concentrated kick of army mules, have recently been dispensed from the Lew Ogden dairy on the Gern River banks, according to the Sheriff's office.

Believing that the Ogden cows might have assumed decidedly unbovine characteristics, a squad composed of Deputies James Durnall, Charles Smith and Phil Pickwert, raided the dairy to investigate. The deputies discovered a quantity of illicit liquor and parts of a still, they allege, and the smirch was removed from the mild-eyed milk dispensers of the farm.

Ogden is confined in the Kern County Jail, charged with possession of illicit liquor.

HIGH PRICES STOP PROPOSED HIGHWAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Sept. 8.—Halted in a plan to purchase right of way for rerouting the State Highway from Herndon to Tharfa, including the crossing of the San Joaquin River, by objections of property owners, the County Supervisors today instructed the County Surveyor to negotiate for the purchase of 8.72 acres of land necessary to the rerouting. The State Highway Commission is in favor of the proposed change, but owing to high prices demanded for the land the project has been delayed. The county will start condemnation proceedings if necessary, the Supervisors said today following a brief hearing.

In addition to giving their attention to the school levy, the Supervisors adopted the tentative budget of $3,760,000 providing a tax rate of $1.77 for territory inside incorporated cities and $2.03 per $100 assessed valuation in outside territory.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

A revolver, $6.50 in cash and a pair of expensive field glasses are known to have been stolen. Detective Sergeants Henry Collins and H. D. Morgan are investigating.

POLICE CAR RESPONSIBLE FOR CRASH

Sierra Madre Contractor is Victim of Fatal Highway Accident

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, Sept. 8.—In a collision between two automobiles last night at Garvey avenue and San Gabriel Boulevard, near here, Anthony J. Heimes, 45 years of age, a building contractor of 299 North Adams street, Sierra Madre, received injuries which resulted in his death a short time later at the Alhambra Hospital. Mrs. Heimes sustained two broken ribs and a dislocated shoulder. She was removed to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Heimes, who formerly lived in Redlands, were returning home from a week-end trip to Long Beach. As their light touring car reached the intersection it was struck at right angles and with terrific force by a heavy closed car driven by C. A. Redd, a member of the El Monte police department. The driver was crushed under the steering wheel and it required the efforts of several men to extricate the victim. Redd's machine smashed into a telegraph pole, but none of the occupants, which included Mrs. Redd and two children, were injured.

Heimes died at the hospital without regaining consciousness, and while the last sacrament was being administered by a priest, summoned at the request of the wife. The body was removed to the mortuary of Turner, Stevens & Turner, this city, where an inquest will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The accident is being investigated by the Sheriff's office. According to F. L. Harmon of Garvey avenue, who witnessed the crash, Heimes approached the intersection at a moderate speed, but Redd was traveling at a high rate of speed, Harmon declared.

Fight Victim to Have Injured Eye Removed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 8.—Samuel J. Mustol, Santa Ana music director, who lost the sight of his left eye in a fistic encounter with his neighbor, Carl Goetze, will undergo an operation tomorrow for removal of the injured eye, it was said today.

Goetze was charged with mayhem, as a result of the injury to Mustol, and is now awaiting trial in Superior Court. He was held to answer to the charge at a preliminary hearing before Justice K. E. Morrison recently.

Mustol and Goetze live side by side on North Main street between Santa Ana and Orange. Ill feeling between the two families had existed for months before their fight, which took place on the public highway, near Orana.

BIG CRIMINAL DOCKET

Work Piles Up in Imperial During Vacation

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

EL CENTRO, Sept. 8.—Superior Court judges, the District Attorney's office and court attaches upon their return from the summer vacations have found the usual large number of asserted criminals to prosecute at the fall term of court. Because of the peculiar climatic conditions here, much difficulty is experienced in trying criminal cases during July and August, and this result is an unusually heavy calendar in September. The cases this year include nine indictments under the antialien land law, in which twenty-two persons are involved. Two murder cases, several forgery charges, and several violations of the Volstead Act are to be put up to juries within the next few weeks.

VALLEY FORECASTER SEES LOTS OF RAIN

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, Sept. 8.—According to the weather observer here, who has kept the rain records for the last twenty years, San Fernando Valley this winter is to get a deluge of rain. Some rain may fall before this month is completed. By records here, it is shown that there never have been four consecutive dry years in Southern California. Within the last three years only a little more than twenty-two inches of rain have fallen in this valley. The coming winter is expected to run true to form, the observer here asserts, and he looks for numerous downpours until spring. In 1898, 1899 and 1900 a total of twenty inches fell. This was followed by a fall of 16.29 inches in a season. Other three-year dry periods show similiar rain results. Even two-year droughts always are followed by ample rains. Four consecutive dry spells never have been known, the local records show.

OLD PADRES DID NOT USE CAHUENGA PASS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, Sept. 8.—The widening of Cahuenga Pass is bringing to light new historical and romantic bits about the ancient thoroughfare. Old pioneers here, familiar with valley history, say the mission padres on their way north did not come by way of Hollywood and the pass. In later years a trail was blazed through the Cahuenga slit, which gives it license for the placing of El Camino real markers. It is certain, history students say, that the old padres followed Los Angeles River around the eastern side of Griffith Park on their way up-State. Exploration of San Fernando Valley began with the coming of Portola. He spent five days in the valley, and after naming it the Valley of the Live Oaks, because of trees of this variety still to be seen on the southern slopes, he went northward into Santa Clara Valley.

DEADLOCK CONTINUES

Pasadena Board of Directors Unable to Select New Member of Organization

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 8.—As was expected, Pasadena is still without a complete Board of City Directors, following the failure of the six Board members to elect a seventh member at their regular meeting today. The deadlock has prevailed for nearly a month since the resignation of John H. Simpson from the city's governing body, and no prospects for relief of the situation are apparent.

The three Directors elected last spring, Carl Newcomer, William Easterbrook and A. N. Cole, are holding out in the private sessions of the Board, for the selection of Kenneth Fraser, plumber and president of the Washington Street Improvement Association, according to information of unquestionable authority. Directors Hiram Wadsworth, Franklin Thomas and Chairman Franklin B. Cole are reported to oppose Fraser, but have proposed nearly a score of prominent Pasadenans as agreeable to them. But "Fraser or no one" is said to be the ultimatum of the other three.

Chairman Franklin B. Cole again appeared pessimistic over the possibilities of selecting a final member in the near future, and declared that the situation has not improved in any way since Simpson's resignation. It is expected, however, that the question will ultimately be brought forth in open meeting, where a showdown vote will be necessary.

The next meeting of the Board is one week from today. Meanwhile, no official action can be taken and the Board must remain incomplete, despite the expressed desire of the Directors to complete its membership, in order to act upon a number of important questions looming in the near future.

San Diego Tax Rate Reduced by Supervisors

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 8.—The 1925 State and county tax rate for San Diego will be $2.53 within incorporated cities, and $3.35 outside, on each $100 of assessed valuation, according to a decision by the County Supervisors announced here this morning. This is a reduction of 3 cents from last year's rate.

The Supervisors at a meeting this morning adopted the year's budget which necessitates a tax rate of the amount mentioned. The Ramona-Julian highway paving is provided for, 3 cents is set aside for a start next year on the La Jolla-Camp Kearney road paving, and 2 cents is appropriated as a nucleus for a fund for building a Courthouse.

An increase of 27 cents in the San Diego city school tax, made necessary by additional bonds voted, brings the total to $1.86, and places on the owner of city property a tax levy of $4.39, exclusive of paving and other special taxes.

SUSTAINS REPUTATION

Porterville High School Largest in Tulare County

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 8.—Porterville Union High School, the largest in Tulare county for several years, gave every indication of adding to that reputation today in advance guard of students who conferred with Principal W. A. Ferguson and faculty members regarding work of the coming year.

About 150 students today were planning their course of study, a good increase over first day last year. Actual registration is not done until about the end of the second week of school. All of this week will be given to talking over details with students and school will open Monday, the 14th inst.

Last season the local high school had a total of 1325 enrolled, 725 doing day work and 600 night work. The senior class was composed of eighty-eight graduates, while this season 120 are eligible for senior work and a few more by "scratching" may make the grade.

The faculty this year numbers thirty-two, including Principal Ferguson and the school nurse.

REGIMENTS OF DUCKS SEEK FEEDING GROUND

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

EL CENTRO, Sept. 8.—Hundreds of thousands of ducks are daily seen in the flights made to the feeding-grounds in the vicinity of Salton Sea. Complaints have been made to the Game Warden that preseason hunters have been active in slaughtering the birds. It is claimed that shooting at the birds too early in the year will frighten them away from the winter hunting-grounds and make them decidedly scarce for legitimate hunters who await the opening of the official season. According to proprietors of hunting clubs in the north end of Imperial Valley, duck hunting this season is expected to be exceedingly good.

PARKING SPACE RELIEF

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Sept. 8.—The police have finished placing the white parking lines on Sylvan street, just east of Sherman Way, and autos yesterday began, for the first time, to park at right angles to the curb. The parking on Sylvan street is expected to relieve the parking congestion on Sherman Way. It is understood that more lines will later be placed on Sylvan.

BUDGET PROVIDES FOR NEW COUNTY HOSPITAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VISALIA, Sept. 8.—Proposition to include $100,000 in the annual Tulare county budget for the coming year, to provide for construction of the first unit of a new County Hospital, which was rather bitterly argued in several open sessions of the Supervisors in view of the fact that it would mean an addition of at least 15 cents on the $100 valuation, carried today quietly, when the Supervisors fixed the county's tax rate at $2.38 for total inside and $2.83 for total outside. Total outside rate last year was $2.65.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

The accident happened two weeks ago, when Roid was stacking hay. He was taken to a local sanatorium for treatment, and it is though he now has excellent prospects of recovery.

COMPLIMENTS BAND

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 8.—Speaking before a large crowd at the plaza of the Municipal Auditorium, Mrs. Daniel Kurtzman, Ocean Park, recently addressed the assemblage in praises for the Santa Monica Municipal Band.

She declared no city in the country is better equipped to supply its visitors and residents with finer music than Santa Monica and Ocean Park.

She was especially complimentary toward the high class of numbers presented as well as the manner in which they are given.

Water Company Asks Permission to Quit Business

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

EL CENTRO, Sept. 8.—Superior Judge Franklin J. Cole has taken under advisement the application of Imperial Mutual Water Company, No. 3, for permission to dissolve as a corporation and to go out of business. Maud Hall of Holtville, who obtained a judgment against the company for $600 damages to her farm from seepage, appealed the judgment, and it is pending in the Supreme Court. She opposed the dissolution plan until she could obtain a decision in the higher court regarding her judgment. This is the next to the last of the thirteen original mutual water companies to apply for permission to dissolve. Water Company, No. 1, is not yet prepared to make this move, but is expected to do so in the near future.

The usefulness of the mutual water companies was ended when the Imperial Irrigation District took over control of the entire valley water distributing system and paid the company stockholders out of a bond issue voted for the purpose. The transaction was virtually the paying out of one pocket of the taxpayer into the other, as the landowners who paid the taxes of the irrigation district and the stockholders of the mutual companies were identical.

LANKERSHIM'S BRAG PEACHES NOW RIPE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, Sept. 8.—The Curry peach, Lankershim's most famous variety is now ripe and is being sent to the Los Angeles markets. The peaches bring the highest prices. The crop is large and growers will reap a handsome profit. The Curry peach is a Lankershim discovery and is found only in the Lankershim and Van Nuys sections. The tree was first found in the orchard of a grower by the name of Randolph Curry who resided at Third street and Cahuenga avenue about fifteen years ago. It was taken from a seedling tree and improved by G. Tosetti, a nurseryman, who later put the fruit on the market under the name of Curry. The peach is of excellent flavor, has a highly colored appearance and ripens late, between other growing varieties.

POLICE INVESTIGATE CHECK-PASSER'S LIFE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Sept. 8.—Bay district police are conducting an investigation to ascertain the extent of activities of Lem Detwiler, alleged fictitious check passer, who was arrested Thursday and charged with giving out worthless checks in the bay cities. Police believe he has issued numerous pieces of worthless paper in Southern California. When arrested he had in his possession a check for $60, which was made out to another man on a Kansas bank.

Detwiler also had in his possession at the time he was arrested, an automobile, bearing the name of C. F. McIntoch of Long Beach, who claims the car has not been paid for.

FAVOR MUNICIPAL COURT

Pasadena Organizations Join in Movement to Secure New City Tribunal

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 8.—Preliminary steps toward the establishment of a municipal court in Pasadena will be taken immediately, as the result of a movement to this end which has been progressing for several months, and which is endorsed by officials of the Pasadena Bar Association, Pasadena Merchants' Association, Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations.

Secretary William Dunkerley of the Chamber of Commerce, declared today that although the question had not been formally put before the body, he was certain that the project would receive unqualified endorsement.

A. L. Rowland, president of the bar association, stated that sentiment among attorneys of the city is strongly in favor of a Municipal Court, and that the proposal would undoubtedly receive an unanimous indorsement from the lawyers. The merchants of the city will be united in the support of the movement, declared Capt. C. S. Conner, manager and secretary of the merchants' association. The growth of the city demands such a step, he said.

The Municipal Court, under the law would be supported by the county, and half of its revenue would go to the city. The new court would replace the police and township courts here, and would have jurisdiction over civil matters involving amounts up to $1000, as well as over all criminal misdemeanors. Felonies would be handled only as far as the preliminary hearing, the system which now prevails in the Justice Court here.

A saving in expense to the city is given as the chief reason in favor of the project. The recent establishment of municipal courts in Long Beach is cited as a corroborative example. The proposal will probably be presented to the Board of City Directors next Tuesday, it is said, and a general election will necessarily follow, before the establishment of the court can take place.

NO ARRESTS IN PASADENA MURDER CASE

Death of Aged Recluse Still Remains Among Unsolved Mysteries

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 8.—Hopes that the apprehension of the suspected murderers of Lucius Colburn, aged rooming-house proprietor of Pasadena, would be effected today were dashed when Los Angeles police, co-operating with Pasadena detectives, were unable to identify positively the descriptions of the two men known to have been Colburn's constant companions during the two weeks before his murder.

Local detectives have been working on slender clews since last Thursday morning, when Colburn's body was found tied to his bed with a large gag forced down his throat. Last night, however, they predicted the capture of the suspected slayers within the next twenty-four hours, and are still optimistic that the manhunt will be terminated soon.

Robbery or revenge are the two tenable theories concerning the motives of the slayers. Colburn's room was ransacked but no articles are known to have been stolen, the thieves having overlooked $330 in a cloth wallet, as well as the dead man's watch and jewelry in an adjoining sereroom. Colburn's eccentric nature and past criminal charges brought against him give strength to the revenge theory.

The murderers entered Colburn's room by knocking the pins from the hinges of the door. Persistent attempts to identify the awl-like instrument used have so far proved unavailing.

KINGS SCHOOLS OPEN

Vacation Over for Youngsters in and Near Hanford

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Sept. 8.—On Monday of next week all the high and grammar schools of Kings county open for the coming year. Vacation time generally is over in the San Joaquin Valley on the first of the month. The courts, and many other business functions are back to normal, with the schools also beginning to function. The Hanford Union School will open with large enrollment and a corps of thirty-two teachers.

COURT HOLDS FATHER UNDER HEAVY BONDS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Sept. 8.—The Fresno county grand jury in special session today indicted J. F. Wilson, Fresno advertising distributor, on two counts charging statutory offenses against his 15-year-old daughter. The grand jury was called into session when members of Wilson's family declared that he is mentally unbalanced and indicated that an effort would be made to effect his release from the charge of incest, on which he was arrested, by attacking the legitimacy of the proceedings.

Judge S. L. Strother, to whom the indictment was reported, fixed the bail at $10,000, doubling the amount fixed by Judge Church at the time of Wilson's arrest last week.

Wilson's daughter, Dr. H. T. Goldberg and Wilson's son, Arthur, were the only witnesses before the grand jury.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

CHATSWORTH, Sept. 8.—Fred King, director of the Chatsworth Chamber of Commerce, today announces that Chatsworth is to have an ice-cream factory at an early date, the plant to be started by Herman Druice of Inglewood, who is organizing the enterprise with the hope of getting Chatsworth capital interested. The plans call for the erection of a two-story frame structure 50 by 125 feet, on a site adjacent to the Southern Pacific station.

STEAL VALUABLE RUGS

Palms Resident Reports Loss of Oriental Floor Coverings

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAWTELLE, Sept. 8.—Sawtelle police were today investigating the theft of seven small oriental rugs from the home of John E. Roche at 3613 Hughes avenue, Palms. Some of the rugs were described to the police as genuine Mohammedan prayer rugs, while others were examples of the different types of oriental rugs. The loss sustained by Mr. Roche is estimated at $2000.

The house was not occupied at the time of the burglary, so that the police have not succeeded in establishing the time when the crime was committed.

Detective Leo W. Marden was assigned to investigate, so far he reports his search for clews has not been encouraging. It appears that the building was entered by cutting a hole in the rear screen door and using a pass key, police reported.

Police are of the opinion that the prowler would be interested in knowing that he could have saved a lot of time and work for himself, as the key to the front door was under the door mat.
